The Grand Circuit. Hartford, Sept. 1 .- Every race at Charter Oak park yesterday was a battle, although two of them were won in straight heats. Even in those races the finishes were close and the leaders had trouble shaking the other horses off their heels. Alcidalia, owned by Waldo T. Pierce of Boston, furnished the surprise of the day by winning the 2:12 trot in straight heats with such horses as Grace Hastings, Fred Kohl, Queechy and Fred B in the field. Grace Hastings was picked to win the race, but she was not in the best of moods. In the third heat, however, after starting far behind the others, she closed up the gap and gave the winner a hot chase to the wire. Forest Herr also behaved rather badly, except in the first and fourth heats, and thus yielded the pacing race to Passing Belle, who evidently has considerable speed. The 3-year-olds furnished three spirited finishes, but there was an impression that American Belle, the winner, had a few links of speed, which she was not compelled to show. Thorne and Timbrel set the pace for her and gave her three lively brushes coming home.

Executive Session.

The opening of the public schools is at with were considered at a regular meeting of the School Committee Tuesday evening. A report was made to the effect that an inspection of the condition of the High school building had been made, which seemed to call for repairs, but that no repairs had been made by the city.

Superintendent Lull reported the following balances of the appropriation of $93,500 for schools:

Salaries, $28,784.62 5,026 56 2,035.02 Janitors. Transportation, 440.35 B. S. & S., 3,466.88 1,160.26 Evening Schools, $40,913 69

German books were adopted for the second year at the High school. The resignations of Misses Bell and Faxon of the Quincy school were an-

The committee then went into executive session, when the election of junitors and other business was considered.

Brockton's Rate.

The Brockton Enterprise takes things philosophically. Speaking of the tax rate call they had was shortly after 10 o'clock Prizes of 25, 50 and 75 cents were given of $20.70 it says, "That's a fairly high it would be. We cannot eat our cake and keep it. We cannot have the best of necessities and all the luxuries of the season and pay the ordinary price of the tatle for a boarding house. Brockton has insisted Over on Manet avenue there was another 50 yard dash, won by Bates, Deane and on having the best of everything. Our municipal household is pretty well furnished; there are lots of worse towns to live in and do business in than Brockton. Doughnut eating race. The committee We are not accustomed to stint ourselves niggardly. Under these circumstances, with the money we must pay on our debts and our running expenses, the price set for the city's board is not extortionate."

Spectacle of Popular Enthusiasm Has Been Rarely Witnessed.

Of Course There Was a Bomb Explosion.

But No One Was Hurt--- All Classes Joined In Welcome.

Paris, Sept. 1.-The reception to President Faure upon the occasion of his return from Russia, after participating WOLLASTON-Ross' news stand and in the arrangement resulting in the "allied nations" of Russia and France, was an especially brilliant affair. Awaiting the arrival of President Faure were large bodies of troops, massed in the vicinity of the Gare du Nord, including the whole of the artillery garrison fron Mont Valerien. President Faure looked robust and bronzed as the result of the voyage. The scenes at the railway station and along the route baffled descrip tion. The crush at the Place de la of police were hardly sufficient to keep

> The scene, as viewed from a balcony was one long to be remembered. As the presidential cortege moved along the streets the crowd began to sway and move about, the excitement reaching a climax as President Faure drove bareheaded by the crowds, bowing his ac knowledgements to the shouts of wel come. M. Meline sat on the right of the president, opposite him being General Letournies and Baron Frederichs In the second carriage appeared M. Han otaux and three generals. Then followed a long line of carriages containing officials who met the presidential party at the station.

Ten minutes after the president had passed the Madeleine a bomb was exploded inside the railings around the

Two arrests followed immediately and the railed enclosure was closed by the police, who began an active investigation into the outrage.

Nobody was injured by the explosion, but the affair followed so closely upon others of a similar nature caused great excitement. All the persons inside the railings of the Madeleine were minutely Telephone 227-3. examined by the police before they were allowed to leave.

THE LUETGERT CASE.

Three Witnesses For State Give Testimony In Murder Trial.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—Three witnesses were placed on the stand by the prosecution in the Luetgert trial yesterday. Probably the most important witness of the whom he worked for several years. His testimony, which he gave in German, He also related how two barrels, which it is alleged contained caustic potash, were stored on one of the upper floors of the factory, and were shortly before May 1 taken out of the basement, where the barrels were emptied into the vat and dissolved by steam.

The other witnesses were Charles P. Melander, a photographer, who identi-fied several views of the Luetgert factory, and Mrs. Agatha Tosch, the wife Duffy, l.f. of a saloon keeper. Mrs. Tosch was frequently in charge of her husband's saloon and had several conversations with Luetgert regarding the disappearance of nis wife. She has been regarded as one of the state's most important witnesses, being one of the few who saw smoke issuing from the factory the night Mrs. Luetgert disappeared. She swore that Luet. gert had urged her not to say anything Anson, 1 b.... about the smoke, as it might get him in Ryan, r. f.

Witness detailed how Luetgert had Decker, l. f ...... recited his domestic unhappiness, Before the taking of testimony began attorneys for the defense asked the court to compel the state to set forth by what means, according to the theory of the osecution, the life of Mrs. Luetgert as taken before her body was placed n the vat. The indictment contained 12 counts, but did not state the manner of Mrs. Luetgert's death. The court decided that the state was not bound to specify the means of death.

Watchman Bialk will resume the witness stand today.

MRS. JOHN DREW DEAD. Famous Actress Succumbs to Heart Failure. Sketch of Her Life.

New York, Sept. 1 .- Mrs. John Drew the aged actress, died yesterday after noon at the Bedan house at Larchmont She had been suffering for some time from a complication of kidney and heart troubles, the immediate cause of death being heart failure.

Mrs. Drew was born in London or Jan. 10, 1820, and six years later made her stage debut as Agib in "Timour the Philadelphia . Tartar." At the age of seven she was brought to America by her mother. who was an actress, and in the old Walnut Street theatre in Philadelphia played The Duke of York to Junius Brutus Booth's Richard III. At this time she and Sugden. was known as Louisa Lane.

In a play, written expressly to exploit childish precocity, she had five different characters to portray. In 1833 she joined the stock company at the Lowery theatre in New York, remaining there for five years, playing a long list of characters in so-called legimate dramas Then she returned to Philadelphia and to the Walnut Street theatre, soon afterward becoming the wife of Henry Hunt. a popular vocalist of his day. She separated from him in 1847, subsequently marrying an Irish comedian named Mossop, who died a year or two later. John Drew married the subject of this sketch in 1859, who meanwhile had been playing with acceptability at the Park theatre in New York and elsewhere. Mr. and Mrs. Drew were subsequently connected in a managerial way with the Arch and National theatres in Phila-Buffalo ... delphia. In recent years Mrs. Drew's most notable work was in the character Urquhart. of Mrs. Malaprop, in the company which included Jefferson, Florence and Couldock. Her last engagement was in the company playing "The Sporting Dutchess." Her home for some time past has been with her son, John Drew, at Larchmont. Money Going South. New York, Sept. 1.-Large amounts f money are being shipped south daily to help move the crops. It is estimated that fully $5,000,000 of crop money has been shipped from this city within the past fortnight. It is interesting to add in this connection that Souther credits are in better shape just now than they have been for in several years, and the general outlook in that section and in the Southwest, as viewed from here, is very encouraging. Seeking Arbitration. Cleveland, Sept. 1.—T. E. Young, the manager of M. A. Hanna & Co.'s coal nterests, is pushing the plan of arbitratng the wage question, and is hopeful for a settlement of the strike upon it. His plan is that the wage to be considered by the arbitrators be from 60 to 69 cents a ton. While the arbitrators are arranging the details the miners are to go to work at 64 cents. Young has communicated his plans to President Ratchford. and a meeting of local operators has been called to consider it.

Postal Clerk Accused of Fraud. Washington, Sept. 1.-The government has entered a civil suit against Frederick S. Coburn, the sixth auditors' office clerk. whom postoffice inspectors are seeking for alleged defrauding of the govern ment through an extensive money order swindle. Coburn has not yet been taken into custody. His counsel has filed a plea admitting that Ceburn is indebted to the government in the sum of $4200, as charged, and consenting that judgment may be entered against him for that amount.

The vote on the subject was practically unanimous, and was taken after speeches had been made by nearly every member of the corporation. Joseph H. Walker advocated the action in the following words: "The committee of conference report that they regard the paper they presented to President Andrews as a private paper presented as a basis of a private interview between the corporation and its president. I understood that the appointment of the committe of three was decided upon rather than that any written communication should be made to President Andrews in order that our action should not take an official aspect that might be misunderstood rather than a friendly conference on matters of grave import to the university.

"Every care was taken at the meeting of June 17 to so frame our action as to avoid anything that should in any way embarrass President Andrews before the corporation, before the alumni or before the general public. I gave no information whatever to any person of the action of the corporation, or any hint of it except one interview that was thor oughly misreported."

A letter was received by the corpora tion from Dr. Andrews explaining his views on the silver question and stating the position he had taken with reference to the request of the committee that was appointed last June to confer with him. This letter was presented previous to the general discussion.

Boston, Sept. 2.-A passenger on the steamer Barnstable, from Jamaica, states that Captain Murphy, who was convicted and sentenced to 30 days in prison at Kingston for non-compliance with the customs regulations while captain of the filibustering steamer Laurada, will be liberated on Sept. 6. Captain Murphy is treated well by the prison officials, and is permitted to receive visitors and also delicacies from the out-This passenger, however, states that the crew of the steamer were outrageously treated by Collector French of the port of Kingston. The crew were without the necessaries of life, and before they were sent to the United States some two weeks ago they were obliged 1) obtain assistance from outside parties Of the fine of $500 which was impose one-third of the amount was to go to Collector French. It was principally on this account that Captain Murphy decided to serve his sentence rather than pay the fine.

There was a rumor afloat in Jamaica that immediately upon Captain Murphy's release from prison he would b rearrested on another charge in con nection with the steamer Bermuda, which is now held by the authorities at Kingston. Unearthing Bonanzas San Francisco, Sept. 2.—The Bulletin has received a letter from Charles Haines, dated Dawson City, July 26. Mr Haines' letter is the first written by a trained newspaper man to come out of Klondyke regions. He says: "The rich diggings have been comparatively idle during the summer, although the output from Eldorado and Bonanza creeks was famous, and there is plenty of gold gatherings, conducted under separate in sight. There is every prospect of an immense output of gold from this district next spring. The total output this season is, as near as I can judge, about During this sale hats will be trimmed free $7,000,000. But very little ground has been worked, and the lumps will, like some of the trailings of old California placers, pan out thousands of dollars when worked with improved machinery. The placers are the most puzzling and deceiving I have ever seen. Imagine a man working on good 'color' and finding the ground worth only a few dollars per day, and then turning to a waste of mud and moss with no surface indications and unearthing a bonanza. That is the situation here and all over Alaska."

Ellery C Butler of the lature to prevent the introduction of machinery into the penal institutions of the State, no more machinery will o'clock train for New York, from there is a great popular feeling agains such action, and, independently of what ever may be his own views on the sub ject, feels that it would be unwise to Wednesday afternoon as Officer Barry increase the plants for doing work by was on his way from West Quincy he saw machinery. The law which goes into idea was not received with favor in al quarters, and apparently resulted in > about it, and the result will probably be that next year the inmates of many nammering stone. This industry wil not bring them into competition witl hand labor, but with machinery-that is, with the stone-crushers. Mr. Pettigrove has found the inmates of one institution outside the Commonwealth breaking stone and says the product of their labor is more satisfactory than that of the road machines. It is not expected that this scheme will be tried at Charlestown and Concord, but the masters of the houses of correction approve of the suggestion.

HOUGHS NECK.

Mr. J. Stanley Mears of Houghs Neck, who is suffering from a stroke Wednesday. He is a very sick man. None of the new sails invented by Professor Biles, the designer of the

the most famous marine architects in the world have yet appeared off Houghs novelty. The sail is shaped very much like an umbrella and opens and shuts like one. The centre of the sail is fixed a little above the centre of the mast. You haul down one side of the sail and the boat is on one tack; and you haul down the other side and it is on the other tack. For sailing with the wind in different directions to the boat, the whole mast and sail are rotated by means of a turntable, to which the mast is attached, and the mast is elevated and lowered by means of two tackles. There is also a balance weight, which helps to elevate the mast and balance its dead weight. Tacking, however, loses most of its importance in this boat, for it sails almost straight against the wind. The umbrella takes hold of the wind in such a way that the boat runs almost into its eye. Perhaps a still greater merit of the umbrella boat is that it is extremely difficult to capsize—theroetieally, in fact, impossible to do so, As the velocity of the wind increases the amount of sail area exposed is decreased automatically. The wind ends the edge of the umbrella, which scapes its force. The necessity of eefing when the wind increases is thus lone away with.

The Wabash Railroad continues to cater to the traveilig public in the most up-to-date way with through sleeping cars from Boston to Chicage and St. Louis, vestibuled trains, parlor and dining cars, and rates as low as any for such service. Its freight service shows the same desire to serve the public. Daily merchandise cars are run from Boston to St. Louis and to Fourth, that even admi Kansas City and Denver, making on the Wabash rails an average running time, including stops, of 21 miles per hour. Shippers, to obtain this service, should see that their shipping receipts are marked "via Wabs sh Railroad." 22-tf

NEUTRALITY LAWS.

How They Are Viewed by Spain's Legal Representative.

What Is Necessary to Give Them Entire Effect.

Deference of the People to the Government's Demands.

Washington, Sept. 2.- Spanish Minister De Lome has received an exhaustive report from the legal representative or his government in the United States on the well mooted subject of the attitude of the authorities and people of this country on the Cuban question. This is the second report on the same subject, the first document having dealt with the manner in which the United States has demeaned itself toward other nations in crises in their affairs.

In summing up the conclusions of the investigation which Mr. Carlisle has been engaged in, the report says: "A con tinued study of the neutrality laws of the United States and their application to the existing emergency convinces the undersigned that in spite of the various failures of justice which have occurred the laws are sufficient in themselves to enable the United States to come up to the full measure of international dut To accomplish this it is not necessary WEYMOUTH LANDING-W. E. Cunthat the executive should attempt any interference with the judiciary, but only that the executive should, by its own example in preventing and prosecuting violations of the law, impress both the courts and juries of the country with the gravity of the matter in hand.

"As to criminal proceedings against ersons, while many prosecutions have ailed, yet the convictions, by juries or our citizens, in the cases of Wilborg Luis and Hart, demonstrate that under roper, efficient and vigorous prosecution f the law there is no public sentiment sufficiently strong deliberately to encourage its violation or defeat its enorcement, and that the people can be lepended upon to respond to every earnst demand of the government for the enforcement of all its laws.

"As to proceedings against vessels and arms and munitions procured for the equipment thereof, the government has, by law, the right to seize and detail them to prevent violations of the statutes, and, in addition, by proceedings in admiralty against the things themselves tried before the court and without a jury, to effect their condemna-

"'Our government,' says Attorney General Harmon in his opinion, 'posses ses all the attributes of sovereignty with respect to the present subject, and has for their exercise the appropriate agencies which are recognized among civilized nations, but our constitution forbids the arbitrary exercise of power when the liberty or prosperity of individual citizens is involved. No exercise of arbitrary power is suggested o required, but the vigilant and vigorou exercise of the exceptional powers which are given by our own laws may be rightly expected, when it is remembered that those laws are passed to en able us to fulfill a duty under the law of through the permitted acts of lawles citizens or inhabitants, may entail vas and distressing consequences."

The evidence here submitted leads to the following conclusions: First, that the United States owes to

Spain all the international duties which one friendly nation owes to another in time of peace and can owe no international duty to the insurgents. Second, that by admitting officially and proclaiming to its citizens and inhabitants knowledge of the insurrection in Cuba, the United States admits knowldge of a fact which increases its duty of vigilance in detecting, and diligence in preventing the beginning or setting on oot, or providing or preparing the means territory against Spanish territory. Third, that as to mere commerce, Spain can, under present conditions, claim no right under the law of nations to interfere with it outside her own borders;

which fact, however, does not lessen, but increases, the obligation of the United States to prevent military expeditions and enterprises against Spain from being begun or set on foot, or the means for such being prepared and provided within the territory of the United States by the organized and authorized agents of the insurgents under the false and fraudulent pretense of mere peace-Fourth, that even admitting that in the present state of the law citizens of the United States may sell arms and munitions of war to anybody wishing to buy them and able to pay for them, and within the United States may thus obtain large quantities of arms and munitions of war to aid the insurrection the commercial transaction must end here, because it is impossible, in fact and surgents' emissaries in the United States to get these arms and munitions to th insurgents in the field for whom they are purchased; but in order to accomplish this, or to attempt to accomplish this, a military expedition or enterprise must be begun or set on foot, or the means must be prepared and provided by the insurgents, or their agents within the territory of the United States. Fifth, that the municipal laws which, in themselves or by reason of the method of their administration by municipal, judicial or executive officers, permit the repeated consummation of hostile enterprises against a friendly nation can furnish no justification or extenuation for any international wrong or damage as against such friendly nation.

Situation In Cuba. Havana, Sept. 2.-The general situation in Havana and in all Cuba is unchanged from that of the past month from a military point of view. No battles of importance have been fought, though many skirmishes have taken place, with one or two killed here and there and three or four wounded. In Guanabacoa rations are distributed twice a week by the city government.

INCREDIBLE CHARGE.

Mrs. Nack's Husband Accuses Her of Wholesale Murder.

Monstrous Crime.

New York, Sept. 3.-Herman Nack is either a notoriety seeker and mendaciou and malevolent individual, or he has been carrying about with him for year a gruesome secret. He is the person whose cruelty Augusta Nack, who i awaiting trial for complicity in the kill ing of William Guldensuppe, has tole interviewers drove her into accepting the attention of other men. Althoug having a clear motive for wishing in jury to the wife, the district attorney New York earnestly snapped at Nack's recital as if it was a very valuable cor tribution to the evidence for the prosecu tion. Nash alleges that for 10 years at times his home had been a charnal hous for the remains of infants put to death by the Tombs prisoner

The accuser states that his wife mad a living through the murder of children She was a so-called midwife, but neve had a diploma. Nack says that sh tried for one in Germany, but failed i her examinations. At one time, Nack declares, there were as many as six dead children preserved in spirits in bottle in his room. He adds that she murdere from one to three children each year for a period of from eight to 10 years. Nack also alleges that his wife was assisted by certain physicians, and he mention undertakers' names, charging both phy sicians and undertakers with complicit with his wife. He says that they aid ner in making away with the bodies

The statement was got from Nack b Assistant District Attorney Mitchell who has been working hard to get ev dence from him as to his wife's history He managed after a time to get Nack tell a little about his and his wife's life confidence, told him, in a word, of the life that his wife had been living. At trict Attorney Olcott got the man to make a sworn statement in writing. In the beginning of the statement Herman Nack states that he came t New York from Germany in 1886. His wife arrived here a few months before he did. He declares that her maiden name is Augusta Pussat, and that she was oorn in Lonway-on-Elbe, in Germany Then follows the entire career of both himself and his wife for the next 1 years. The making public of the state ment was followed by a great deal o excitement in the district attorney office. It was not known to any one be fore the making public of Nack's swor charges that the woman was thought t be capable of such acts. Behring Sea Commission Halifax, Sept. 3.-Mr. Bodwell opened his address before the Behring sea com alssion yesterday. He took up the ques ion of the effect of the domicile on na ionality and asked the commission t onsider that the claims were not in dividual but national. Mr. Bodwel termed as absurd the claims of th United States 'brief that the money awarded by the commission would b paid to the queen of England as a trus tee. He cited Wharton's internationa law and Rustongee versus the quee He claimed that the queen received such money as a prerogative to be paid over o the individuals that had suffered. Mr Bodwell contended that the question o compensation to individuals depended refractionist, obstinate cases, which would require an hour to test by the old on damage done by seizure, and argued method, and exhaust the patience of both optician and patient, can be diagnational wrong she would not have any case however great the damage.

Mr. Dickinson remarked that the Brit sh government, in all'its cases, did not neglect to press their claims in regard to individuals, and Mr. Bodwell, answering, stated that the commission had been pecial value in diagnosis when I am having used the instrument for nearly established by a written agreement and uncertain as to the trouble-whether one year cannot recollect a single that the commission would have to con- 'tis defective refraction or obscure ner- instance in which it did not give me sult that document to ascertain its position. Jumped From the Bridge. New York, Sept., 3.-Another person has lived to enjoy the notoriety of hav ng jumped from the Brooklyn bridge His name is Herman Orten, 18 years o age. At first it was thought to have been an accident, but it was learned late that the fellow jumped from the bridge intentionally. He rode on the tail end of a truck going to Brooklyn Thursday afternoon. When the truck was near the centre of the bridge Orten got of and quickly climbed upon the rail. The oridge was crowded with promenaders t the time, but no policeman happened to be near.

He stood on the rail for a few second and then, throwing off his hat, jumped out into space. He turned over several times in his decent and struck the water on his right side. When he came to the surface the crew of a tug fished him out with a boathook.

Orten wasin an exhausted condition and after awhile said: "I did it, I did it fidn't I?" Then he sank into a state of coma. The jumper was dressed in a cheap suit of dark clothes. He wil

One of the most remarkable faith cures on record is reported from Austin, Tex. Not long since William Lock-William Deree, a lad aged 17 years, was arrested at East Weymouth on Thursday by Officer Pearce for New York officers. Deree who lives in New York, stole a bicycle there last week given up all hope of his recovery. Today he is walking about the streets, apand rode to East Weymouth to visit his parently as well as if he had never been relatives. The New York officers telecrippled with the disease, and his recovery is attributed solely to his being arrest him, which they did. He will treated by telegraphic direction by a be turned over to the New York lady faith healer of Illinois.

One evening Mr. Lockridge, who was speechless and so low that he seemed to take no notice of anything, intimated by means of his hand that he wanted pencil and paper, with which he made known that he was feeling better. It was about this time the healer wired that she had begun her treatment. The pa tient had been sick nearly three months, during which time the paralysis had crept up his legs from his feet to his body as far as his waist. He is practically cured and is rejoicing with his family .- St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

SHE WAS NOT DEAD.

A Wife's Successful Ruse to Win Back Her Husband.

Mrs. Charles Schlur of Stephentown, N. Y., has cleverly effected a reconciliation with her husband, from whom she had been separated for several months, because of a quarrel.

Since they parted the woman has been at the home of her sister, Mrs. C. W. Roberts, in Dalton, near Pittsfield, apparently in a half hysterical condition, entered the telegraph office at Pittsfield and filed a telegram to Charles Schlur, at Stephentown, stating that his wife had committed suicide and asking him to proceed to Dalton at once.

The woman told the operator she was the sister of the alleged suicide, who had ended her life by taking laudanum because she was tired of being separated from her husband.

The reported suicide was published in the newspapers far and wide. Mr. Schlur bit at the bait, and hurried to Dalton. Then he learned that it was his wife who had sent the dispatch. So gratified was he to find her alive and well that he seized her in his arms, and the quarrel was ended. -New York Journal.

He Was Loaded.

"Stand back! If you value your life, don't approach a step closer!" said Director Abbott of the city hall when a reporter entered his office one afternoon recently.

It was learned that the object of terror was a workman who carried a pocketful of dynamite cartridges. Be sides he brought with him a box of stuff somewhat weaker. He wanted pohe Government to export and sell the lice protection to do blasting on the foundations of the old historical building on the square.

"What do you mean by bringing all that stuff up here anyway?" demanded Director Abbott. "I'd rather you would Books, call me up next time, if you cannot come without it, for it's preferable to have the explosives at the other end of Reports, the line. # LUETGERT'S TRIAL.

His Callousness During the Police Search For His Wife.

the Plans of the Defense Indicated by Cross Examination.

Chicago, Sept. 3.-It did not help the case for Luetgert, the sausage maker undergoing the ordeal of a trial for the killing of his wife, that evidence was given yesterday by a police captain of the utter callousness of the prisoner when the police were prosecuting the search for the missing woman. For the innocent man he pretends to be, he ex hibited a surprising lack of concern as to the outcome of clues which had been run

On one occasion he called at the sta tion to protest against an article in a daily paper saying that his first wife had not died a natural death. The police at this time were dragging the river poking into clay holes and patrolling the lake in the hope of finding some trace of the missing woman, but Luetgert, afte he had complained of the paper, left the station without even asking if the police had found any trace of his wife. When the police first became aware of the dis appearance of Mrs. Luetgert through her brother they asked Luetgert what theory he had regarding her disappearance, an he said that in his opinion she had be come insane and had wandered awa from home. He had not reported he going away either to the police or his neighbors because he said it was a dis grace to have an insane wife, and he did not want people to know anything about it. Captain Schuettler said that in al the work the police did on the case be-fore the arrest of Luetgert they never received any help or suggestions from the husband. The witness told of the visit of himself, Inspector Schaak and number of officers to the sausage factory, the examination of the smoke house and vats and the finding of the rings in the middle vat. The rings, on a plain gold wedding ring, and the other a guard ring, were put in evidence.

Attorney Phalen, on the cross-examination of Captain Schuettler, asked him to tell the jury all the police had done to ascertain whether Mrs. Luetgert wa alive or dead. The witness again de tailed the various steps he had taken in the investigation. Mr. Phalen asked he had not heard that Mrs. Luetgert had een seen at Kenosha, or in that neigh orhood. The captain said the polihad received letters, most of their Boston, Sept. 3.—Charles J. Woman Kil'ed and a Number of Passengers Injured on a New York Road.

Cortland, N. Y., Sept. 3.-Train No. 4, the southbound vestibule on the Delaware, Lackawana and Western railroad, was wrecked at Blodgett's mills at 10:15 yesterday morning. The train consisted of an express car, a combination baggage and smoking car, a day coach and a pullman parlor car. The train, which | 26, he writes: "We have just passed does not stop at Blodgett's mills, was the electoral period with tranquility and passing at the rate of 45 miles per hour on, a straight track. Three Parties Agreed on a Slate With Which to Oppose the Republicans.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 3 .- As predicted at the start by the party leaders the three parties, Democratic, Populist and silver Republicans, joined hands in fusion and the ticket placed in the field is: For supreme judge, John L. Sullivan, Demoerat, Columbus; for state university regents, E. Von Forell of Kerney, Popust, and George F. Kenower of Wisner ilver Republican.

Many delegates maintain that the fuson was perfectly harmonious, while there are others who claim that there may yet be dissension on the silver Republican side, as about one-third of these delegates went home before fusion vas effected. For a while in the thre onvelions yesterday it looked rather ecarious for harmony, as the silve epublicans had a very warm time. umber of the "middle of the read" dele gates talking in favor of the nomina ion of a straight ticket in order to pre serve that organization. Finally it was announced that the Democrats and silver Republicans had agreed upon John L. Sullivan for supreme judge, and signs of fusion began to appear. Even then it was not until Judge Nev'lle urged the endorsement of Mr. Sullivan that the Populists gave in. At noon the and the rest of the proceedings were of short durati n. ident near the close of the convention that neither Scott, Neville nor Thompson could be nominated by any two of the conventions, and th maneuver of the Democrats in substituting Sullivan was considered a coup d'etat that cut short what might have resulted in a long drawn, knotty convention, full of fight and ultimately separating the three parties so widely that fusion would have been an unknown ondition for years to come. This is the opinion freely expressed on every hand. There were 15 counties unrepresented in the Populist convention, and about the same number absent from the other gatherings.

By the same courier that brought over these letters came the address of General Collazo, delivered to his constituents upon his election as a delegate. The address shows that at the meeting of the assembly, which elects the new president and cabinet some time this month, radical change will be made in the policy of the government. In this address h said regarding the change of govern ment: "We have had, until now, a gov ernment of war. We need for the future a government of peace, respectful of the law and energetically enforced. W must then create a government in which the three powers can act in perfect independence, but at the same time helping each other as a guarantee of liberty. He then went on to define the three branches of government, practically as they exist in the United States.

HER CONFESSION.

Long after the speaker's words had in hushed expectancy, unwilling to believe that he had finished and unable to descend all at once from the heights to which they had been raised.

John Ordway and his wife came from the chapel among the last. Both had been strongly moved by the evening's sermon, but in different ways, indicative perhaps of their widely differing temperaments.

Ordway helped his wife into the trot, and the driver leaned forward to bear it.' draw the rug more closely about his companion, peering up into her face so-

They moved swiftly past the scattered houses of the village and out into a stretch of open country. Three or four times the woman raised her head as though about to speak, but checked herself with an effort.

"I have something to tell you, John," she said at last. "I-I am afraid I ought to have told you long ago." "Are ye sure ye ought?" he asked gently. "Maybe there ain't any need." "There is a need," she answered. "I have known all along that it would be better to speak out, but somehow I never felt that I could until tonight." She paused as though to gather courage. "It's about myself and Willis," she said. "You remember"-

Ordway bent forward suddenly with a warning shout to the horses, and the wagon jolted heavily in a deep rut.

"That's me all over," he said, with a chuckle. "I took special notice of | tled it." that hole so as to skip it on the way home, and here I am drivin right into it again, like an old fool. That's what comes of listenin to sermons ye can't quite understand."

"Won't you listen to me, John?" his wife asked pleadingly.

'Of course I will," he answered, "only my nerves bein so wrought up I'm sort of afraid to have any big shock come on me sudden, ye know." Ordway put his arm around her and drew her closer to him protectingly, as a mother soothes a nervous, sleepy child. "I wasn't jokin," he said. "I'm al-

"Go in by the fire," said John Ordway, when at length they rattled into the farmyard. "It'll take me some time to fix things up."

But when he came from the stable, he found her waiting, leaning against one of the square posts of the porch and |don't think it'll ever come again."looking out across the darkness of the "I wanted to wait until we could go

The long, low kitchen was full of changing shalows, which danced across the time polished floor and lost themselves in the corners of the irregular ceiling, when Ordway crossed to the huge fireplace and piled some sticks of and streaks of white fat look all ready soft wood on the glowing ashes. "I had promised to marry Willis before I knew you," she said unsteadily. "We quarreled about some little thing, and each was too proud to speak first. Finally he went away without seeing me. You know how we heard that he died in Africa. I believed it-we all did-and I cried myself to sleep night after night because I hadn't acted differently.

"As time went on I began to forget little by little, and after awhile it all rious superstition in regard to burial: seemed like a sort of dream. Then you came into my life and taught me to trust you and turn to you for help in everything. And, in truth, I loved you more than you could ever understand." Her voice trembled. "You believe me, John?" she asked. "Say that you do believe me.'

"I ain't never doubted it," he answered softly.

"I was happy and contented for two were happy, too, John?"

"Happy!" he said. "Ah, yes! Nobody'll ever know how much." 'And then little Dora was born," she

"I never laid it up against ye," he answered. "I reckoned it was natural, and I knew ye wasn't well, so I tried to forget all about that part of our life, and I done it-almost.'

"The rest of my story is harder to tell and harder to listen to. You remember that Willis came back and hunted us up. He came at the worst time for all of us. I was set against you and half wild about baby's death and reckless to everything. He found that out and kept pleading with me and urging me to go away with him. I ought to have sent him away, but I-didn't. It was as though some evil spirit put the words into his mouth, and I listened-God help me, I listened."

She started to her feet and stood facing her husband, her arms raised to her head in a wild gesture.

"It was no fault of mine that I did not sin against you in deed as I did in thought!" she cried. "If it had not been for some accident-I don't even know what it was-I should not have been here now. I went to meet him here one night. We were to drive to Oakley and take the train for some place. I waited, I don't know how many hours, but he didn't come. At last I crept home and found you asleep. died away the listening people waited In the morning when you were away a letter came saying that an unforeseen accident had happened, and he would let me know about it soon. I never heard from him again.

"Won't you speak to me?" she cried tremulously. "Haven't you been listening? Have I done wrong to tell you? wagon, the horses struck into a swift! Speak to me, for God's sake! I can't

The words were lost in a storm of sobbing, and she threw herself down on her knees beside him, hiding her face with her hands on the arm of the old fashioned chair.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Sept. 5. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. Topic.-Our gifts from God; our gifts to God. - Rom. viii, 26-39. Chrstianity is a religion of giving. It had its origin in the determination of the Son of God to give the best gift He could give, Himself, to the world. It has its fullest completion in man returning this gift by giving himself to God through Jesus Christ. In the beautiful language of Paul contained in the topical reference we get some idea of how precious man is to God, what God has done for man, and with what assurance we may meet the trials and tribulations of life, in consideration of the fact that God is for us and that nothing can separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord.

1. God gives us His love. We should give Him our love. The love of God to man is breathed throughout this entire elequent outburst of the apostle. As we read it we cannot but recall the words of John iii, 16, "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but should have everlasting life." First of all God gave man His leve. It was this gift that led to the others. The love of God for humanity was so broad and deep that He was willing to give His best gift that man might be saved. In return for this gift the least we can do to show our appreciation and gratitude is to give God the sincerest love of our hearts. Love usual ly begets love. May God's love for us beget in us a firm and steadfast love for Him!

2. Gcd gives us Himself. We should give ourselves to God. God gave us His Son. "He gave His only begotten Son." "He who spared not His own Son, but delivered Him up for us all, will give us all things else," says Paul. In giving Christ God gave Himself. "The Father and I are one," said Christ. God gave Himself to man. In return we should give ourselves to Him. By that act He bought us. Therefore we are not 'tis defective refraction or obscure ner- instance in which it did not give me our own and should glorify God in our bodies and spirits, which are not ours, but God's. In short, we should consecrate ourselves entirely and unconditionally to God. In salvation God gives to us. In consecration we give to God. Let us, then, give to God ourselves and our all, and, the gift once made, let it be made forever, not to be used as our own or to be recalled at our own pleasure.

3. God gives us salvation. This 1 the resultant gift of His love and the sacrifice of His Son for the world. It is well to remember that all the steps in salvation, calling, justification and glorification are gifts from God. This is a blessed fact. It makes salvation sure. Not so much as one step depends upon us. We are saved by grace through faith and that not of ourselves. It is a gift of God.

Bible Readings: Gen. xxviii, 20-22; Deut. xvi, 16, 17; Ps. ii, 8; xxix, 11; xxxvii, 3-5; lxxxiv, 8-12; cvii, 1-8; Prov. xxiii, 26; Matt. vii, 7-11; x, 1-8; John iii, 16; x, 27, 28; Acts xx, 35; II Cor. viii, 1-16; ix, 6, 7; Eph. ii, 8; Heb. xiii, 12-16.

His Promise Faileth Never. In 1,900 years there has never been failure of any promise of Christ when the conditions have been complied with There have been failures everywhere else and in almost everything, but there never has and never will be a failure on the part of Christ. If there has been any failure, we may rest assured that it has been with us and not with our Jesus. We have asked much and received much, but in the place of being weary with our asking Jesus is con stantly saying to us, "Ask largely, tha your joy may be full."-Christian Statesman.

Calling Upon God.

Mercy must be asked for. It will not be given unsolicited; God must be called upon for it. This calling is praying, seeking for mercy, knocking at the door of mercy. It must be the call of conscious need, the call of pressing want. The plague of sin must be felt, the evil of sin deplored, deliverance from sin desired. As the drowning man calls for help, as the lost man calls for direction, as the starving man calls for food, so must the sinner call upon God for salvation.—Christian Intelligencer for salvation. - Christian Intelligencer.

Pertaining to the Kingdom.

Our risen Christ did not make and set up a church, as men start a society, under an adopted constitution. The church is not a mere human society under any such view. The kingdom of Christ is not anything like a cast iron machine set in motion. It is not a cut and dried affair based on human schemes or a majority agreement. - Reformer Church Messenger.

Which Rest on the Gospels.

Doctrines which rest on the gospeli are reasonable and are living, and doctrines which have no support in the gospels are less than reasonable and are dying.—Ian Maclaren.

Lieutenant Collins received the message and, thinking it was in regard to over to Lieutenant Hass, and yesterday morning the latter detailed Detective Sergeant Broderick of headquarters to neet the train at the depot.

All Thursday and Thursday night Ward acted in a restless manner and frequently created consternation among the passengers by his peculiar actions. He remained up all night and refused to retire until 3 o'clock yesterday morning, when he approached the colored porter and told him he was going to sleep. Ward then went into his room, and when De Kalb, Ilis., was reached, the porter knocked on the door of Ward's room, out received no answer. # BRADSTREET'S REPORT.

Previous Activity In All Lines of Trades Has Not Abated.

New York, Sept. 4.—Bradstreet's says: Previous activity in all lines of trade is maintained. There is a better tone to demand from jobbers, and the volume of business in wool, leather, clothing, hats, groceries and light hardware has increased. There is a better request for woolen and cotton goods, jewelry and rubber goods, and for boots and shoes Some wholesale merchants at Western centres report the largest volume of August trade on record. There has been an increased consumpion of cotton by Southern mills. West ern iron and steel mills have orders to keep them busy until Jan. 1. In the Central Western states the bituminous oal strike has had a further depressing effect on the general industrial situa tion . At the Northwest some commerial houses have had to work overtime to meet the demand for goods, and the warm weather is reported to have pracically assured the Indian corn crop. in the Pacific coast wheat exports have een checked by inability to secure crews or vessels. Ravisher In Peril.

Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 4.-The governor is in receipt of a telegram from Judge Carmichael, circuit judge at Ozařk, that Major Torrell, the negro who committed an asasult on a white woman and burned her up in her house near Elba, Coffee county, has been captured near that place, and that a mob was forming to storm the jail and hang him. The judge asked for instructions in the matter, and the governor telegraphed him to have the prisoner protected at all hazards. Torrell, after committing the assault, was captured, and in the race to avoid the mob he escaped and no trace has been had of him until now. Trouble is expected, as his crime was a most re-

Living Luxuriously.

Vienna, Sept. 4.—Private reports received here from Sofia state that Captain Boitcheff, formerly aide-de-camp to Prince Ferdinand, and who was con victed of the murder of his mistress, Anna Szimon, is living luxuriously in the house of the governor of the prison. According to these reports, Boitcheff is allowed to receive an unlimited number of visitors, and is only kept in seclusion during the daytime, being allowed to go out at night and spend his time as he pleases. His name, the reports say, has not been erased from the army list. To Work In the Open.

Cape Town, Sept. 4.—Cecil Rhodes, in a speech delivered at Fort Salisbury, is quoted as saying that the conduct of the parliamentary inquiry into the Transvaal raid would be judged half a century hence. His personal troubles, Mr. Rhodes is said to have added, were trivial when compared with those of the people of Fort Salisbury district, and, he continued, his whole future would be directed towards the unity of the South African states in a clear and open policy.

John Hinks was the next one discovered, for Dick spied the hogshead set upon some blocks of wood, and not knowing whether any one was in it or not he thought the surest way of finding out was to tip it over, so he ran against it with all his might, and off it went with a terrible jolt. Just at this spot was quite a declivity, at the foot Sunshine mine, owned by the Colorado of which was a frog pond, not very large or very clean. Down rolled the hogshead with great velocity, bouncing over sticks and stones until it splashed into the pond, and there, much to Dick's surprise, out tumbled Johnny Hinks. The water was not deep; neither was it very clean. Meanwhile the hunt went on, and more boys were found, including Nat Todd, in the horse chestnut tree. Sam Pearson's hiding place was revealed by a hog who was roaming around the yard poking after something to eat. At length he pushed his snout under the steps and so near to Sam's face that he screamed loudly, thinking he was going to be bitten. Dick ran to the rescue and helped Sam out.

Finally they were all found but Will Clark and Horace Barlow, and Dick was puzzled indeed to discover where they were. The other boys began to grow interested, and they joined in the search. Every shrub and tree, every pen and shed, was visited until nothing remained but old Hackett's barn, and a council was held as to the expediency of entering that and exploring its many nooks and corners.

"I wouldn't risk it," exclaimed a tow headed boy named Oliver Brown. 'You'd get a pitchfork stuck into you, sure pop.

Detectives Tell How a Councilman Betraved His Trust.

Check as a Bribe.

Said He Was Not In the Business For His Health.

Fall River, Mass., Sept. 4.-The investigation into the affairs of the commit tee on public instruction by a special committee of the city council was resumed yesterday afternoon. Acting City Solicitor Grime stated that he had talked with Walter E. McLane, who had refused to testify on Tuesday and against whom the committee has directed proceedings for contempt, and found that McLane had not intended to imply that he was trying to conceal knowledge which would incriminate himself, and was willing to testify.

Councilman McCarthy objected to Mr. Grime's abandoning contempt proceedings on these grounds, but the councilman was ruled out of order.

The examination of witnesses was then resumed. McLane testified that he talked with Shay regarding the acceptance of Farnham's plans, and was informed that Shay was not in it "for his health," and it would cost $400. Farnham would have to secure the mayor' vote himself. With the remark that he thought it was rather high, McLane left Shay and told Farnham to have nothing to do with it, as it was "robbery.

G. A. Bobrick, who was present with counsel, W. E. Phillips, Jr., and several witnesses, was given a hearing to disprove attempts to impeach his reputation for veracity and truth. Mr. Bobrick stated emphatically that he would not believe Agent James H. Butler of the Chandler Desk company under oath.

Detectives Charles R. Arlen and Edward T. Clarity of Boston testified to visiting Fall River at the request of Jr., of Providence, who won from the Counsel J. M. Morton, Jr., and Architect Farnham on July 18. The next night they secreted themselves behind the portierre in Farnham's house. They saw Farnham give Shay two new $100 bills. Farnham offered him a check, but Shay said, "No, I can't use a check." Farnham then said he would pay the balance on the following Wednesday. He asked for a receipt, but Shay refused, saying if there was any "squealing" to let him know first. Shay also said that a part was going to "Frank" (Hoag). Shav then left the house and was shadowed by the detectives in an endeavor to find what had become of the money, which was marked. They followed him on a car, and he went to Crosson's saloon; later left with a friend, got into a carriage and the detectives lost him.

Attorney Grime informed the committee that he had summoned Shay and Hoag, but they did not appear. The city messenger was directed to find them.

The committee then went into executive session to discuss the case of George W. Leat, whom witnesses had charged ing offered a bribe to man Buron. He has been too sick to appear.

At the evening session, John Cox testified that last year William R. Allen told him that he had a friend who would pay $100 to have his plans for the East | the rush for the Klondyke region. Gov-Globe street school accepted, and asked him to tell Shea and Hoag of it. They Alaskan interests most of his lifetime refused to make promises before seeing the plans. This friend was Farnbam, the witness said. So far as he he says: "Steamships are passing daily knew the offer was made in good faith for Dyea and Skaguay, loaded to the and not as a trap. Thomas F. Hickey, a reporter, testified that he was told by Farnham of his letter to the mayor be-

SECTION TWENTY-TWO.

Mr. Dingley's Paper on the Bone of Contention In the Tariff Bill.

Lewiston, Me., Sept. 4.-The originators of section 22 of the tariff law did not intend it to affect the bonded privilege under which foreign merchandise can be shipped and forwarded through Canada, according to the Lewiston Evening Journal, Nelson Dingley's newspaper. The Journal editorially says of the sec-

The controversy which has arisen over section 22 has come entirely over two amendments-one having been made by the senate and another by the conference. The section as framed by the ways and means committee and passed by the house was the same as in all previous tariffs, and if it had not been amended after it left the house no question could have arisen respecting it.

The senate amendment to section 22 amended the house section by striking out the words, "or any act of congress," in the conditional clause, which is the modification of importance that is causing the most controversy. Many papers, in commenting on the section, assume that the conferees inserted this amendment, and proceed to comment on what they call a "trick in the dark," etc. The fact is, however, that this amendment was adopted in open senate. The other amendment, it now seems was adopted by the conferees simply to prevent an evasion of the section by the landing of foreign merchandise in Canada by vessels not entitled to equal privileges in our ports, then shipping it to the United States, and was not intended or understood to affect the bonding privilege under which foreign merchandise can be continuously shipped and forwarded through Canada. Undoubtedly, when finally settled, this amendment will be construed as the conferees intended, and therefore all the contention over it fall to the ground.

Deficit of $14,000.

Boston, Sept. 4 .- The annual report of the Fitchburg railroad directors, issued Inday, contains the report of the expert accountants who had been at work on the company's books. The report is as follows: "We have examined the accounts of the Fitchburg Railroad company for the two years ending June 30, 1897, and have compared them with the balance sheets and revenue accounts. Jused to disclose.

We believe that they contain a full and true statement of the financial condition of the company, and that all dividends declared on the stock of the company from the balances at the credit of the revenue accounts were fairly earned thereon, after charging off all expenses for operation, maintenance of way, equipment and claims, which in our judgment ought to be paid therefrom. The only apparent deficit found is the sum of $14,240.35, representing money Was Too Cunning to Take a at various times during the period of two years disbursed by order of the auditor of the office. The sudden death of the late auditor deprives the management of an opportunity of learning the particulars of its distribution, proper vouchers not having been found.

Lots, but Not Enough.

Rockland, Me., Sept. 4.-The stockholders' meeting of the Red Seal Remedy company of Lowell, Mass., formerly of Rockland, was to have been held here yesterday, but although stockholders from Providence, Boston, Lowell, Attleboro, Rockland, Union, Rockport, Searsport and other places were present, it was found that no quorum of shares was represented. An open meeting was held and both factions stated their sides of the case. It is stated that the liabilities of the concern are about $40,000 and the assets something less than half that Print Cloth Market.

Fall River, Mass., Sept. 4.—The demand for goods has been active in the Fall River market during the week, and prices rule firm. The bulk of the trading has been on the odd counts for immediate and near delivery, and while there has been some little inquiry for regulars, manufacturers are not inclined to meet it at the present figures. The production amounts to 230,000 pieces, and igents has disposed of 300,000 pieces, or which 118,000 pieces were spots and 182, 000 futures. Market steady at 2% cents

State Record Broken.

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 4.-The state mile bicycle record of 2:06 went to pieces last night at the race meet at the bicycl park, and Ira A. Newick of this city did the breaking. Paced by a quintet, he made the mile in 2:03 1-5 under conditions not exactly favorable for very fast time. The same rider also did a good half mile paced. The best racing seen here this season was done by H. B. Hills, scratch the half mile handicap, the one mile open and the two-mile handicap.

Joe Patchen Defeated.

Hartford, Sept. 4.-Star Pointer won from Joe Patchen with apparent ease at Charter Oak park. It had been agreed that each horse should alternate at the pole, and the toss of a penny decided which should start in that position. Mr. Murphy, owner of Star Pointer, won the toss. In the second heat, when Patchen had the pole. Pointer had to travel a little faster to get to the wire first, and that heat was done in 2:03%. He landed about half a length ahead in each heat. Will Take No Action.

Boston, Sept. 4.-At a meeting of the advisory board of the A. P. association there was some discussion as to what action the board would take in regard to the nomination of state officers, governor, lieutenant governor, treasurer, ecretary of the commonwealth, auditor and attorney general. Opinions differed on this point, but it was finally concluded that the order would take no action on candidates for state officers. The Rush to Eldorado.

Washington, Sept. 4.-John C. Brady, governor of Alaska, has sent to Sec retary Bliss a personal letter in which he gives some interesting facts about ernor Brady has been identified with and is known to be very conservative in his opinions. Writing from Juneau utmost with passengers and supplies. The news just out of Klondyke by reliable men is calculated to raise the exitement to a higher pitch. The shipment of dust by the mouth of the Yukon will be all of two and one half tons. Rich finds have been made well up on the sides of the mountains. A conservative estimate is that there are 5000 men at Skaguay and along the trail of the White pass. Only a small per cent of the number can get across. Some parties are dividing up and will try to send over supplies, while the others will not go into camp until spring. The men who are coming are fine fellows, and I greatly admire them as I see them talk and walk. A country can well be proud of such men. They are remarkably orderly.

Misuse of Trust Funds.

Chicago, Sept. 4.-Warrants charging embezzlement have been issued for the arrest of Charles M. Charnley, for 15 years treasurer of the Presbyterian board of aid for colleges and academies. He cannot be found. The American Surety company caused the warrants to be issued, and alleges that Mr. Charnley has confessed to a shortage of $50,000, the trust funds contributed for educational institutions having been used in speculations of the board of trade. The action of the surety company was caused by William H. Swift, who notified the concern that the deficit existed and it would be expected to pay $25,000, the amount under which Mr. Charnley was bonded by the company. Mr. Charnley was seen to leave the Astor Street house on Wednesday night, and his whereabouts since then has been a mystery. This made the surety company so suspicious that it swore out Varrants for the arrest of the treasurer.

A Minister Enjoined. Wheeling, Sept. 4 .- Another injuncon was served yesterday on J. W. Rea, James Wood and 73 others named, and an unlimited number of unnamed and unknown people, prohibiting them from holding meetings or marching near the property of the Worthington Coal and Coke company. This injunction was ssued by Judge J. H. Hagans, the regular judge of the Marion county ciruit court. Among those named in the instrument is Rev. W. H. Wiley, who has been holding religious services in the

New York, Sept. 4.—District Attorney Youngs of Queen's county has been visted by a man who thinks he sold to Marin Thorn the plaster of paris on which the latter is said to have inclosed the head of Guldensuppe. The information was given to Mr. Youngs last night. The Long Strike of Coal Miners Approaching a Close.

Compromise Offer From the Operators.

They Advanced the Rate a Cent, and Miners' Board Accepted.

Columbus, O., Sept. 4 .- The operators' convention held out against the miners' demand for 69 cents a ton, but neglected to present an alternative proposition unil yesterday afternoon, when it offered an advance of 1 cent on its upset price of 64 cents. After much discussion the miners' board agreed to recommend cceptance of the tender.

President Ratchford and the other members of the board say there is not the slightest doubt but that the miners will approve the recommendation. The proposition does not involve arbitration, and in effect provides for an immediate ettlement of the strike. Ratchford said last night that there were special reas ons for the board recommending the proposition. In the first place it conedes the miners a material advance. Had a 69-cent rate been secured he was onfident it could not have been main tained for more than 70 days. The propsition does away with all the uncerainties of arbitration and will bring he strike to a speedy termination. As on as the miners ratify the proposion work will be resumed in all the ines. In the second place the proposition provides for a revival of the joint onferences for the adjustment of prices The operators are pledged to meet with the miners prior to the termination of the agreement and determine the rate of mining for the next year. Both the nembers of the miners' executive board and the operators' committee are pleased ver the outcome of the conference, and feel that public sentiment will sustain their action. Yesterday the operators' committee enewed the first proposition for a 64ent rate pending arbitration. This was again refused by the miners' board Then the operators got together and submitted a new proposition for a straight price of 65 cents, and after a long discussion it was accepted by the miners, but subject to the approval of the miners at large. In a circular calling the convention, the executive board says: "At this time it is deemed advisable for the reason that provisions are made in the uniformity agreement now pending in Pittsburg, and which, it is expected, will be operative in that district on and after Jan. 1, 1898, to arbitrate the question of relative differential between pick and machine mining, which will, we anticipate, do much toward furnishing us with more reliable data of that question than we possess at present, and to that extent will be beneficial to us in settling questions as between machine and pick mining.'

WILL HE RECEDE?

Significant Utterance by the Late President of Brown University.

New York, Sept. 4 .- That Dr. Elisha Penjamin Andrews, who recently resigned the presidency of Brown university, will assume complete control of the newly inaugurated Cosmopolitan university, is almost an assured fact. Dr. Andrews has been in this vicinity for two days. He went to Irvington-onthe-Hudson and was closeted with John Brisben Walker, the promoter of the university, and together they prepared the prospectus of the new educational

Dr. Andrews left Irvington early in the afternoon, en route to Providence, but he remained over night at the Murray Hill hotel, this city, and will not start eastward until today. When seen by a representative of the press, Dr. Andrews gave out the following statement: Some weeks ago when I thought a severance of my relations with Brown university inevitable, I assumed the responsibility of conducting during the coming year a very important new educational undertaking projected by John Brisben Walker, but now soon to be taken in charge by a corporation made up of well-known gentlemen, all 'sound money' men, deeply interested in the proposed educational enterprise. The work to be done by the new corporation is in the nature of the university extension already carried on by Brown university so that the head of Brown university might conceivably be the same person who had charge of the new work. There would, in the nature of the case, be nothing incongruous in such a union, as appears in the fact that President Harper of Chicago university is also collegiate principal of the Chataqua university. Yet I do not myself deem that sort of a union in the present case advisable or likely to give satisfaction. If resorted to, it will be only a device to tide over a temporary difficulty. Either the old enterprise or new will itself sufficiently tax the energies of any one man. Just what permanent settlement will be arrived at . am not yet in a position to state. It is hoped that it will be the one best calculated to further the cause of education." When asked whether he would with draw his resignation from Brown university, the doctor said he could not state positively what he would do until he had consulted the trustees and fellows of Brown university. He said that there were nearly 4000 applications by letter for the new university, and he would begin to answer them on next Monday week. Brown uni versity will open two days later, and this in itself would show Dr. Andrews has certainly a very deep interest in the welfare of the new scheme. Mr. Walker was rather reserved when approached at his residence on the Hudson, but he gave all inquirers to understand that Dr. Andews would have complete contol of the Cosmopolitan university and assume entire charge of it at an early day. "You see," said Mr. Walker, "Brown university has treated Dr. Andrews so nicely that it is very likely he will conname of the informant Mr. Youngs' re- tinue the duties of the presidency until his successor is selected."

BAD FOR LUETCERT.

Damaging Testimony About Rings Offered by His Wife's Friends.

Chicago, Sept. 4.-Stil another link vas added to the number that is going to make up the chain the government proposes to forge around Mr. Luetgert. Yesterday three more positively identified the rings found in the vat as being the property of Mrs. Luetgert, and said that they had seen them on her hands One of them had talked with Mrs. Luet gert about the rings, and so felt sure that the rings found in the vat and those she saw on the fingers of Mrs. Luetgert were the same. The defense made an unsuccessful attempt to break down the evidence of the three women.

The only witness examined at the afternoon session was Carl Voelker, a chemist, who was employed by Luetgert from the fa!! of 1894 to December, 1895 Voelker testified that Luetgert engaged him first to make a chemical analysis of certain salts used in the preservation of meats. Subsequently Luetgert engaged him in the manufacture of a ompound of permanganate of potasl for the preservation of meats, but the business did not succeed very well. Then the prisoner made him shipping clerk in the factory. The witness said that Luetgert never used caustic soda of potash in the manufacture of sausage and he never knew him to use arseni in the factory. The witness describ the process used in the business from the time raw meat is received until th manufacture of sausage is complete. He said that during the time he was em ployed in the factory the vats in the voelker told the jury that on one of easion he saw Luetgert use violence to ward his wife. She and another woma went into the office one afternoon, an Luetgert appeared to be in a rage. The witness was not in the office, but he saw Luetgert push his wife and her com panion out of the door. Mrs. Luetger and the lady with her hurried away much excited, and he heard Mrs. Lue gert say: "He has a revolver and wi shoot us.

Only Four National League Clubs In at the Finish.

BOSTON AND BALTIMORE BATTLE,

Desperate Struggle For the Temple Cup Cash — Efforts Next Year to Round Up Rowdy Players - Close Finishes Among Minor Leagues.

The home stretch has been reached in the National league baseball race. It finds only four clubs in the struggle for first and second place. Of these four it now seems certain-as certain as anything can be in baseball-that the Bostons and Baltimores will be the final contenders for the pennant. The New Yorks have made a splendid fight, but their handicap of six or seven games behind the Bostons and Baltimores seems too much to overcome in such a short time. Extraordinary playing on the part of the team till the season closes, or some unexpected "slump" by one of the two leaders alone can land them in the Temple cup series.

The struggle between the Bostons and Baltimores promises to be one of the most exciting battles for the pennant since 1889. Both teams are almost invincible on their own grounds, but the Baltimores appear to be the better "stayers." The latter will also take more desperate means to win, and if they should win by a small margin there may be no decisive results till the two teams meet for their last series at Baltimore in September. Those three games may settle the issue. New York should beat Cincinnati for third place.

Some of these western teams are liable to throw all calculations askew, however, particularly the Chicagos. Anson's June assertion that "some of those clubs in the first division have got to make room for me," has been verified. His Colts are playing the best ball of the six western teams, and they should end their eastern trip with a good record. Perhaps the fact that they visit Baltimore twice on this trip, playing the champions six games, may greatly affect the final results, for when the Chicagos are in good form they are dangerous foes for Hanlon's men Again a season is ending full of wonder at Anson's splendid record on the diamond. He has been excelled in play by From Braintree. none on his team and will probably lead first base men of the League when the official figures are finally printed. There is no doubt where he will stand in batting. His eyes are still true, and his name will be found well up among the .300 per cent

GUYS' COLISEUM. they meet at the Polo grounds late in September. Second place this year means as much as $5,000 or $6,000-maybe moreto the winner who would share in the rich prize. Now both the New York and Baltimore teams contain desperate players who would stop at almost nothing short of homicide to win that prize. It would be more of a fight than a baseball contest, and foul means would surely be brought into the game on both sides. The extent of the incentive of that $5,000 prize for distribution among the second place team can scarcely be imagined. President Young has already given warn ing to the National league magnates that radical means must be adopted for next season to control the rowdyish, riot breeding, fighting players if the game is to be preserved in its present high state of popularity. The rules adopted on that sub ject last winter have been found woefully wanting in effect, and not since baseball was first played professionally have such disgraceful scenes occurred on the diamond as have marred the present championship season Indirectly Mr. Young recommends the adoption of a heroic plan which has been suggested before, but which the club own ers always hesitated to try on account of its severity. The plan is to grade the penalties against uncalled for abuse and rowdyism from a money fine to a removal of the offender from the game for three days or a week. After such a temporary suspension a second offense will subject the player to a suspension and ineligibility to play with any club during the rest of the championship season. Such a drastic rule, if adopted and enforced once or twice, would undoubtedly be found an effective remedy. Not more than a score of all the players would be effected, and it might furnish a couple of terrible examples. The players who would be endangered under such a rule would be men of the Doyle, Kennedy, Vaughn, Tebeau, O'Conner, Donovan, Jennings, Mc-Graw class. Benching a valuable member of a nine for three days or a week would punish the player's club more than himself, and the consequence would probably be to induce club owners to take a hand in the reformation by compelling their disorderly players to submit and obey the rules. Mr. Young's timely warning on this important matter cannot be ignored. The question will be widely discussed until the magnates meet next winter, when it will undoubtedly be the one important problem to confront the baseball law-Close finishes seem to be general this season. The minor leagues are nearly all having hot contests for pennant honors. Indianapolis looks like the probable win-If TIME really is MONEY, you can save the former and make the latter, by using the wonderful Glenwood Ranges. Seware of imitations, genuine Glenwoods.

Several of the National league clubs must be convinced that prosperity has at last arrived. The attendance at New York and Boston has been almost unprecedented. The Bostons' three days engagement in New York attracted 39,000 spectators to the Polo grounds, where the crowds are noted for their grand stand patronage probably half of all paying from 75 cents to $1 admission. The New York club will undoubtedly be the prize money maker this year and a net profit of $75,000 is not too large to put down to its good fortune. The Boston club will not fall much short of $50,000 "to the good." The Baltimores' profits will be something, but not extremely great. That club depended largely for its receipts this year from road games. Its home patronage was not a money making one.

there will be small cheer for the other seven. Philadelphia is, next to New York, the best baseball city in the Union in point of patronage, and a team there which place its club among the other large winso continuously disappointed and disgusted with the wretched playing of the city's in the game is gone and enthusiasm is as dead as a salt mackerel. After numerous futile attempts to send a crack English cricket team to America the thing has been done by a man new to international sport. P. H. Warner of the English Middlesex county team brings with him G. L. Jessop, whose batting has been one of the features of the season, and F. G. Bull, the Essex slow bowler, who stands at the head of the English amateur talent in this department. Mr. Warner also counts upon George Brann and W. Newham of Sussex, C. L. Townsend

Mr. Warner, who has developed into a first class player since he dress. Today they eat, ride and sleep in left Oxford, is a prominent member of the Middlesex team. He ranks high among the first class batsmen, with an average of 30.21 for 26 completed innings.

A Fugilistic Trust.

The managers of the three principal prizefight clubs of San Francisco are trying to agree upon a scheme which, if carried out, will practically give them a monopoly of the business in that city. The idea is to convince the supervisors that only a limited number of permits for fights should be issued every month, and that they, as the established clubs, should have the permits. If this can be done, only two fights every month or three fights in two months will be pulled off, and the Na tional, the Empire and the Columbia clubs will alternate with events. If this pugilistic trust be formed, there will no longer be any rivalry in bidding for fighters, and large purses and percentages will no longer be given. At present the fighters are getting most of the money.

McAuliffe Ambitious. It is said that Jack McAuliffe would like to be considered champion again, if it were no more than in the consideration, which indeed was the way Mac held on to things during the latter portion of his in cumbency. Whatever may be thought of McAuliffe's occasional talk to Champion "Kid" Lavigne, there is one direction in which he would doubtless throw himself recklessly for a gilded consideration, which is relative to a ring meeting with Tom Causer, recently risen lightweight champion of England. Provided Jack can induce Causer to make him a present of as much weight as the latter presented to Burge when Burge lost to Causer on a foul, there is little doubt of our man's reaching out for fresh honors.

A NEW PROPELLER.

It Is a Pneumatic Contrivance, Which May Produce Great Speed.

Albert Alexander Graham, a Topeka attorney, has invented and secured a patent on a pneumatic propeller which is expected to be a great innovation in marine propulsion.

The invention consists of the employment of an air blast for propelling the vessel and includes an arrangement for causing the blast. Regarding his new invention Mr. Graham said:

"In carrying out my invention I employ a series of fans for generating an air blast, the fans being rotated at different speeds, as a blast thus generated that is, the air will become more and more compressed as it travels outward, thus causing a more solid impact with the water. In the example of my improvement there are four fans arranged in a row, one rearward of another, and all discharging into an air duct, which communicates with a passageway leading through the stern of the vessel. The stern of the vessel curves rearward and upward, and the passageway is located just above the keel, so that the air blast of the vessel and by its expansion and pressure against the stern, of the vessel will force the vessel along."-Topeka Capital.

ODD CASE OF DEMENTIA.

A Child Suddenly Makes a Frantic Effort

to Choke Its Father. While Thomas J. Kehce was fondling his daughter Margaret, who is only 11 years old, one night recently at their home in New York, the girl suddenly went insane, and Kehoe narrowly escaped being choked to death by her. In an instant the girl was transformed into a raving maniac, and it required all the strength that Kehoe possessed to get her under control, although he is a powerful man. After the girl's clutch had been shaken from her father's throat she writhed about on the floor and gave utterance to fearful cries, which aroused every one in the building.

The sudden attack by his daughter was a frightful surprise to her father. Dr. Paulding, the family physician, was called, and after repeated doses of morphine, both internal and by hypodermic injection, he succeeded in getting the girl quiet. Later, however, she was again attacked with violent dementia and tore her flesh and clothing in a horrible manner. Her cries aroused nearly every one in the vicinity of the house, and narcotics were administered in vain. An ambulance was finally sumvained and the struggling girl was tak. en to Bellevue hospital.-New York

Many physicians pronounce consumption an incurable disease. In this they are mistaken as thousands will testify. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. It corrects all disorders of the digestion. It promptly improves the appetite and makes it keen and hearty. It fills the blood with the tissue-building elements of the food, and acting directly upon the lungs, drives out all im-purities and disease germs. It makes rich, pure blood, builds new, firm, healthy flesh, and strong, springy muscles. It soothes and invigorates the nerves. Thousands have testified to their permanent recovery from consumption through its use, after they were given up by the doctors and all hope was gone. Druggists sell it and nothing else is "just as good."

X RAYS DISCLOSE SKELETONS IN OR-DINARY PHOTOGRAPHS.

Remarkable Discovery of a Baltimore Physician-Doctors May Now Diagnose Cases of Distant Patients-The Revelation Was Purely Accidental.

Dr. Robert Xavier Giering, a well known young physician of Baltimore, claims to have made a remarkable discovery by means of the Roentgen rays.

Dr. Giering states that by means of the X ray he can develop any ordinary photograph of a human being, showing plainly all the internal organs, and the bony structure of the body, of the original of the photograph. In other words, the doctor maintains that an ordinary photograph is not only a likeness of the outward appearance of the individual, but that it contains a reproduction of everything in the body, and that all that is necessary to make all visible to the naked eye is to put the photographs through a series of developments under the X ray. Dr. Giering was busily engaged in experimenting in his office when questioned on the subject of his discovery. He said he was developing photographs of various persons with the object of reproducing their internal or-

In speaking of his investigations he said: "Of course I cannot disclose the process which I employ, but I do not mind relating how I made the discovery. Six months ago I was employed as a lecturer by the Edison company of New Roentgen rays. I went to most of the southern and middle states in my work and have been constantly engaged in experimenting with the X rays.

"About two weeks ago I was testing a new apparatus in my office and made an X ray photograph of my hand. I placed a plate on the table directly under my apparatus. ### A Broad Minded Woman.

The president of the Denver Woman's club, Mrs. Sarah S. Platt, is a broad minded woman who believes that the opportunities of a big, broad department club are great. In the first place, she instances the value of the training in the club life, the managing of finances, hiring and building clubhouses and libraries, arranging lecture courses, etc., which bears fruit in the systematic and orderly methods the clubwoman uses in conducting charitable boards and the business of large public and private institutions. "One great opportunity for the club," she says, "comes from the fact that a town or city is perhaps quite ready for a public movement for improvement along charitable or æsthetic lines if some responsible body will lead the way. When so large a number of earnest women propose a measure, it is quite certain to meet with great encouragement. If a woman's club will have the wisdom to work slowly, patiently and reasonably, there is almost no limit to its opportunity in every direction in any community."-New York Times.

Mrs. Seddon's Opinion.

Mrs. Seddon, wife of the premier of New Zealand, was among the honored visitors to Queen Victoria's jubilee. While they were in London she gave her opinion of the success of woman suffrage in that colony. Mrs. Seddon had been herself opposed to woman suffrage, and it was not until after it had been approved by experience that she changed her mind. The votes of women have for two elections aided in keeping in power the Liberal party. which gave them the ballot. Mrs. Seddon says that there has been no disturbance or unpleasantness of any sort at York to give illustrated lectures on the the polls, no discord of family and no attempt on the part of priests or ministers to manipulate the women's vote. Those formerly opposed to woman suffrage are now eager to record their votes, and women attend political meetings as well as men. They ask questions of candidates, make speeches, move resolutions, etc., and the majority of

Dr. Mary Walker's Answer.

Dr. Mary Walker was asked the other day if she still liked trousers. Her answer was:

"Like them?" The counter question was rife with meaning. Women constitute a large majority of the educators of America. At the National Teachers' association which met recently in Milwaukee women were as much in evidence as men. Death of a Boy In New Orleans Creates Alarm.

Loubt as to the Cause of His Fatal Illness.

Authorities Are Preparing For a Dreaded Visitation.

New Orleans, Sept. 7 .- The Louisiana state board of health kept faith with its sister bodies of the South and the rest of the country yesterday, when it ade official announcement as a result of the careful autopsy that Raoul Gelpi, 3 years old, had died of yellow fever. elpi was the son of prominent people here and had been spending some time at Ocean Springs, where he was taken down with fever and brought home. oon after arriving, despite the best medical attention, he died. Dr. Theard, the physician in charge, immediately yellow fever. Yesterday afternoon an autopsy proved that Dr. Theard's diagnosis of yellow fever was correct. Steps were promptly taken to prevent Richardson of this place received a letase was one of the most importance the octors expressed confidence that they

The death of young Gelpi naturally aused no little excitement in the city. Physicians, however, express no aporchension, and stated their belief that gevolver, which was kept in the house t was quite possible to prevent a spread f the fever. The board during the day had ordered a rigid quarantine against all points on the gulf coast, and had aken every precaution to guard all venues of communication against the High water-8 a. m.; 8:15 p. m. ntry into the city of any person from Ocean Springs, Biloxi or other points n the sound, which it was thought the ever might reach. During the day the bulletin boards have been thronged he board of health office has been be leged and the wires have been freighted with messages to and from the various east resorts. In the meantime, however, reassuring telegrams arrived from Ocean Springs that the Mississippi board of health had taken every precautio seible to circumscribe the limits of the pidemic and prevent its communication o the outside world. We have no fear," said Dr. Walms ey, acting president of the board of realth, "that the fever will spread in New Orleans. The board of health i prepared to spend $1,000,000 to stamp it out, and we see no reason to feel alarmed People ought not get frightened. This one case was taken charge of in time and such scientific fumigation has been applied to warrant the hope that we shall promptly and effectively stamp out the disease. We have made arrangements to issue a circular to every practicing physician in New Orleans commanding him promptly to report to the board of health every suspicious case of yellow fever. We have made arrangements to act promptly in every ase and if, unfortunately, other cases of yellow fever shall be brought to our attention, we shall without delay notify the world through the press.'

SENT TO OCEAN SPRINGS.

An Acknew'edged Authority on Fevers to Act For the Government.

Washington, Sept. 7 .- Without delay a py of this telegram was trans-Vineyard Haven, and he immediately requested Dr. John Guiteras, professor of the University of Pennsylvania, to proceed to Ocean Springs. Dr. Guiteras was formerly in the marine hospital service and is the acknowledged authority on fevers in this country. Dr. Bailbache also wired Dr. Wasdin to inquire into the result of the autopsy and consu'tation, to give the number of the inhabitants on Ocean Springs and the number of fatalities. Dr. Wasdin replied that the population of Ocean Springs, which is a summer resort on the gulf coast near Biloxi, was about 1500 in winter and 3000 in summer. He also reported the existence of pasmodium of maleria, a condition of the blood said never to be present in yellow fever No further report has been re-

Dr. Bailbache says that Dr. Wasdin is making a bacteriological investigation to determine the existence of yellow fever germs. Dr. Bailbache believes the disease, so far as his information goes, s dengue or bone-brake fever. In sup port of this he points to Dr. Wasdin's rei ort that the fever is endemic, not pidemic, and that the fatalities have been few, whereas yellow fever is fatal n a majority of cases. This latter he onsiders the strongest evidence that the disease is not yellow fever. The existence of the pasmodium of malaria is another strong evidence against the yellow fever theory. About days ago he says the state board of nealth in Mississippi investigated the ever and pronounced it dengue. If t should, however, prove to be yellow fever Dr. Bailbache says the lateness of the season will materially aid the authorities in keeping it confined to the e gives assurances that there will be no widespread epidemic of the dreaded

Memorial Church.

The first Sunday of September has made the occasion of a specially interesting service at the Memorial church, Atlantic. The fine weather brought out a very large congregation and as they entered the church a most pleasing sight met the eye. The front hose who have begun their school life this of the altar was heavily banked with golden rod and other wild flowers, and on either side was placed large stalks Coddington, Adams and Quincy schools, is but of sunflowers with golden rod for a base, making a most beautiful strik The electric cars to Squantum did a ing picture.

Many compliments were bestowed upon the decorator who certainly gave evidence of much art in the arrangement of the flowers.

Special music was given, and it was a treat to once more find the choir in its accustomed place. Mr. Bemis presided at the organ and with a sole from Miss Godfrey, who sang the 'Holy City,'' the musical part of the service was much enjoyed.

Since the retirement of the Rev. Mr Norton who was compelled to give up by poor health, this parish has been without a settled minister and the interest has naturally flagged, but a call has been accepted by the Rev. J. H. Whittaker and it certainly would seem Everett. as though he was just the one to build this society up once more. He is a young man of much promise and already has a very warm place in the nearts of those who have met him both in and out of the pulpit. He is full of push and progression and we bespeak for this parish a renewal of a visit with her sister Mrs. Bassett, of life under his guidance.

Altgeld of Illinois on Ownership and Injunctions.

Questions This Country Is Facing.

Ture For Corrupt Legislation to Be Found In the Referendum.

Philadelphia, Sept. 7.-Although ex-Governor John P. Altgeld of Illinois was the stellar attraction secured by the United Labor league of this city for its Labor day picnic at Washington park, the desire to see and to hear the personage was not rife among the people of this vicinity. His audience consisted of about 1000. It listened to him for nearly wo hours on the subject: "Municipal and Government Ownership and Government by Injunction." In the course of his address, which took a wide range; the ex-governor said:

JOHN P. ALTGELD. ke the corporations because of rothis corruption relates to legislatures, igher officials, the most of it is due to he temptations offered by the corporaions, and it will continue just as long s the corporations exist, while the rote absence of a proper civil service sys-With the gradual introduction of the little peculations will end. "Prior to 1894 the United States govenment hired its telephones of the Bell ompany at $75 per year, Since that time it has operated its own telephones at a yearly cost of only $10.23 each, and has had far better service. If the government owned the telephones, a farmer could go to his neighborhood postoffice and, for a few cents, use the public telephone and communicate with any of the great cities and thus be brought into loser relations with the world. It would oring the most remote neighborhoods in loser contact with the centers of intelligence, and the effect upon the whole people would be to the highest degree

"Hyenas are sometimes satiated and ie down to rest, leaving the world to thers; but recent years have demonstrated that the hunger of corporations grows fiercer with the feeding, and that f left to have their way the contest must ecome fiercer and the public will, at all times, be in danger of a fuel famine and general disturbance of its industries. On the other hand, if the miners are to be reduced to such a state of helplessess and degradation that they will not have the spirit to strike, if hunger and nakedness are to become natural conitions among the adults, and ignorance and crime are to be the environment of the children, then we will soon have in our country a large population that will be a constant menace to free govern-ent and republican institutions. "The question of putting an end to wholesale corruption, putting an end to the selling of legislation, putting an end to the control of government by corporawe can check it there is no hope for this country. The only way by which we can stop this corruption at present is to remove the temptation, and from present appearances the only way this can be done is to have the government take all hese corporations and monopolies that are now destroying it. Every effort to enforce the criminal law against great offenders has ended in a farce. It is no onger a question of policy; it is a quesion of existence. We are face to face with the question as to whether the govrnment has the right and the power of elf-preservation. If what is called the eferendum in legislation shall be adoptd it will tend to protect us from further orrupt legislation, but it could not renove the monopolies and the injustice were built, no government by injunction was heard of, nor is it heard of in any other country today. The law of the land was ample for all purposes. Life and property were protected, order was maintained, law was enforced and our nation became the wonder of the earth; and the law of the land as it existed for over a century is ample for every purpose today. It is not necessary or me to say to you that republican in stitutions and government by injunction can not both exist in the same country. They are exactly opposite in character and one or the other must die. If a hostile army should burn half our ities, or if a pestilence should carry off Lalf our people, we would soon rally, and under free institutions our nation would be happy again. But by brushing away the very foundations of inferty hese courts are committing a crime which, if unchecked, will cast a gloom over many generations and increase the serrows of unnumbered millions of the human race, because it tends to wipe republican government from earth. The government of England is monarchial. Here we boast of republican government and free institutions. Shall we allow the in dividual of this country to be robbed of ven such rights and protection as a monarchy would give him?"

BRYAN'S SPEECH.

What He Said Before a Large Audience In St. Louis.

St. Louis, Sept. 7 .- The feature of the Labor day celebration in this city yesterday was an address by Hon. W. J. Bryan at Concordia park. The largest crowd ever seen in the park greeted the speaker. His speech throughout was enthusiastically applauded. Previous to the meeting Mr. Bryan reviewed a parade of 15,000 laboring men.

Mr. Bryan spoke in part as follows: 'While I find pleasure in participating in the exercises of this day, I am also actuated by a sense of duty because the bservance of Labor day affords me an epportunity for the discussion of those questions which especially concern the producers of wealth. In a pamphlet written by a distinguished New York anker, I find the assertion that the prosperity of farmers and laborers depends upon the prosperity of the business man. So long as one entertains such an idea he is certain to entertain erroneous views upon social and political questions. The Paramount Issue. Denver, Sept. 7 .- The Democrats of Colorado yesterday decided that hereafter there shall be no more fusion by that party with any other. After a heated session John A. The platform adopted, after referring in laudatory terms to Hon. William J. Bryan and predicting his election to the presidency in 1900, says: "We believe the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 to be the paramount issue before the people of this nation, and until settled rightly it should be the supreme question n every election, whether national or local. We expressly declare our opposition to any movement which may be construed as a waiver of that issue, and pledge ourselves to do all in our power, whether alone, or in conjunction with others who believe in the same thing, to lefeat any candidate who accepts a nomnation by those who are opposed to the orinciples of the Chicago platform.' Blaze From a Gas Well Causes an Awful Disaster.

Set Fire to a Quantity of Nitro-Glycerine.

Lown and Unknown Dead Found After the Explosion.

Cygnet, O., Sept. 8 .- A terrible exploion of nitro-glycerine occurred here yesterday afternoon, resulting in the death of six people whose names are known and several others, at present unknown. The identified dead are: Sam Barber, Allen Falis, John Thompson, Charles Barelet, Henry Lansdale and a boy named Havens.

The explosion occurred at a well, lo ated at the rear of the National Supply ompany's building. This well had just been shot by Samuel Barber. The well was a gaser, and when the nitro-glycer ne was let down, the gas ignited, and with a terrific roar the flames shot high bove the derrick. As soon as the irillers saw the flames, several climbed they barely got there when a terrific ex olosion occurred. The burning gas had started 120 quarts of glycerine remaining n a wagon near the derrick. It ex cioded with a mighty rear, and the own and surrounding country for miles embled from the shock.

The National Supply company's build ig was completely demolished, and vagon stood. There is not a whol pane of glass in any window in the town and every house and store was shaker e its foundations. Who the other men that were in the derrick are, and how many of them were killed, cannot earned now owing to the excitement.

The damage to the Ohio Oil company vill amount to $3000. Eight buildings are a total wreck and many others dam aged. The town has a population of about 1200. Many bystanders were

Boston, Sept. 8.-Gildo Perilli, 27 years of age, rushed into police station on ast night, and said he had been sho Investigation showed that a bullet had entered his back and passed nearly hrough his body, being readily felt just inder the wall of the abdomen. A few inutes later, Guiseppi Bianco, was rought in in the ambulance, badly batered about the head and body. Ac ording to his story there was some kind of a row, during which two mer knocked him down and terribly pounded im. In self-defense he drew his re olver and fired at one of them, but he ays Perilli was not the man he tried hit. Perilli, however, says it was ianco who shot him, and if he lives which at present is a matter of seriou

Paris, Sept. 8.-The French press is still greatly exercised over the effect that the Franco-Russian alliance will have upon European politics. Prince Bismarck, in an interview, a report of which was published in The Gaulois yester day, admitted that the time was pro pitious for the snatching of Egypt and the Suez canal from England, but said he did not believe that Frenchmen have any passionate interests on that ques tion, adding: "Perhaps they are right to wait for us Germans to become still more deeply involved in our foreign policy, for now we have neither leadership nor principles-nothing whatever. Every one is groping about, and the treasures of influence I abored to acumulate are being profitlessly squan-

LARGE ATTENDANCE

Some of the School Buildings Over- Judge White Again on the Bench at crowded-Number by Rooms.

The Quincy public schools opened Tuesday night's City Council meeting, Tuesday with a large attendance, the Norfolk County at Quincy today and total number being 4191, an increase of transacted the following business: but ten minutes long. The absent 317 over the number at the beginning members were: Councilmen Geary, of the fall term in 1896. This number however does not tell how large a school army will have to be accommodated this year, for the new pupils have two weeks in which to enter.

It is, however, very certain that the School Committee will find itself cramped for room in several of the school buildings. The building to suffer the most is the Coddington, which is the second largest in point of numbers of any of the buildings, the total number being 434. This is considerably more than it can easily accommodate the second and third grades are the most crowded.

The Adams school is not suffering any, and can easily handle its 375 pupils and let one class of the Lincoln use a part of the building.

At the Lincoln they are somewhat crowded especially in the fifth grade, and it will be necessary to put down the victuallers' license of Aubrey Nela few seats. It is evident that an enlargement will have to be made in this section soon for besides being crowded now it has one class quartered at the Adams building.

The John Hancock as usual is badly crowded and every available room will be in use and extra seats will be put n, and it will still remain crowded.

At the Willard school there were 789 pupils, and although this building has been relieved somewhat by the Gridley Bryant it is still crowded. Tuesday i was found necessary to put a class in the attic again. The fourth and fifth grades are crowded and more seats wi have to be provided.

At the Gridley Bryant there were 302 pupils while the building has accommodations for 450, so that there is at present no crowd.

This is also true of the Massachusetts Fields schools where there are but 242

The Washington school will not be crowded any and the Quincy and Wollaston buildings will not be much cramped for room.

The new class to enter the High school this year numbered 210, while the number of old pupils to return was 194, making the total number in the school 405, and still there are more to ome The school now is the largest on record, and there is a scarcity of coom, it being necessary to crowd classes into the laboratories in order to accommodate them.

The attendance by grades in each ouilding is shown in the summary

An incident occurred during Faber's testimony that showed that Luetgert is possessed of a high temper when aroused. Bailiff Reid, the colored officer in whose custody the prisoner is placed, attempted to restrain his charge rom crossing to the witness stand with nis attorneys for the purpose of watchng Faber designate on the map the loeation where he asserted he saw Mrs. Luetgert enter the factory. Luetgert would not brook the restraint and turned on the bailiff with his face flushed with anger, and denounced the attempt to deprive him of what he considered his rights in the trial. Attorney Vincent a pealed to the court, and Judge Tutfil permitted the defendant to examine th naps in company with the attorneys. After Faber left the stand the court took iess at the afternoon session, is one of the few witnesses who gave testimony in English. He told of having heard the cry of a person, but was considerably enfused when cross-examined by Attorney Phalen as to his testimony at the oreliminary hearing. It was shown from the record of the hearing before the justice that Hengst had admitted his ignorance as to whether the cry was that of a human being or an animal. Yesterday he said he was quite positive it was the ry of a human being. Fritz Figel, who worked for Luetgert May 4, told how he had emptied a barrel of ashes in the alley, and Officer James Smith testified to having found particles of bone and two corset steels in the pile of debris where the ashes was emptied. Frederick A. Schuetz testifled as to forner quarrels between Luetgert and his wife, in which Luetgert had threatened to take her life. The witness is 71 years old and feeble. He is so deaf that Interpreter Liebig was compelled to stand close to his side in order to repeat the questions of the attorneys. The defense felt they had weakened his testimony to a large extent when they gained an adnission from the witness that he was 100 feet away from Luetgert at the time of the quarrel. An Architect's Hard Lines. Kingston, N. Y., Sept. 8.-John E. Walker, an architect and real estate agent, was found on the railroad track at Binnowater with his throat cut. His own razor was found near by covered with blood, and the wounds are believed to have been self-inflicted, although the man was unable to tell anything re garding his condition. He failed to colect money for plans for a church lately which led to despondency. Death is ex-pected from loss of blood.

HUNDREDS WILL DIE If They Attempt to Pass the Trails to the K'ondyke. Washington, Sept 8.—The treasury department makes public the following letter from a government official now in Alaska on the way to the gold fields, stating at the same time that the writer, whose name is withheld, has been 12 years in the service and is thoroughly reliable: 'I deem it my duty to write you on a subject that does not come lirectly within my line of duty. I have had a long talk with Mr. Ivey, collector ef customs for Alaska, who is at present at Skaguay, three miles below here. The Skaguay trail is the most largely used overland route, though by no means the best, to the Klondyke. Mr. Ivey informs me that there are now between tidewater and the lake something like 4000 persons and about 2000 horses. The commander of one of the vessels now at Skaguay states that 16 vessels are chartered to land cargoes at that place between now and Sept. 10, and that the number of passengers will average 200 to each vessel, making 3200 more people who will attempt to go in this fail. I have talked with some of the most experlenced traders and miners in this vicinity, and they are unanimous in the prediction that not over 20 per cent of this vast number will get through to Dawson before winter sets in. The other 80 per cent will be caught on the trail, and those who survive and get back to tide water will have to winter at Skaguay or return south. If the rush continues two weeks longer hundreds will inevitably perish on the trail, which is extremely dangerous after the first of "The situation is appalling, and it is impossible for me adequately to describe the mad rush for the gold fields. I had no conception of its immensity till I saw. I have talked with several men who have recently arrived here from the Klondyke, two of whom left there less than 30 days ago. They unanimously agree that while there is a rich gold field there the facts do not justify the present stampede, and they say there is bound to be much suffering and actual starvation. Provisions are already scarce and the prices of many articles absolutely prohibitory in the case of a man of ordinary means."

Passenger Trains In Head-On Collision In Kansas.

W. J. Bryan Assisted In Removing Bodies and Relieving Injured.

Emporia, Kan., Sept. 9.-Through a train employe's blunder a disaster neve equaled on the Santa Fe railroad oc curred three miles from here at 7:30 las evening. From a dozen to 15 lives, it is thought, were sacrificed, and the number of injured will be in excess of that

The fast mail going east and the Mex ico and California express, west-bound. cellided head on. The Mexico and Cali fernia express was pulled by two locomotives, and when they struck the ngine drawing the fast mail the boilers of all three exploded and tore a hole in the ground so deep that the smoking car of the west-bound train went in on top of the three engines and two mail cars balanced there without turning over. The passengers in the smoking car escaped through the windows.

The front end of this car was enveloped in a volume of stifling smoke and steam rushing up from the wreck below, and the rear door was jammed tight in the wreck of the car behind. The wreck caught fire from the engines and the cars n the hole, and the smoking cars were quickly burned to ashes. In climbing out of the smoking car several men fell through the rifts in the wreck below and it is impossible to tell whether they escaped or were burned to death. The west-bound train carried seven o eight coaches and its passengers in cluded many excursionists who had been to hear William J. Bryan speak at the county fair in Burlingame. Mr. Bryan nimself was on the train, but was riding in the rear Pullman. He states that nothing but a heavy jolt was experienced by the passengers in his coach. Mr. Bryan was one of the most energetic men in the crowd of rescuers wounded, and gave the greatest attention to their care. One poor fellow shake your hand and say God bless you. If you possibly can, Mr. Bryan, get me a drink of water.'

Mr. Bryan went into the fast mail car one end of which was burning, and came out with the drink of water which he gave to the suffering man. He brought out cushions for others of the injured and was everywhere present to ninister to the wants of the suffering. Of the seven or eight cars making up the Mexico and California express only the mail, baggage and express and smoking cars were destroyed. The coach following the smoker was badly splintered. There were not more than a dozen passengers on the fast mail, al in one coach, and while none of them was seriously injured, their shaking up was terrible. Every seat in the coach was torn from the floor and many floor planks came up with the seats. One man, John Sweeney, was thrown over three seats and through a window, but escaped with only scratches and bruises. The other cars of the fast mail train, a baggage and express, were totally wrecked. It is stated that the wreck was caused by a miscarriage of orders from the trainmaster. At Emporia the eastbound fast mail train received orders to pass the California express at Lange, seven miles east. Another order was sent to Lange for the California express to take the siding there, but this order was not delivered, and the westbound train passed on, the trainmen expecting to pass the fast mail at Emporia.

It is feared that nearly all of the seven mail clerks perished in the disaster, but so far only six bodies have been taken from the wreck. Those dead are: Jim Brennan, engineer, Topeka; Nate Hollister, fireman, Topeka; J. F. Souders Kansas City, express messenger, body almost consumed by fire; William Frisbey, engineer; R. A. Doran, Emporia postal clerk; J. T. Gonzales, fireman vestbound train; unknown tramp; J. G Bragman, Topeka; Benjamin Walters St. Joseph, Mo., a fireman on the west bound train, is missing.

Among the seriously injured are Claude Holliday, Lawrence, express messenger, legs broken and will die John Dagan, Topeka, face smashed; J. T. Butler, county attorney, Chase county hip broken; William F. Jones, Kansas Tity, one leg and arm broken; B. P Motik, Atchison, badly bruised; Philip Schuor, Kansas City, hip crushed; C. A. Van Vleit, brakeman, Kansas City, badly bruised; William Patrick, Kansas City leg and arm broken; C. D. Adams, City of Mexico, painfully bruised; Mike Sweeney, Gainesville, Tex., back hurt Murderer Harris' Condition. Boston, Sept. 9.-It was learned at the Massachusetts general hospital yester day that Carl Butters, one of the victims of the Concord tragedy of Saturday, is improving. John Harris, the murdeser, shows no change, and his condition remains the same. A special police officer from Concord is constantly at the bedside, and if Harris begins to regain his strength sufficiently a warrant will be taken out for his removal to jail at Cambridge to answer to the charge of murder.

"WHO THIS CARL SCHURZ IS." Sanator Gallinger Says He Is the Wardering Jew of Politics.

Salisbury Heights, N. H., Sept. 9 .-Senator Gallinger has addressed an open letter to Carl Schurz on the subject of the latter's past relations with the Republican party and his present attitude of independence. Among other things he says: "It is not for the purpose of gratifying your egotism, made boundless by the versatility with which you have espoused all shades of political opinions since first you landed in this country, nor because I feel that I am an adept in your methods of warfare, that I take notice of your ill-mannered and inconsequential letter. It were probably better to suffer you to lapse again into that political obscurity where your dis loyalty to Republican principles pre cipitated you than to gratify your yearn ing desire for notoriety by keeping you longer in public view, into whose pres ence you have seized this opportunity of obtruding yourself. But when you pose as the moral mentor of the Republican party, a party whose cause you have repeatedly betrayed, and the leading plank of whose platform you openly re pudiate in the advice you are so anxious to give its followers, I may be pardone if I recall to that generation who hav come to years of understanding sinc you left the stage of political action who this Carl Schurz is who so flippantly assumes to interpret Republican principle o those who, when he was coquetting with the enemy, were steadfast in sup port of its candidates and platform.

"Fortunately, there are those wh ere your contemporaries in public life who have left behind them their estimates of your character and fidelity to principle, whose opinions still have weight with the American people, and who are honored, though dead, while you were well-nigh forgotten, though living I call one of these to the witness stand to repeat what he said of you in a volume which for dispassionate and vivid characterization has not been excelled in con temporary political writing. With fairness unexcelled he wrote of his as-STAGE ATTRACTIONS sociates, and with such candor of hi chief opponent that even the friends of the latter could not take exception thereto. On p. 439 of vol. ii. of Blaine's 'Twenty Years in Congress' will be found a striking analysis of the charac ter of one who is always at home to con troversy, and whose frequent migra tions in party and residential associa tions have marked him as the wander ng Jew of American politics.

"Your excuse for writing to me is that I called you a traitor to the Republican party. I have refreshed my recolled tion of your connection with the Republi can party from the records, and hav nothing to retract from the charge made. In regard to civil service reform to which you incidentally refer in you. ommunication, I will say that as the Republican party gave to the country the civil service law, that party is It best interpreter. The Republican party s now charged with the responsibility of the enforcement of the laws. In that work it does not need the superservice able advice of a set of men who repudi least of all, the advice of one whom l contemporarfes and their successors r gard as a traitor to its interests. If the question of civil service reform ever be omes the paramount issue in our poli tics, the public will then learn how ut terly insincere this 'holier than tho element really is, of which you are a con picuous example, who, with selfsatis ying unction, never misses an oppor unity to say, like the pharisee of old We thank, thee, O Lord, that we are no

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

"Kid" McCoy Saved From a Possible Defeat.

of all who are this year called upon to pay Got the Worst of His Meeting With Thomas Ryan.

> Betting Was Largely In His Favor at the Star Because of His Reputation.

Syracuse, Sept. 9.—It was a good thing probably for the reputation of McCoy that his boxing contest with Thomas Ryan was not allowed to progress beyond the fifth round. He has had a sucussion of ring triumphs which have aused many to regard him, including nimself, as an early winner of the pugilistic championship. What the outcome stic championship. What the outcome might have been if the police had not interfered can be conjectured only. Apearances, however, favored the triumph of McCoy's opponent, whom the betting nen had doomed to a defeat. His fight ing qualities were respected, but the prevalent feeling among the 3500 persons ssembled in the Alhambra rink was that OFFICE. Kid" would win. He was the favorite n the betting, which ranged from $1000 to $700.

As a prelude to the principal event there was a "go" between Patrick Haley and Norman Selby, brother of McCoy. Haley proved to be nothing more than a bunching bag for the other boxer, who handled him as he pleased. Three Easy terms. Apply to THOMAS FENNO, he called the men off.

The Aihambra rink, where the fight was held, was crowded with more than 3500 people when the time for the Mc Coy-Ryan fight arrived. There was a taken in the bout. The odds were still $1000 to $700 in McCoy's favor when the

gong sounded. Round three-Ryan falls short, with a eft lead. They clinch and exchange lefts on body. Ryan's right eye is bleeding from a jab. McCoy rushes and Ryan falls to his knees, McCoy going over him. Both men laugh as they get up. Ryan sends a light left to face, the "Kid" sending left to face. They exchange hard lefts on jaw. Ryan pokes left to face. Ryan pokes right to wind twice as round closes, and his adherents cheer. Round four-Ryan leads left to face. McCoy comes back, swinging left to face. McCoy swings right and left to face, and Ryan slips in a rush. McCoy lets his right go before he can control it. There were cries of "foul," but none allowed. Ryan pokes left to face and gets a nasty one in the same place in return, and an other on the wind. Ryan rushes and they exchange rights on face. McCoy jabs a light left to face and Ryan rushes twice and sends his man to the ropes with great punches. The crowd cheered wildly. Round five-Ryan ducks a left lead and rushes, tripping to the ground. They mix matters in the midst of the ring vithout much damage. Ryan sends a right to the left of the jaw, and as they

MINERS' CONVENTION

Prospect Doubtful For Acceptance of the Compremise.

Opposition Displayed by the Illinois Delegates.

Their-Miners Are Practically Ignored by the Agreement.

Columbus, O., Sept. 9.-The inter-state miners' convention adjourned last evening until today without having taken a vote on the question of accepting or rejecting the proposed settlement of the strike. The prospects for the acceptance of the set lement are somewhat doubtful: SHERIFF'S in fact a canvas of the situation shows that a majority of the votes, unless some change should be brought about, would he cast against it.

The greater part of the afternoon sesgion of the convention was secret, the delegates listening to speeches from National President Ratchford and State Presidents Farms of Ohio, Knight of Indiana, Carson of Illinois and Dolan the exception of Carson, argued in favor gates very plainly that if the proposition were rejected the strike would fail utterly; that the contest could not be continued, as all resources had been exhausted. They advised that inasmuch as the strike had been precipitated in the Pittsburg district it was proper that it should be settled there.

President Carson of Illinois told the delegates just as plainly why he could not support the proposition for a settle ment. He said that the Illinois miners were practically ignored by it. The operators of his state had notified him Sales in Quincy promptly attended that they would not abide by any settlement made with the Pittsburg operators In many of the Illinois districts, more over, the miners had signed ironclad contracts which ran until next May. Should the Pittsburg and Ohio and In diana miners resume operations, the Illinois operators would be compelled to open their mines also, and the orly recourse the miners of the state would have would be a local strike for which they were unprepared. The best they could do would be to accept the operators' terms, and that would eventually force a reduction again in the other

> The most important action of the convention was in determining the basis of representation. Some of the delegates wanted a rule that no delegate should be allowed to cast more than six votes. This, if accepted, it is claimed, would have settled the question of the acceptance of the strike settlement very quickly. It was the sentiment of the con-Are the first th

Wedding of General Longstreet. Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 9.—The wedding of General James Longstreet to Miss Ellen 191 Dortch yesterday afternoon was one of the social events of the season. The ceremony was performed at the governor's mansion by Father Shadewell, Essisted by Father Basin. Judge J. B. Gaston of Gainesville acted as best man and Governor Atkinson gave the bride away. The mansion was decorated with palms and roses, and a number of prominent people witnessed the ceremony, including the close relatives of the contracting parties. The wedding presents were costly and extremely beautiful. To Europe In Two Days. Toronto, Sept. 9.—The much-talked-of Knapp roller boat was launched here yesterday afternoon in the presence of a great crowd of spectators. The vessel, which is cyclindrical, is 110 feet long and 25 feet in diameter. At each end are two stand for different stations and indicate that 60 horse power engines. Mr. Knapp, the designer, by means of the principle of rolling over the water, instead of ploughing through it, expects to shorten the time of a voyage across the Atlantic to two days. The vessel cost $10,000, and was built by George Goodwin, a wealthy contractor, and Postmaster General Mulock.

SHOT IN THE ABDOMEN.

Desident of Providence the Victim of an Unex-

The other Tuesday, in which Michael Leonard, a middle aged man, whose home is in Providence, was shot in the abdomen, and James A. Connick of this fown is in custody charged with the crime. Connick denies the shooting and claims that for each man are to be allowed on the he was at his home, which is not far from where Leonard was found, when the shots were fired.

J. H. Frazier and William Iron heard two shots and notified the police, who found Leonard lying upon the ground suffering from a bullet wound in the ab-domen. He was unable to tell who his assailant was.

Suspicion was turned against Connick from the fact that he had called at Frazier's house and had left only a short person, and it is thought that the shooting may have been the result of an attempt to waylay him. Connick refuses to mke any statement whatever in remaining to the effect of these disorders.

Ninety-eight per cent. of all cases of communition are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Thousands of communities have testified to their complete complete the statement of the second complete gard to the affair. The case will be heard next Monday.

Miners Told That They Had Been Sold Out by Their Leaders.

Pittsburg, Sept. 10.-Scenes closely reembling those enacted in Ireland were to have been witnessed on the De Armitt property at Clarksville and Plum Creek yesterday. The limit of 10 days was reached, and the work of carrying out the orders was begun. A frowning mob of women provided with all sorts of clubs greeted the deputies when they put in an Mocha and Java Coffee ppearance at the home of James Mc-

Very little resistance was offered at the time, but as soon as the house had been emptied and the furniture piled up in the middle of the street the women gathered in front of the house of the evicted family. Immediately after the deputies had gone the women forced an entrance to the house and carried the furniture back. Desperate resistance will be offered in case a second attempt is made to evict the family. Three hours later the 16 deputies arrived at Clarksville and evicted John Puke and his family. The same tactics were re sorted to there after the deputies had completed their werk. The furniture was carried into the house again, and Puke, his family and several friends have installed themselves and propose t make trouble for the deputies if they OPPOSITE THE FOUNTAIN, QUINCY. again attempt to evict them. Mrs. George Smith was shot, the bullet passing through her ear and lodging in the back of her very critical condition. An effort was made to extract the bullet, but it proved unsuccessful.

In another room of the family residence where the crime was committed, George Smith, her husband, a wealthy resident of the town, lay bound and gagged. It was his groans that first aroused the household. When liberated he said that he had been robbed by two masked men, who had taken all the money he had in the house, about $1360. Mr. Smith also told of hearing a report of a pistol in his wife's bedroom, adjoining the room in which he lay, and an immediate search resulted in discovering Mrs. Smith lying on the floor in a semiconscious condition, her head and shoulders covered with blood.

Smith later said he was sandbagged y the men as soon as he saw them in the ouse, and that when he had partly reovered from the effects of the blow they frightened him by threats of death into elling them where his money was. Dr. Van Horn reported that on his eturn home from a professional call about 3 o'clock he heard the report of a revolver which might have been in the direction of the Smith residence.

Columbus, O., Sept. 10.-The state convention of the national Democrats was not as large as was expected, the attendance being limited to probably 50 ielegates. Notwithstanding the committee appointed Wednesday night decided that it was advisable to nominat a state ticket, the opposition succeeded in having a plank slipped into the platform declaring inexpedient to do so. A ively discussion was precipitated by this coup of the minority, and it de veloped that the question involved was whether the party organization could be maintained more effectually by nominting or not nominating a state ticket. The majority seemed to think that a state ticket would give the party organization a prestige which it could not otherwise secure, and this plank of the platform was defeated by a decisive Convention. New York, Sept. 10.—The Democrat conference committee for Greater New York met last night at the Hoffman House and ratified the action of the sub committee. John C. Sheehan, the Tammany leads presided at the meeting. An application for a conference was received from the Democratic alliance and laid on th table, the committee holding that it had been simply appointed to fix a date an place for the convention, and had r power to deal with such matters. Th application, which was signed by Mos Oppenheimer, T. B. Wakeman and P. Collins, sought permission for the all ance to lay certain propositions which its members deemed essential as a basi for united action before the conference They were as follows: 1-That the convention reaffirm the Chicago platform. 2-That the party pledge itself to the policy of municipal ownership and operation of municipal franchises. 3-Direct employment in city work in stead of the contract system.

4-That the candidate for mayor be man whose character and acts in th past, as well as the stand he took during the last national campaign, will off the strongest guarantee for his faithful The tabling of the alliance's applica

School Statistics.

Some idea of the increase in number of school children may be obtained from the figures of Lynn. Thirty years ago Lynn had about the same number of school children as Quincy now has, the number in 1867 being 3933, and the number of teachers 72 From an address of Mayor Ramsdell a the dedication of a new school build ing on Tuesday we learn that th schools today are receiving under their roofs several hundred in excess 10,000 pupils, and 244 teachers are taking up the task of educating this army of young people. The total expenditure for the support of schools in 1867 was $58,176. The expenditure in the year 1897, when it is completed, will be $235,000. There are today 115 primary rooms in the city and 90 rooms devoted to grammar instruction. The school buildings of the city represent a money value not far from $1,000,000. There are today 42 schoolhouses in Lynn ranging in character from the little one-roomed structure, that the many roomed High school buildsize is now taxed to accommodate a plethora of pupils.

Tin Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Lavoie of Barry street were surprised Monday evening by a large number of their friends who remembered that it was their tenth wedding anniversary and that the day should not be permitted to pass unnoticed. Although surprised the host and hostess gave them a hearty welcome and the evening hours were passed in a pleasant manner with games, music, etc., including a wedding supper which was served under the direction of Mr. W. B. Dalpe. The guests bought a number of gifts with them and although it was a tin wedding the presents were not all of tin. During the evening the bride and groom of ten years ago were presented with a handsome Morris chair, the presentation speech being made by Miss Delia Delory, to which Mr. Lavoie responded.

L Road Assured.

It is now an assured fact that Boston will have an elevated road within three years. The Boston Elevated Railway Company made its deposit of $300,000 with the State treasurer Thursday. This is a forfeit deposit, under the act of this year, Sept. 13, of chapter 500, and after the payment of any execution, as provided, shall go to the Commonwealth if the company does not apply to the Boston mayor and board of aldermen for locations within sixty days from the deposit, and does not build not less than four, nor more than seven miles within three years, and the West End lease shall also be forfeited. The route has already been applied for, and obtained. Whatever income accrues from this deposit goes to the company.

Not all in Combine.

"Quincy Quarrymen ready. Will make things lively for the Vermont trust," is the heading in the Boston Herald of Saturday. Very likely the Quincy quarrymen would like to have the quarry combine a success, for they imagine it would give them more business, but the Times has pretty good authority for the statement that the Barre Quarry Co. will not succeed in its endeavors to control the quarries of Barre. The quarry of C. E. Tayntor & Co. isn't the only one outside the combine now .- Barre Times.

Braintree Tennis Tournament.

The second day's play in the Hitormiarnament began Thursday afternoon shortl after 2 o'clock. Four matches were down to b olayed and they resulted as follows: Merritt beat Kingsbury, 6-2, 6-3.

Howe beat Wells, 2-6, 6-1, 6-4. William Gallagher beat Davis Clapp, 6-2, 8-6 Patten beat Nixon, 6-0, 6-0.

By far the best match yet played in the tour nent was that of Howe vs. Wells. Mr. Wells is a Reading man, and is an exceedingly pretty brought out much applause from the spectators Although finally defeated, the impression left i the minds of those present was that with more relief practise on the Club court Mr. Wells would have proved a very strong factor in the final truggle for the cup.

The semi-finals will be played this afterno At 3 o'clock William Gallagher of Braintre will meet Frank Howie of Weymouth, and at o'clock Merritt will meet Patten. Fine tenni and a large attendance is expected.

Wet Groceries.

Quincy is carried back to old times by th rouble in Weymouth over a bill for grocerie for firemen. It seems that the groceries were liquor and the engineers of the fire departmen refuse point blank to approve it. Robbed Victims and Mail Sacks at Emporia.

Twelve Persons Known to Have Perished.

Possibility of Others Having Been Reduced to Ashes.

Emporia, Kan., Sept. 10.-The record of the head-end collision on the Santa Fe read through somebody's criminal arelessness in delivering train orders has been made up with approximate accuracy. It shows the death of 12, the injury of 14 and the absence of one who is believed to have been incinerated. Fear is expressed that there are others whose bodies were reduced to ashes in the New Dark Percales, 10 and 12 1-2 flame that developed after the frightful crash of locomotives. Three victims were burned so as not to be fit for identification

William Frisbee of Topeka, engineer of the eastbound fast mail, who was reported among the injured, expired vesterday, and Michael McGlade and R. A. Doran, postal clerks, were found to have jured. Nothing could be found of the resenger, J. F. C. Sauer. A handful of 4 and 6 Chestnut Street, - - Quincy. mains of the Wells-Fargo express mescharred bones taken from the wreck, however, is supposed to be his, as his watch was found near by.

Human ghouls delved in the wreckage and plundered the mail sacks which strewed the ground. One tried to snatch a diamond from the breast of an Emportia doctor, who, weak and nervous was creeping slowly out of the debris. He had strength enough left to hit the brute a blow in the face, which made him sneak away. Mail sacks were dragged into the corn fields and rifled. that practically all of the mail on both of the wrecked Santa Fe trains was destroyed. One pouch, however, for southern California, on the westbound train, is said to have been saved. This train, when it arrived, carried a large mail from New York city to California. Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona. No official report has been received here.

O'Sullivan In Lawrence.

Lawrence, Mass., Sept. 10.-Jeremiah T. O'Sullivan arrived at his home in this eity very unexpectedly last evening. The first that his folks heard of his homecoming was when a telephone message from the Union station at Boston was brought to the house. The message stated that he would be in at 6 o'clock, and wanted a hack to meet him at the Scarcely a soul, outside of the family, knew that Mr. O'Sullivan was expected, and he was able to make his way to the carriage without difficulty. Arriving home, he talked with his folks for a little while and then retired. He was very much tired out, having ridden from Woodstock, Vt., where he had been recuperating, to this city, a distance of over 200 miles. His folks had received no intimation that he intended to return yesterday until they received the telephone message, as all his telegrams had spoken as if he would not return in any event before next week.

When the press correspondent heard of the return of the friend of the plain people he started to see the boy again, but he arrived there too late, for Mr. O'Sullivan had gone to bed and was asleep. His mother would not disturb him under any circumstances, even had the reporter requested it. Mrs. O'Sullivan said that her son looked as well as could be expected, considering what he had gone through during the past

Speedy Work on Wheels. Waterbury, Conn., Sept. 10.-Three records were broken at the national circuit bicycle race meet under the auspices of the Waterbury Wheel club. The world's tandem record of 1:56 3-5 made by Casey and Eckberg at Providence recently, was lowered one second by E. C. Hausman and George H. Collett of New Haven, and the mile state record of 1:47 3-5, made by Willie Windle paced by a "quint" at Charter Oak park Hartford, Oct. 3, 1895, had three-fifths of second clipped off of it by Floyd Mac-Farland of San Jose. A new state record in the two-thirds mile professional was likewise made by C. R. Newton of Stafford Springs, who made it in 1:231/2, low ering the previous record 2% seconds.

Engineers Insolvent. London, Sept. 10 .- The Times this norning gives prominence to a letter from a correspondent, who charges the stand for different stations and indicate that | Amalgamated Society of Engineers with being virtually insolvent. Commenting editorially upon this letter, it reproaches the society with plunging the whole country into an industrial war, and calls upon it to give answer to the charge of insolvency instead of appealing for a loan to continue a disastrous struggle.

MRS. LUETGE T'S REMAINS. What the Prosecution Will Prove With Bone, Flesh aid Hair

Chicago, Sept. 10.-Both the morning and afternoon sessions of court in the trial of Adolph L. Luetgert were consumed in the taking of expert testimony. Through chemical analysis the state must establish not only the possibility of a human body being dissolved by the action of caustic potash heated to the boiling point, but also the fact that the bits of bones, hair and flesh and the scrapings of pinkish brown material from the interior of the vat in the saus age factory are portions of the body of a human being. If they can demonstrate these two propositions beyond a reasonable doubt, one of the most important points of their case will have been ac omplished. By circumstantial evidence they have endeavored to prove that Luetgert was anxious to rid himself of his wife, and that he enticed her to his factory on the evening of May 1 By expert testimony they expect to prove that Mrs. Luetgert's remains are now represented by the bits of bones, flesh and hair. Two experts have been called, Dr.

Charles B. Gibson and Professor Mark De la Fontaine. Dr. Gibson, whose direct examination was begun Wednesday, ofered further testimony for the state vesterday and was turned over to the detense for cross-examination.

National League.

At Boston-Sudhoff, who pitched for St. Louis yesterday, made an excellent impression, but had wretched support. In the first inning Cross made a most peculiar slide to avoid being touched out between bases when he had no possible avenue of escape, and in doing so was stopped by Allen and spiked so severely that he had to get out of the game and Houseman succeeded him. Turner and Grady did the best work for the visitors. The general, all around play of Boston was excellent, Collins being easily the star With the game 11 to 6, Stivetts for some unknown reason was taken out of the box in the eighth and Nichols substi-

for those who will go today and get a package of GRAIN-O. It takes the place of coffee at about ¾ the cost. It is a food drink, full of health, and can be given to the children as well as the adult with a great benefit. It is made of pure grains and looks and tastes like the finest grades of Mocha or Java coffee. It satisfies everyone. A cup of Grain-O is better for the system than a tonic, because its benefit is permanent. What coffee breaks down Grain-O builds up. Ask your grocer for Grain-O. 15c and 25c.

The heat, which on Thursday, was very severe indeed, seemed to be more intense if anything, and the endurance of both men was severely tried.

Mr. Stanwood Hollis of Braintree was the referee of the match, which lasted over two hours and a half and will rank as one of the longest and hardly contested tennis contests seen here for some time. The first set was a deuce one, and after a severe struggle went to Gallagher 7-5. Play on the part of both men was exceedingly fine. In the second set Howe played with much brilliancy and secured a big lead. Gallagher took a great brace in the latter part of the set and won three games but could not save the set which went to Howe, 6-3.

Both men now retired to the dressing tent for rest and refreshments.

Gallagher men looked exceedingly gloomy, as it seemed as though Howe pesaukee, N. H., and will be at the would be a winner. Jim at delivery of the lines over the dead body. once decided to respond to the advertisement, and 1 o'clock found him standing, with a large crowd of applicants, outside of the stage door of the Adelphi theater.

Jim, by dint of skillful elbowing, made his way within close proximity of the stage door and set about his investigations.

"What's the job?" he inquired of a tall, cadaverous looking individual who stood next to him.

"There's going to be a big show of 'Julius Cæsar.' All stars in the cast and a big gang of supers for the Roman mob," replied the man.

Jim, not being well versed in Shakespeare, obtained very little information from this reply.

"A mob!" said Jim. "What's the pay? A black eye?" The man addressed glanced at Jim and replied: "I guess you've never trod the boards, have you? Don't you know that 'Julius Cæsar' is a tragedy, and that there's a big mob at his funeral? We're wanted as chief mourners." "Not a particularly cheerful occupation," replied Jim.

He would have continued his inquiries, but was cut short by the open-25 in line, among the first of whom was Jim.

As Jim had seen very little of a theater, even as a spectator, the scene now presented to him was most bewildering. He was admiring the decoration of a drawing room scene, when he was rudely interrupted by a poke in the back from a tree which the stage hands were shifting.

The appearance of the stage manager just then put an end to any further investigation on Jim's part. The appli- Roman mob, that a few moments becants were assembled in line while the manager ran his experienced eye over them. Something in Jim Eccles' figure and bearing seemed to attract him and. calling his assistant to his side, he said:

"Put this man in for First Citizen. Holbrook's sick and won't be able to go on, and there's no time to hunt around. This man's about his size, so the costume will go all right.'

So saying, he thrust a book into the hands of the much astonished Jim, telling him to get the lines marked "First Citizen" and to be on hand the following morning for the rehearsal.

Jim, overcome by this sudden greatness thrust upon him, endeavored to express his ignorance of the duties of the First Citizen, but the manager rushed away, leaving the selection of the other citizens to his assistant. Jim was about to follow him, but felt himself pulled by the sleeve and, turning, found it was the man whom he had questioned outside the theater, who also had a playbook in his possession.

Here! This is all Greek to me. What shall I do?" said Jim.

"Sh! Don't give it away that you're no actor," said the man cautiously. "I'll put you through all right. You're in luck to get a speaking job.

The novelty of his situation moved Jim to make the most of what chance had thrown in his way, and he decided that he would essay the part of First Citizen and endeavor to prove himself equal to this greatness thrust upon

A half hour before the rise of the curtain found Jim clad in the costume of a citizen of Rome. Senators, triumvir, zitizens and conspirators were mingling together, telling stories and cracking jokes, while Julius Cæsar walked arm in arm with his most deadly enemy, the lean and hungry Cassins.

Jim managed to get at the peephole in the curtain, through which he caught a glimpse of his sweetheart, whose face wore a look of expectancy and pride in anticipation of the First Citizen's debut.

Almost before Jim realized it the performance had begun. It was a magnificent cast, and every effort on the "Wanted.—Twenty-five tall and well | part of the manager or performers was received with enthusiasm.

He could scarcely wait for his cue, but it came at last. Antony had told of Cæsar's will, his bequests to the city, his love for the people, finishing with the words: "Here was a Cæsar! When comes there such another?" Jim, wild with excitement, caught the cue, and, jumping upon the steps above the crowd, cried: "Never! Never! Come! Away! We'll burn this body in the holy place and from the audience. "Fire! Fire!" For a moment the stillness of death reigned over the petrified spectators, with something akin to pity in his look only to be followed by a wild pandemonium. It had not been a cry of 'wolf.'' Already a dense smoke was filling the theater, and it was evident to all the house was on fire.

Luckily those occupying seats in the orchestra escaped without difficulty, but not so fortunate were those who had occupied seats in the balcony. There every exit was cut off. The stair ing of the stage door to admit the first could not be reached, owing to the dense, suffocating smoke.

Jim, hearing the cries of "Fire!" that had followed his appeal to the mob, realized at once the danger. He could see Polly, her face blanched with terror, appealing to him to come to her

Rushing from the stage, he sought the side entrance to the balcony, but was driven back by the flames, which were making rapid progress. He returned to the stage in time to find the fore was mad with frenzy, now wild with fear. He would appeal to them once more.

"For God's sake, men, don't leave these people in the balconies to die. Here, quick! Lend a hand, some of you!" And Jim rushed for the steps leading to the tribunal. In a second they were torn from their fastenings and borne by the men to a place beneath the balcony, where they might afford a means of de-

In vain did Jim look for Polly in the crowd. Could she have been overcome by the heat and smoke? With the energy of despair he clambered up the steps, fighting his way against the struggling stream of humanity that poured down against him and almost overbore him. Nearly suffocated with smoke, he groped his way to the place where he had last seen his sweetheart. There he found her, lying in the aisle, insensible. Snatching the lifeless form of the girl in his arms, he struggled back to the steps, only to find they had collapsed under the weight of the crowd. He leaned over the balcony, but so dense was the smoke he could see nothing.

"Jump for the net!" he heard some one call to him, and, looking closer, he could discern men standing beneath the balcony with something stretched between them.

"God help you, Polly. It's our only Accordingly the two aspirants for chance." And as he spoke he raised her hold loosened and his burden fell from back, overcome by the smoke.

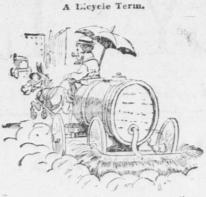

At the Lafayette hospital the next morning there were many inquiries for the First Citizen, and Jim answered them as best he could, though the effort cost him many a twinge of pain. Over his head hung the torn and scorched remnants of the tunic in which he had led the mob to save many a life. At his side sat Polly, reading to him a proposition from the manager of the Adelphi theater for a permanent engagement as First Citizen.-Boston

Popic For the Week Beginning Sept. 12. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—Bible directions for practical life.— Eph. vi, 1-9. (A memory meeting suggested.) In this passage the apostle refers to the duties incumbent upon four classes of people, which include most of the duties of every day life. These are the duties of children, of parents, of servants and of masters.

1. The duties of children to parents, verses 1-3. In these verses the duties of thildren to parents are set forth with the reasons for so doing. 1. The first duty is obedience-"Children, obey your parents in the Lord." 2. The second duty is honor—'Honor thy father and thy mother." The reasons given are: (1) It is right. (2) It is the first of the commandments with promise. (3) It carries with it the promise of prosperity and of long life. Children owe honor and obedience to parents. This commandment cannot be too much emphasized today. The commandment is largely reversed today, and children are demanding obedience from parents. This is contrary to right and justice and to the direct command of God. The scripture constantly enforces the precept, "Honor thy father and thy mother," and in obeying parents children obey God, and in disobeying parents they disobey God. 2. The daties of parents to children, verse 4. "And ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath, but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord." The duties of parents are here expressed both negatively and pos-Willy-I bet we's doin what isn't itively. 1. Parents are not to provoke their children to wrath. 2. They are to bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. These are the two duties of parents to children. The child nature is like a very delicate instrument. It may be played upon in such a way as to make life sweet and pleasant and harmonious, or harsh and discordant. Our children belong to God. They are precious gifts from God. We should train them up for Him. His command is, "Bring up this child for Me, and I will pay thee wages." 3. The duties of servants to masters, verses 5-7. These duties are summed up in the word obedience. "Servants, be obedient to them that are your masters in the flesh." This obedience is to be rendered (1) with fear and trembling; (2) as unto Christ and not unto men; (3) not with eye service, to please men. (4) but as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart. These characteristics should be seen in the work of all those who labor for others.

4. The duties of masters to servants. Masters are to do the same thing -that is, do to the servants as they know. They hain't so warm in Greater | would have them do to them. They are York. I guess we kin go the gait with not to threaten. If tempted to grind them out here in Swampville even if them down, to defraud or to make life duck pants are all the style. - Yellow | bitter, they are to remember that One is their Master in heaven, who will hold them responsible. God will hold all men who have had others employed for the way in which they treat them. God will hold us all responsible for the performance of our duties.

Getting Away From God's Purpose. There is no success in all this world which is so to be dreaded as the success of getting away from God's purpose for us. Every now and then people say they are getting along in life, everything is running smoothly, money is coming in, and they write over all these things, "This is success." But until they have found God's plan for their lives the more success they have the more failure they have brought upon llash Between the Sheriff's Posse and a Band of Strikers.

REFUSED TO BE COUNSELLED.

Insistence Leads to the Command to the Deputies to Fire, With Appalling Results-Miners Fall Like Ninepins, Dead or Wounded-The Militia Called Out.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 11.-Near Latimer has occurred the most serious encounter Juring the strike between the law as represented by the sheriff and the striking miners. There have been brushes heretofore in the effort of the men to transcend the legal barriers erected on the highways by judges in injunction proceedings on petition of the operators. but aside from slight wounds little harm befell the contending forces. The crisis in the marching movement was reached when the sheriff gave the signal to his deputies to use their guns. This they did ithout hesitation, and as a consequence he entire district given up to mining is in a state of mind that bodes serious trouble. How many fell beneath the deadly discharge, which took place at close quarters, and how many were inured cannot be told with any degree of ecuracy. Rough estimates place the number as high as 15 who will do no more mining, and 40 who were wounded. Some of those know for a certainty to have suffered death for a variously regarded principle are: Michael Chesloii. Frank Cheka, Stephen Horrick and George Kulick of Harwood; John Staniska of Crystal Ridge.

Some of those known to be dead are: Mike Chesloll, Harwood; Frank Cheka, Harwood; John Staniska, Crystal Ridge; George Kulick, Harwood; Steve Horrick, Harwood.

The strikers left Hazleton at 3:30 o'clock, announcing their intention to go to Latimer. As soon as this became known, a band of deputies boarded a trolley car and went across the mountain to where the conflict followed After reaching Latimer they left the car and formed into three companies under Thomas Hall, E. A. Hess and Samuel B. Price. They drew up in line at the edge of the village, with a fence and a line of houses in their rear. Sheriff Martin was in command, and he walked up and down in front of the line until the trikers approached. They were seen oming acress the ridge, and Martin vent out to meet them. The men drew up sullenly and listened in silence until ne once more read the riot act. This inished, a low muttering arose among the foreigners, and there was a slight movement forward. Perceiving this, the sheriff stepped toward them, and in a determined tone forbade the advance Someone struck the sheriff, and the next moment there was a command to the deputies to fire.

The guns of the deputies instantly belched forth a terrible volley. The report seemed to shake the very mountains, and a roar of dismay went up from the people. The strikers were taken entirely by surprise, and as the men toppled and fell over each other thoso who remained unhurt stampeded. The men went down before the storm of bullets like ten-pins, and the groans of the dying and of the wounded filled the air.

seemed to be terror-stricken at the deadly execution of their guns and, seeing the living strikers fleeing like wild men and others dropping to the earth, they went to the aid of the unfortunates whom they had brought down. people of Latimer rushed pell-mell to he scene, but the screams of the wounded drowned the cries of the sympathizing and half crazed inhabitants.

A reporter who afterwards reached the scene found the road leading to Latmer filled with groups of frightened Hungarians. Some surrounded dying comrades, and others, fearful of pursuit, clung to the newcomer and begged his protection. At Farley's hotel there were two men lying on the porch. Both had been shot in the head, and one had three bullets in him. His groans and on company property or on the public appeals for a doctor were heartrending. All along the road the wounded men who were able to leave the scene of battle scattered themselves and sough the shade of the trees for protection, but there was no need of that then. Approaching the place where the shooting occurred, people were met wringing their hands and bemoaning the catastrophe. They could not talk intelligently, and it was with the greatest difficulty that information could be gleaned.

Along the bank of the trolley road men lay in every position, some dead. others dying. Three bodies, face downward, lay along the incline, and three others were but a short distance away. On the other side of the road as many more bodies lay. The schoolhouse was transformed into a temporary hospital, and some of the wounded were taken there. The colliery ambulance was summoned to the place as soon as possible and immediately upon its arrival two men, both shot through the legs, were loaded into the wagon. All along the hillside wounded men were found-on Many others who had been carried to a distance could not be found. As soon as the news of the shooting reached Hazleton there was conster-Lehigh Traction company immediately roborating the sheriff's story and sug Latimer line, and doctors and clergymen be summoned to the sheriff's relief. people to Latimer was so great that General Stewart and General Cobin. responded promptly. STRIKERS' FAULT.

'hat Is What the Sheriff Na ntained When Interviewed.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 11.-When Sheriff Martin arrived home he was gool and collected. He was met at the lepot by his legal adviser. The two got into a cab and drove to the courtaouse, where they were closeted together or some time. -The sheriff was at first eluctant to s: whether he had given he command to fire, but afterwards adnitted that he had.

The sheriff's detailed statement is as "I heard early in the mornng that the strikers were going to march o the breaker at Latimer and compel the men there to quit work. I resolved to intercept them and if possible prevent hem from reaching the breaker. One of my deputies told me that the strikers would probably be heavily armed. I got my deputies, 70 in number, to meet at a certain place. They were all armed. told them to kep cool under all cir-"The trouble began at 3 o'clock.

met the marching column. I halted them and read the proclamation. They efused to pay any attention and started to resume their march. Then I alled to the leader to stop. He ignored ny order. I then attempted to arrest The strikers then closed in on They acted very viciously, reviling and kicking me, knocking me down and trampling upon me. I called upon my eputies to aid me, and they did so, but ney were anable to accomplish much.

I realized that something had to be one at once, or I would be killed. I called to the deputies to discharge their earms into the air over the heads o strikers, as it might probably frighten them. It was done at once, but It had no effect whatever on the infuriated foreigners, who used me so much fiercer-more like wild beasts than human beings. The strikers then made a still bolder move and endeavored to suround my entire force of deputies. fully realized that the foreigners were a lesperate lot and valued life at a very small figure. I also saw that parleying ith such a gang of infuriated men was ntirely out of the question, as they were teo excited to listen to reason, and that myself and deputtes would be killed if we were not rescued, or if we did not de end ourselves. I then called upon the eputies to defend themselves and shoot, if they must, to protect their lives or to protect the property that they had been sent to guard from being demolished.

"The next second there were a few cattered shots fired into the infuriated oreigners, and a moment later the entire force of deputies discharged a solid volley into the crowd. I hated to give the command to shoot and was awfully sorry that I was compelled to do so. I was there to do my duty, and I did it as best I knew how and asemy conscience dictated, as the strikers were violating the laws of the commonwealth and flatly refused to obey the proclamation that I read to them. They instead insisted on doing violence and disobeying

"The scene after the shooting was simply terrible, and I would have willingly not had it occur: but as a public official I was there to see that the law was obeyed and lived up to, and I merely did my duty. Some of the foreigners fell over dead and others badly wounded; some were rushing about hither and thither seeking a place where they would be shielded from any more shots; others were aiding their wounded companions places of safety, while here and there could be seen men carrying away some one who was badly injured or else dead. The entire crowd of foreigners, as soon as the volley had been fired by my deputies, turned and started to retreat. They rushed off in all directions as fast as they could run, taking as many of their dead and wounded with them as they were able to carry during their hurried retreat. The excitement at the time was simply terrible, and I would not care to ever go through another ordeal of the same kind for a fortune.'

In another interview Sheriff Martin The excitement that followed was said he first met the marching miners at west Hazleton. He asked them where they were going, and they replied, "We are going to Latimer to get the men out there." Then the sheriff and 70 deputies. armed with winchesters and revolvers boarded a trolley car for Latimer, and marching down the public road, headed off the marching columns of Poles and Hungarians. According to Martin's story, when the strikers reached the line of deputies he ordered them to halt and disperse. One of the Hungarians said in broken English: "Go to hell, you ' Martin then attempted to arrest the man who made the remark and, as he claims, was fiercely assaulted by the man's friends. Then the firing began. Mr. Martin was asked during the interview "When you met the men were they

He replied: "No, they were on the public road." "Were they marching toward Latimer?

"Had they up to that time committed any overt act or acted otherwise than peaceable?

Talking incessantly, in a language of which I could understand nothing but "sahib" (Mr.) and "mem sahib" (Mrs.), he juggled three little cups with lightning rapidity. Presently a fuzzy ball appeared under one of them. It disappeared and turned up under another cup. Then there was not one ball, but there were three, six, ten. Then they disappeared again as mysteriously as they had come. #### The Milton Location.

There will probably be quite a contest at Milton as to which street railway company shall be granted a location between Mattapan and East Milton, the Quincy & Boston or the Hyde Park company.

The Ledger stated Friday that the Quincy & Boston did not want the location. This statement, however, needs qualifying, for the Quincy & Boston company do want the location, but not if they are obliged to assume the land damages, which would amount to a number of thousand dollars, if the tracks were placed on a reserved space on the side of the street.

The Quincy & Boston street railway company petitioned the Selectmen of Milton for a location from East Milton to Mattapan two years ago, and the petition has been hanging fire ever since, owing to complications about land damages above referred to and other matters. This year's board of Selectmen are said to be in favor of a street railway and the people have been looking forward to having a road built. While the petition of the Quincy & Boston has been hanging fire a number of the local moneyed men have entered the field headed by a Mr. Morse of Hyde Park, and the question a deep interest in their work. to be decided by the town is, which mpany shall be granted the location.

At the meeting of the Board of Selectmen Friday night a hearing was given to the citizens who had petitioned that a location be granted for street railway tracks. There was quite a number of citizens present as well as representatives of the Quincy & Boston street railway and the Hyde Park company. There was no remonstrance heard at this meeting and the Selectmen were given to understand that the companies would come to an understanding with each other so that there will be no squabble.

The placing of the tracks in a re served space upon private land has been practically abandoned and the reserved space will therefore be in the existing streets.

meeting, and will not be until the street railway has a survey of the route made and a plan drawn. This will be done immediately and then the special town meeting will be called.

Gas Tank Exploded.

Shortly after 5 o'clock Friday a gas tank in the office of C. T. Sherman, the dentist, exploded with a loud report tearing a hole through the floor and sending a shower of plastering into the Granite Clothing store below.

The tank, which was a new one, was in Dr. Sherman's back room and no reason can be assigned for the explosion, unless it was the heat, although Mr. Sherman says he never heard of one exploding before.

Fortunately no one was in the room at the time or there would have been : more serious result.

M. yesterday and narrowly escaped fatal injuries. Mr. Briggs was engaged in fitting on the coping and attempted to descend from one staging to another, when the lower one gave way beneath his weight. His heel caught in the gutter which threw him suddenly backwards and made it impossible for him to grasp anything to save himself from falling to the ground. He struck on his back and side, a plank falling upon his breast.

Dr. Record was immediately summond, but as soon as the injured man recovered sufficiently to speak he sent for Dr. Adams, his family physician who quickly responded. Mr. O'Daniel, the fishman, who happened along at the time, kindly conveyed Mr. Briggs to his home.

Upon examination it was found that no bones were broken which was feared at first, though internal injuries were manifest, as he complained of some pains in the region of the kidneys. It was miraculous that the man was not instantly killed.

Confidence In New Orleans.

New Orleans, Sept. 11.—The announce ment of 12 suspicious cases on one square in the city and that three cases had dej 279 38 veloped since the death of a young lady who had come from Ocean Springs created alarm early in the day, but this was allayed when the facts became known. It developed that a man had died as the result of excessive dissapation instead of yellow fever, as reported, in the very squarein which the suspicious cases had been found. At nightfall all j 289 54 reports received by Dr. Olliphant were so favorable that renewed confidence was infused in the officials of the board.

Histories Condemned. Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 11.—The national encampment of the Sons of Veterans yesterday afternoon took up for consideration the question of history as j 271 40 taught in the public schools. A resolution proposed by Past Commander Armstrong of Indiana was unanimously adopted, declaring that there is necessity for reform of a radical nature in the histories taught, to the end that the story of the rebellion may be related j 281 52 without prejudice in favor of the South. Most Unique Contest of the Age - $200.00 Paid for Correct Lists made by Supplying Missing Letters in Places of Dashes - No Lottery - Popular Plan of Education — Read All the Particulars.

In the United States four times as much money is expended for education as for the military. Brain is better than brawn. By our educational facilities we have become a great nation. We, the publishers of Woman's World and Jenness Miller Monthly, have done much toward the cause of education in many ways, but now we offer you an opportunity to display your knowledge and receive most generous payment for a little study. The done much toward the cause of education in many ways, and the cause of education in many ways, payment for a little study. The display your knowledge and receive most generous payment for a little study. The object of this contest is to give an impetus to many dormant minds to awaken and think; also we expect by this competition of brains to extend the circulation of Woman's World and Jenness Miller Monthly to such a size that we shall be able to charge double the present rate for advertising in our columns. By this plan of increasing the number of subscriptions and receiving more money from advertisers of soaps, pianos, medicines, books, baking powders jewelry, etc., we shall add $50,000 a year to our income, and with this mathematical deduction before us, we have decided to operate this most remarkable "missing letters" contest.

There are thirty words in this schedule, from each of which letters have been omitted and their places have been supplied by dashes. To fill in the blank spaces and get the names properly you must have some knowledge of geography and history. We want you to spell out as many words as you can, then send to us with 25 cents to pay for a three months subscription to Woman's World. For correct lists we shall give $200.00 in cash. If more than one person sends a full, correct list, the money will be awarded to the fifty best list in appearance. Also, if your list contains twenty or more correct words, we shall send you a beautiful Egeria Diamond Scarf Pin (for lady or gentleman), the regular price of which is $2.25 price and the send you are positively certain of the $2.25 price and the send you are positively certain of the $2.25 price and the send you are positively certain of the $2.25 price and the send you are positively certain of the $2.25 price and the send you are positively certain of the $2.25 price and the send you are positively certain of the $2.25 price and the send you are positively certain of the $2.25 price and the send you are positively certain of the $2.25 price and the send you are positively certain of the $2.25 price and the send you are positively certain of the $2.25 price and the send you are positively certain of the $2.25 price and the send you are youngless. $2.25. #### BROCKTON JUBILANT. Another Step Taken Toward the Champ onship

In a Sensational Game.

Brockton, Mass., Sept. 11.-Brockton is jubilant over the baseball situation. The home team made it seven straight from New Bedford yesterday afternoon, and with the news that Newport had been goose-egged by Fall River, the fans had much to glory in. Yesterday's game was attended by serious results to two hard-working, conscientious players, and it was but a short time after they had been hurt that the game was called on account of further injury to the visiting players, and forfeited to Brockton.

In the fifth Magoon knocked a high foul fly for which Callopy and Wiley started. They got under the ball at the same time and collided heavily. Callopy was the first to rise with the assistance of the other players, and two doctors were rushed on the field. He was bleeding freely from a severe cut on the head over the temple. He was obliged to quit the game. Wiley had two front teeth knocked out and another broken. He was, besides, rudely shaken and unfit to continue. The game was delayed a considerable time while the injured players were being treated and their places filled. The visitors were helpless without them.

When going on the field for the openng of the seventh, Glen fell and badly sprained his ankle at second base. Another long wait followed, but the player's ankle was so painful that he could not step on it, and Manager McDermott Speculative interest in and the strength of wool remain features of that market Cotton fabrics have improved their position in view of increased demand and cheaper raw material. There has been a falling off in general trade in portions of Texas, due in part to the unwillingness of planters to sell cotton at its present price, but at central western points, notably Chicago and St. Louis, business has been quite active. Western iron and steel mills are practically independent of buyers for the remainder of the calendar vear.

There is only a slight falling off, 2 per ent, in the volume of bank clearings total amounting to $1,106,000,000, notwithstanding Monday was observed as a holiday. In the like week one, two and three and four years ago clearings were much smaller than this week, the gain being 46 per cent over 1896, 11 per cent over 1895, 30 per cent over 1894, and o per cent over the week in 1893. Contrasted with like clearings in 1892, this week's aggregate is less than 2 per cent smaller, but it is nearly 6 per cent larger than the week in 1891, and only one-half of 1 per cent smaller than the like total

The winter has set in at the mining ity of the frozen north, and two great stores of the place have closed their ioors, for they have nothing to sell. The business week has been marked by Those who have been seeking gold now must seek for food or starve. While there may be a tendency to exaggerate the actual condition of affairs, there can be no question that famine threatens the adventurous men and women who made their way to the Klondyke.

Hundreds of unruly spirits are flocking to Dawson. Threats of violence are being made on every side. Indignation meetings, heavy with muttered hreats of vengeance, are held at St. Michaels by those who have little hopes of advancing up the river and less of getting back to civilization.. The first signs of winter are apparent on the Yukon, which is beginning to freeze, and in a few weeks will be closed. Enormous prices are now being paid for food at Dawson, and it is impossible that more than four vessels with provisions can reach Dawson before the river is a mass

On the Cleveland there are 38 passengers, men women and children, who have come from Dawson City. There are few miners in this party that are able to tell of prosperity, though most of them wish to exaggerate their possessions. Captain Hall, master of the Cleveland, says that he has $100,000 in his safe. The purser believes that he can account for $150,000 on board.

The Cleveland has some of the passengers of the P. B. Wear on board. What Inventors Are Doing For he is not the very best, of the portrayers of the Bicycle.

NEW BRAKE WORKED BY COASTERS

Contrivance For Detecting Mechanical Weaknesses - New Armor For Pneumatic Tires - California Cycle Clubs. Lights and the Law In England.

The bicycle inventor continues to attract attention on account of the novelty if not always the utility of his inventions. Among the latest is a contrivance to test the stability of a bicycle and bring to light any weak spot in chain, pedal or other part. Without the aid of something of this sort the most skilled machinist cannot always locate a defect, and an accident at a critical moment is often the first notice of a defect. The inventor of this testing. machine claims that it will instantly discover any weak rivet in a chain or a loose key or flaw in any part of the driving gear, spokes, rims, tires or wheels of a bicycle. The machine is homemade and unpatented. It looks something like a home OUINCY. trainer, and consists of a stand of wood, to which is belted a brace for supporting the bicycle. EDWARD J. HENLEY.

One of Our Best Actors Who Has Temporarily Abandoned the Stage. E. J. Henley is one of the best, if indeed peculiar line of work. His services are constantly in demand at enormous remunera A weighted lever pivoted on a tion, he is intensely popular with the proession and the outside world, he has a large personal following, and yet he has practically abandoned the stage, at least for the time being, in order to give his attention and time to a dramatic school, or "actor factory," as the veterans delight to speak of all enterprises of this sort. This departure of Henley is really to be regretted, not because he is not well able to teach the amateur pretty much there all there is to be learned about stage work, but because his defection from the regular ranks is a distinct loss to the theater of this country

Henley is a peculiar individual in many respects, and his latest departure illustrates this point very forcibly. Once he retired temporarily from the stage in order to direct the fortunes of a roof garden vaudeville entertainment in St. Louis, and he has for years been doing just those things which no one would have imagined that he would do. It is pretty much the same way with Henley's acting. He has his own unique conception of every part intrusted to him, and he carries it out on the stage without any reference to tradition This, in fact, is one of the greatest charms of his work, for he is seldom wrong, and, whether wrong or right, his performance is invariably so forceful and convincing that it affords pleasure to the uditor, even though the latter take exception to the player's conception of the Henley had really had a great deal of experience before he appeared, about six years ago, in a very bad piece at the Union Square theater, New York, the wrestler, Muldoon, being one of the bright particular features of the production. Julia Arthur played the leading female character, and the next morning the papers were full of praise for the magnificent work of Henley and Miss Arthur. Many of their friends are unwilling to admit it, but it is dered effective by pressing down on the coasters with the feet. He finally left it, with a note, stating that he was in needy circumstances. Forrest read the note and took the wrapping from the picture. It proved to be a painting of himself as Spartacus. Forrest gazed upon it a moment and then ejaculated to the clerk: "Good heavens! Give him $10. If he is as poor as his picture, he must be on the point of starvation!

NEW ATHLETIC COSTUME.

Knickerbockers Likely to Supersede the Ancient Turner Trousers.

The turners have for three or four years been considering the adoption of a more convenient costume. The present style of dress has been in existence since the formation of the organization by Father Jahn at Berlin, Germany, in 1810. It consists of long, gray, tight fitting trousers, strapped underneath the foot, and a gray shirt and cap of the same color. The goods in each portion of the garment are of heavy material. For some time at the national turnfests, which are held every four years, it has been observed that much better results could be obtained by modernizing the uniform to comport with the advanced ideas in athletics-especially outdoor sports. Knickerbockers were suggested. The teachers of the various societies throughout the country were the first to appreciate this. Whenever they broached appreciate this. Whenever they broached the subject in an informal way before their malign influence the most amiable and their several boards the suggestion was their several boards the suggestion was cried down by the older members of the wife that promised to be a cheerful, capable organization. The teachers were accused and willing helpmate surprises her husband of being too progressive and of imitating the American idea of athletic costume The reform movement has continued to gain in strength, however, until it is probable that the change will be adopted at the next annual turnfest, which is to be held in San Francisco. The proposed new s costume will consist of light gray knickerbockers, loose and fastened below the knee; blue stockings, cream colored shirt, loose, with long sleeves; black necktie, gray hat, black shoes, and red belt. Gray jackets will be worn on parade. In individual contests the athlete will be permitted to wear a sleeveless shirt. In bicycle

For the first cast, with the right foot in advance, take the end of the line in the left hand and bring the rod upward and backward until the line is taut. As you release the line the spring of the rod carries the line backward. This is the back cast. Then comes the instant pause, while the line straightens itself out behind, and then with a firm motion of the wrist, helped a little by the forearm, the rod is thrown forward and the line flies easily out in front.

After the services the procession will go to the Polish cemetery, where eight of the coffins, those containing Poles, will be placed in one large grave. It is the purpose to acquire by subscription sufficient funds to erect over this a monument bearing the names of the victims and a brief history of the event. Seventeen societies, all but one made up of Poles, Hungarians and others of the Slav race, and one of Irish, are to march in the funeral procession. If General Gobin executes the intention he announced last night this whole program will be upset, and it is feared that the men will resent any interference with

The Quarry Combine.

The talk about the granite combines still continues at Barre and everybody wants to know if the Barre Co. is going to succeed in obtaining control of the quarries. Mr. E. L. Smith says the company is an assured success, unless some quarry owners should back out. But as the company has until January 1st to close up its contracts with the quarrymen and take possession it is too early to say whether it will be a go or not. Public sentiment grows stronger against it every day. There are probably 25 or 30 men on the quarries who will be the first to feel the effects of the quarry combine, and they are the superintendents who now get from $3.50 to $5 a day. Their services under the combine will be dispensed with and they will have to seek jobs elsewhere. They are good citizens and spend their money, pay rent and many of them live in the city. But the few men who control the combine officers: and Barre merchants will be the losers. There has been considerable complaint in the city that the influence of the Granite Savings Bank and Trust Co. was being used to foster the Quarry combine. This is a mistake, as The Times is informed by one of the Powers. directors that the bank is in no way connected with it and that a majority of the directors are opposed to the combine on the ground that it will not be of any benefit to the city or the bank. The Granite Savings Bank and Trust Co. is not encouraging any business 5, and also from neighboring divisions. monopoly that cannot be organized under the laws of the state of Vermont -Barre Times.

First prizes in the open race at Hull on Satu day were won by the Handsel, Elfreda, Hazard, Al-Anka and Fantasy. The Omeme was abou en minutes behind the Al-Anka, suffering fro he squall. The Nettie owned by Walter Burgess, won the pennant of the Winthrop Yacht lab on Saturday.

Reviewing the work of the third class yachts the Herald says: The Rooster is without doub he smartest craft, though she had been raced brough the season with the Momo, the result night have been different. The Rooster sail ery fast when it is light, and even with reefs ied in she is not to be trifled with by anythin of her length.

The Herald says, "It can hardly be believe hat the Privateer is the same boat that race last season, so great has been the improvement made in her. She has started in more races and won more prizes this season than any boat in the association, and when added to this the tatement is made that she has never been proested or won a prize by a protest, her record ne that her owner can well be proud of.

Ruby sometimes met with an enemy that was more than a match for him. There was one collie in particular that nearly killed him twice. Once he was saved from this fate by the help of his great friend the cat. The collie was a near neighbor, so that even at home there was the danger of a row.

One day a dreadful quarrel took place on the lawn. The dogs were closely locked, tearing each other with sharp teeth. Our brother had broken a stout walking stick in beating them, but neither would yield. The gardener belabored them, too, but without the least effect. It was a terrible sight. So fierce was the struggle we thought our dog must have been killed. At length the collie pinned poor Ruby to the ground, holding him by the threat, and we thought his last hour had come, but help was at hand from an unlooked for quarter. While we stood and watched the encounter and while three men had tried in vain to separate the dogs, the cat had been looking on, too, and now with a sudden spring she bounded off the terrace flew across the lawn, and, springing like a fierce tiger on to the ollie's back, she dug her claws into his re k The preat dog was so astonished at this attack from the rear this he loosed his hold on Ruby and slunk off, being hooted and chased by all, including the valiant cat, who followed till he was driven right out of the garden. PROFESSOR STARR WANTS THEM TO COME TO SEE HIM.

Mysterious Advertisement of a Chicago Scientist-May Be on the Eve of Some Important Discovery-Theories as to the Probable Purport of His Quest.

Professor Starr of the University of Chicago wants to make the acquaintown hand writing, "L," care of Ledger of the six fingered population of Sept. 13—tf Chicago wants to make the acquaintance of the six fingered population of speaking terms with those who are blessed with more than nature's usual WANTED—By two Cape Breton girls, places to do general housework. The purpose of the noted anthropolo gist's desire is a mystery, and the professor refuses to divulge the secret before he has had some tangible returns from the "want ad." that was inserted recently in The Times-Herald. One of the professor's friends hinted that the springs complexion soap and other reads. from the "want ad." that was inserted scientist might be interested in having a congress of the overdigitous people in the interests of science. "I am waiting for developments, he said, "and until I get some answers from those for whom I have advertised I have really nothing to tell you. I admit that I am after people who have physiological peculiarities as indicated in the advertisement." "Have you not designs of a scientific nature on six fingered people?" was

"If I should tell you that, I might give away the whole story," he replied. That might be the case, or the other alternative might be that I am getting ready to start a circus." The professor laughed heartily as this suggestion and excused himself from further going into the subject. As an afterthought he assured the interviewer that the object he had in view was in every way legitimate, and he hoped that the census of the six fingered persons would be large, and that they would respond without reserve.

The professor's assistants and pupils were also curious to know the import of the "ad." The unanimous opinion among them was that the anthropologist was on the road to an important discovery, and he had called the newspapers to his aid.

One suggested that nothing had interested the professor more than the study of heredity, and that it was most likely that this was the cause of bringing out the "ad." The student in question remembered that heredity has frequently been the topic in the classroom, and in this branch of study the anthropologis has gained worldwide eminence. Case of six fingered persons have played an important part in that branch of science and caused extended discussions in the scientific world. Professor Starr, h ventured, would soon be ready to upset he theories of the new French which contends that heredity is a myth and has no place in science. The new experiments would be in the same line with the professor's theory that the New Dark Percales, 10 and 12 1-2 race was degenerating and that Americans were rapidly turning into Indians. It was a link in a chain to confute the new theorist. Professor Starr has in the past made the most extensive experiments on the question of heredity, and his conclusions have been favorably received by the greatest scientists of the world. He is original in all that he undertakes and his friends at the university ar awaiting with interest the outcome of the investigation. - Chicago Times-Her-

> Plans of the Defense. Chicago, Sept. 13.-To demonstrate the fallacy of the identification as human of the bones introduced by the prosecution as happened Saturday, Dr. W. H. Allport, acting for the defense, killed a dog and extracted from one of its feet a sesamoid bone. This bone, to all appearance, the defense claims, is like that ntroduced by the prosecution, and it was subjected to the action of a beiling solution of crude potash. It is little larger than a bean and was carefully laid away. It will without doubt be used in the effort to clear Luetgert. In connection with this line of defense it transpires that the defense will claim that the bones and decomposed flesh which the police took from the factory yard were the remains of a great dog which had been buried there three months before. Witnesses will be sworn who will testify to this effect. Brought to an End.

Blow to Liberty. Boston, Sept. 13.—The building trades ouncil of this city has passed resolutions condemning the shooting of the miners of Hazelton, Pa., by Sheriff Martin and his deputies. The resolve says: "This is another instance of the judicial interpretation of the law, favoring capital even to the sacrifice of human life that their greed for gold may be satisfied; and we further condemn the action as a blow to the liberties of American people, to the free institutions of this sountry, and as a lasting disgrace to the history of the nation.'

NEW ORLEANS' CONDITION. Sanitary Reform With a View to Comlaing

Yellow Jack. New Orleans, Sept. 13 .- Yesterday the board of health officially declared six of the suspicious cases of fever on St. Claude street to be yellow fever. A couple of hours subsequently the board announced another pronounced case also in the lower part of the city, but mile or more away from the infected square.

The announcement of the first six cases as yellow fever was not unexpected, although it was hoped from the delay on the part of experts that they were cases simply of bilious malaria. No general alarm has resulted here, although the news rapidly spread through the city. The authorities do not believe that the situation is materially worse than it was four or five days ago, and they are still confident of their ability, with modern sanitary appliances, to successfully quarantine the infected districts.

Of the original 12 cases, all of which had their origin from a case that had come from Ocean Springs, the six other than those reported yesterday as yellow fever were said yesterday afternoon to be practically well, up and walking about their homes. Of the six pronounced yellow fever, four are convalescent and two were declared to be critically ill, one of these having suffered a relapse since Saturday.

Among the suspicious cases reported was that of a boy named Roy. Doctors pronounced it to be unquestionably yellow fever, and as having apparently had its origin in Scranton, Miss., or in the vicinity of that town.

To a correspondent, President Olliphant said: "Of course I have made this announcement of the existence of seven cases of yellow fever in New Oreans with sincere regret, but there was no alternative left me under my pledge to keep faith with the public here and elsewhere. I do not think, however, there is occasion for serious alarm unless conditions shall grow materially worse. We shall have to await developments.

"An earlier announcement of th diagnosis of the St. Claude street cases was not possible. The board of experts, which is composed of able, efficient and experienced physicians, had made repeated visits to these patients, but they insisted that they should be allowed their own time within which to make a com plete diagnosis. They desired to be perfectly sure before pronouncing the sick ness to be yellow fever. They reached a conclusion as soon as was practicable and four days ago they warned the cour try that all of the cases were suspicious "Personally I am unable to say whether or not these cases are of a mild or severe type. The absence of mortality would seem to indicate that they are in the for mer class. That there has been n spread would seem to strengthen tha view. I have no reason to doubt, how ever, that the complete sanitation of th neighborhood instituted by the board and the rigid quarantine enforced hav gone a long way toward restricting th disease to the St. Claude street squa In which the cases originated, and I take hope from this fact that we shall sti be able to confine the fever within it present limits. The situation is certain no worse now than it was four or fix days ago, for the disease being yello fever then must be now.

"We have now had a total of eight ases and one death, the origin of all c which may be traced to the infected towns on the Mississippi coast. They may all be classed as importations. e no occasion for any panic in Ne Orleans. The general health of the cit; Is good, and it is rapidly being put in fin anitary condition. There is no present pprehension of an epiramic, and I hav ason to hope that we shall continue to e masters of the situation.'

ON A VOLCANO'S EDGE. Troops Sent Over Mountain Roads to the Coxe Collieries.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 14.-Hazleton quivered last night on the edge of a volcano. Uncertainty was the key-note of the situation, and the town sleeplessly awaited the dawn of a day fraught with unknown and fearful possibilities Proops were sent to the mines of Coxe Bros. at Eckley, which nestles in a vatley about 18 miles from here. Telegrams to brigade headquarters in the afternoon indicated an alarming condition

The remoteness of the situation made difficult the securing of definite news from the scene. The first knowledge of listurbance at the Coxe collieries reached brigade headquarters yesterday mornng, when General Gobin received a dispatch that 200 miners at Buck Mountain, three miles from Eckley, had gone on strike and began to march on the Eckley mine. Request was made for a detachment of the military to avert possible conflict, but before the soldiers could be started off to the scene the authorities were reassured by the receipt of a second telegram to the effect that the march had been stopped and no furthe trouble was feared.

In the afternoon a third dispatel changed the situation for the worse. I said the march had been resumed and carried to the Eckley mines, and that the men there had been forced to qui work after rough handling by the march ing men. The city troop of Philadelphia the crack cavalrymen, were instantly ordered to proceed to Eckley. To reach the spot they had to ride over 18 miles o mountain roads. The news has created consternation throughout the district and all the collieries are preparing for

General Gobin has been deluged with requests for troops, but declares that he will send none to any point unless an outbreak really occurs. This is a measure of precaution to keep the soldiers mobilized. The mine superintendents are much worried. They accept the les son offered by the havoc wrought at Gomer Jones' home the other night, and two have asked the brigade commande to place guards around their houses

The Leader of Barre is taking considerable interest in the proposed quarry syndicate in that city. The Ledger has already reproduced the the station and to send a committee chamber, City Hall, Monday evening. questions propounded in its columns. Now the Leader says:

ast week with reference to the plans, purposes, liabilities and guarantees A Discount of $1 when paid in ad- proposes to lease all the granite quarries, with buying options in three or five years, have excited a good deal more interest and discussion than we thought possible. We supposed that they had been already considered by all parties much more carefully than they appear to have been. Undoubtedly the company, in devising the scheme, but to those with whom it expected to deal; but almost always when theory undertakes to become practice, unexpected issues are presented, and what has been supposed to be full and complete is found to be more or less less of the opposite to the other.

In the present case an examination of the plan as explained in the proposed lease, seems to meet most of the questions very fairly. A default of 60 the right to resume possession withwas especially interesting to him as he used in a "good husband like manner," surrenderd at the expiration of the leased, damage by fire, water or other Mr. Arthur Sibley. inavoidable casualty alone excepted. About 9 A. M. Monday Mr. John F. purpose of quarrying granite, and George F. Pinkham, Mr. A. L. Baker, be required by said party of the > second part. As to $150,000 being a sufficient capital to safely guarrantee the certain and prompt meeting of all liabilities under the lease, the company takes the position that it is entering upon an established business, with an income from the moment of possession, and, as no rents will be due until six months have expired, with sixty days of grace, if needed, it can be reasonably confident of being able to meet its it is also true that it is all contingent on fair and uninterrupted prosperty Should anything seriously untoward be fall, or trade fall off, $150,000 would soon be expended in rent.

The fact that the company has been incorporated under the laws of Maine has been criticised, since those laws are much more favorable to the corporators than those of Vermont. In Vermont one-fourth of the capital stock must be paid in before any debts can be contracted, and in no case can the debts exceed two-thirds of the capital paid in; while in Maine a corporation may begin business as soon as the certificate of incorporation is filed with NOTICE the Secretary of State, and there are no restrictions as to the amount of debt ncurred. The Vermont law requires at least two directors, who shall also be stockholders, to be residents of the state, but in Maine the clerk only must be a resident. Our statute gives the corporation a lien upon the capital stock held by stockholders, and upon invited to call and see our their property invested in the corporation for the debts due from them to it, out there is no such provision in the Maine law.

Each one of these is an important and may easily be a vital point. In a matter of this kind the safest and most cost to make room for carefully guarded plan is the one that should be adopted. The interests of several thousand citizens of Vermont We also have a new lot of are concerned and they have a right to demand that they have the protection Children's Latest Style of the state's own laws, which have been so recently enacted for this very purpose.

> We have learned on good authority that the company was incorported in Maine because the Vermont law would not allow the increase of the capital stock to a sum that might be needed, without a special act of the legislature, and this might not be in session when the increase became necessary. But our law places the limit at $1,000, 000, which would seem to be large enough for the present, though should the company decide to purchase the property, a much larger sum would be needed; and the Maine law might then P. #### A Woman Shoemaker.

Of late years women have gone into all sorts of fields formerly occupied ex clusively by men, says the Philadelphia Press, but Philadelphia enjoys the dis tinction of having a woman shoemaker She began in a small way, but has pros pered abundantly and now has an establishment that is patronized largely by women of the most exclusive social set This shoemaker is a practical worker. She does the measuring, draws the dia grams and gives detailed instructions to the journeymen in her employ. She for merly did the cutting up of the leather and can do so still when necessary When asked how she came to go into a business that men have always monopo lized hitherto, she said: "I never like to have men handling my feet when measuring my extremities or fitting a pair of shoes, and I concluded that there were hundreds of other women who felt the same way. I was convinced that all such would prefer to patronize one of their own sex. So I learned the tradand went into the business of shoemak ing. I am glad I did, for I have made myself independent."

Independence.

There are very many reasons for women going to work, and not the least common of these is a genuine desire for independence. New Orleans women are among the last to succumb to this in fection, but from every aspect the con dition is one come to stay, and in consequence—unless the occupation is a Auctioneer, confining and not altogether a congenial one-upon every side one may note handsomer, more purposeful, healthier women than of yore. The woman who dreams and aspires and longs vainly spends too much of her time that way. It is a fact that the more one is obliged to do the more liable one is to do. - New Orleans Times-Democrat.

THE PECKER MURDERS.

Slayer of the Captain and Mafe Was John Anderson.

Boston, Sept. 14.-The first official tidings of the awful tragedy at sea on the schooner Olive Pecker, in which Captain Whitman of Rockland, Me., and First Mate Sanders were murdered, came to this city yesterday in a letter to Collector Winslow Warren of the port, inclosing a copy of the cablegram from Bahia, Brazil, transmitted to the state department by Vice Consul Brice. The cablegram read as follows:

"John Anderson, naturalized American citizen, steward of the schooner Olive Pecker, killed Captain Whitman and Mate Sanders, apparently under provocation, after which the crew, seemingly under threats of the steward, fired the miles from the Brazilian coast. They drew lots to go in pairs, the steward leaving with a sailor named John Ling. a Swede, while the other four embarked occurrence at the first place they reached. Anderson and Lind were taker prisoners on board a Norwegian vess? at Port Bahia, and fully confessed the crime to me. All six are now prisoners in the house of correction, and I await an American war vessel to send them to the states, as ordinary steamers are unable or unwilling to take the men. The behavior of the Brazilian authorities is worthy of great praise. The names of the other prisoners are Engineer William Horsbrough, an Englishman: Juan Dies Barriel Gumierrez, a Spaniard; Andrew March, an Englishman, and Martin Barstad, a Norwegian. Depositions of all the men have been taken by me and will be sent by the first steamer, together with photographs of the men. In previous reports of the horror the name of the murderer has been variously given as Horsbrough, the engineer; Seaman Lind, and Peter Thompson, bu neither of these committed the crime, for there was no man named Thompson on board the ill-fated schooner. It is quite certain that the men will be landed here, and their trial held here, not only the home port of the ill-fated craft, but the scene of the trial of the men charged with committing that other ocean horror, the Herbert Fuller murder.

Late Fall Crops Aided Materially by the Heat of Last Week.

Boston, Sept. 14.-The week past has given abundant sunshine, very little precipitation, and three days of summer heat; in consequence late fall, field and garden crops have advanced rapidly. Harvesting has been conducted under most favorable conditions. Such corn as had vitality enough to be benefitted has improved wonderfully, and the prospects for this crop are much more ncouraging. Nearly all field crops, except corn, bave now arrived at a state of maturity. A very large amount of rowen has been secured, making the amount of forage for winter fully equal to any previous year.

Maine. Corn pushed ahead rapidly during the past week, although another 10 days of favorable weather will be required to put it out of the way of frosts, and even then some will not mature. Fall work is being rushed. As a rule grain is harvested in excellent condition. Potato digging is going on steadily. The crop is in the main, light, and with few exceptions rotting badly. Garden crops are flourishing. Scanty yield of apples. The surface of the ground is becoming dry for about the first time this season but no harm will result.

New Hampshire. The past week has been very favorable for corn, and an increased acreage will doubtless ripen. Some early corn has been cut, and silos are being filled. Late corn is making rapid growth, but that on wet land is poor. Rowen is nearly all secured. Rye and grass seed looking finely. Potatoes continue to rot, and the yield is far behind the average. Peaches bring good prices; apples and pears improved; grapes will fail except with an abundance of warmth; black berries have yielded abundantly. Friday's hot sun practically ruined cranberries in Hillsborough county.

VERMONT.

A very good week for harvesting. Corn has done well, and one week more of goo warm weather will fit most of it for cut ting. In fact, some corn is already har vested. Potatoes are turning out poorly as in other sections. Rowen is a heav crop, and much grain has been secure in fine condition. Fastures are dying. Massachusetts.

A large amount of corn on dry uplands will mature and some is already in the shock. Rowen is a big crop. Poor crop of apples and potatoes. Grapes are ripening unevenly. Peaches ir some localities have done well. Garden vegetables plentiful. Tobacco is very uneven in curing. Cranberry picking well under way, and finished on some bogs the crop is very light, but the fruit is in good condition generally, although badly scalded by the extreme heat last weel Land is becoming dry in southeastern sections. Streams are the lowest of the Lailes' Cotton Underwear, full line, prices season.

Rhode Island.

Corn has matured rapidly on dry land, and is being cut, or is nearly ready for cutting; the yield will likely be small or wet land. Melon, squash and cucumber vines are dying, and light yields are re ported. There is complaint of potatoes Ladies' Ribbed Vest, (winter weinht) fleeced, rotting in the cellars. Fall seeding in Connecticut.

Corn cutting is now quite general; prospects of late pieces maturing well. Potatoes turn out to be even poorer than expected; many farmers have not enoug? r family use. Peaches are so plentifu as to overstock local markets. Feed in pastures abundant. Grapes will fall Crockeryware and Agateware has bee short of an average crop. Apples ripen- this week at 5 and 10 cents that will surprise ing early and dropping badly. Red va- you rieties are coloring well. Wells and streams are lower than at any time since mid July.

J. W. Smith.

Section Director. Contumacious Post. Boston, Sept. 14.-The council of administration of the department of Massa chusetts, Grand Army of the Republic held a session at headquarters yesterday afternoon. Fletcher Webster post of Brockton was summoned to answer the charges on which Department Commander Deane asked for an annulment o the post's charter. The principal charge is: "That post 13 refused to elect delegates and alternates to the department encampment, held last February, and also that in June last it disobeyed an o fill vacancies. The council of administration is headed y Department Commander Deane of Fall River. Post 13 was represented at the hearing by a committee of which J. R. Bartlett was chairman. William H. Osborne of East Bridgewater appeared as counsel for the committee.

order to elect delegates and alternate

The case is a very important one in G. A. R. circles, as it involves the ques tion whether a post must elect delegates and alternates to the department encampment as an imperative duty, or whether this is a privilege which a post may decline to improve.

having made a stubborn resistance to the It is explained that the Spanish hoisted the red cross flag over the hospital, and that the insurgents, mistaking it for a parliamentary flag, sent an officer in that direction, but, in spite of this, the Spanlards claim, the insurgent commander. General Calixto Garcia, did not respect the flag or the hospital, and bombarded the building, killing or wounding 50 sick

The latest advices from Spanish sources say the insurgents lost over 200 killed during the fighting, and that mong them was General Menocal. Four Spanish officers and eight soldiers, who were among those who surrendered to the insurgents, have arrived at Cauto.

John L.'s Platform. Boston, Sept. 14.-John L. Sullivan now a variety star and erstwhile boomed for the mayoralty nomination in this city, announced last night in an interview that he would run for mayor on nomination papers, and that he expects to poll 8000 to 12,000 votes, "just to let Curtis (Rep.) in." He says he resents the alleged slight which Mayor Quincy gave him at Faneuil hall dur-

FIVE REQUESTS.

Answer of the Haz'etan Company to the Terms of the Strikers.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 15.-At Latimer yesterday a largely attended and deisive meeting of strikers was held to receive the answer of the company to their demands. Superintendent Blake gave them their answer. It was short and to the point, and was met with action equally decisive.

The demands had been formulated as follows: "We desire and wish the priviege of buying our provisions where we think proper, instead of being forced to do so at the company's store; we want 20 per cent advance on all classes o labor; we-demand the dismissal of al parties who took part last Friday, Sept. 10, in the shooting affray; we demand that all classes of labor be paid the same for rock work as for coal on idle days we demand that no man shall be dis charged for acting on this committee. The company's answer to this was that the men are not and never have been obliged to buy exclusively at the com pany store; second, that the advance would not be granted, because the com pany was paying the average rate of the region; third, the company absolutely refused without assigning any reason to discharge anybody who participated in the shooting; fourth, that men suspended on idle days have the privilege of taking somebody else's place, thus making good the difference in rate be tween rock and coal work; and fifth, that no man shall be discharged for acting on the grievance committee. The men declined to accept the conditions.

Washington, Sept. 15.-Yesterday Secretary Alger laid before the cabinet several telegrams urging relief for stricken prospectors, including one from the citiens' committee of Tacoma, representing that distress existed already at Dawson City, stating that starvation had begun and praying that a revenue cutter b sent with supplies to St. Michaels and hances taken on getting the supplies to those in need of them.

The discussion made it evident that the cabinet was not quite clear that th government authorities had warrant o aw for furnishing supplies, but Secre tary Alger telegraphed to Senator Perk ns of California, who is interested in ine to Alaska, asking him if he would undertake to deliver a shipload of supplies at St. Michaels. If it be found tha the law will not permit the governmen to send supplies, then relief will be fur ished by private persons in order tha a horror may not grow out of the rus for gold. ### Maine Musical Festival.

October will be a great month in Maine. I vill be made memorable by the occurrence he greatest musical event that has taken place a the East for several decades. It is the Main Musical Festival; and in the grandeur of its ersonel and proportions, it suggests the gloriou ubilee Concerts at Boston, which marked the eturn of Peace to a long suffering nation an eople, and the echoes of those harmoni vere heard around the world. The Maine Fe ival will easily be in the same class, musical and artistically, with the Peace Jubilee. The Maine Festival, or rather Festivals, will be held n two cities,—at Bangor, October 14, 15, and 6, and at Portland, October 18, 19, and 20,recisely the same artists appearing and the me programmes being rendered in each city.

The Festival is simply magnificent in its d ails and the artists it presents. There will be creat chorus of one thousand voices, selecte from the principal cities of Maine, supported l grand orchestra of seventy members, luding soloists from the eelebrated Ceid brehestra of New York, all under the direction f William R. Chapman of New York, direct onductors in the country. At the head of the ist of artists is Madam Lillian Nordica, an the following famous soloists will take part these concerts: Lillian Blauvelt, Gwilym Mile Grace G. Couch, Evan Williams, John Fulto Hans Kronold, Carl E. Dufft, Heinrich Mey nd Carlos Hasselbrink. A local charm is give y representative Maine soloists, including Ethe Hyde, Lou Duncan Barney, Blanche Dingley Hermon Kotzschmar, Lillian Carllsmith, Edi d. Bradford, Mary A. it will be of local interest. He says him a debt of gratitude which can in conclusion:

I am asked, as a professor of pedagogy, to give, if I can, "some sound, philosophical reasons" for the use of the phonic method. I am not quite sure that my esteemed antagonist is not now attempting a joke upon me also, for she endorses phonics. Dr. Rice, in this Forum articles, reported that children at Normal Park were taught reading by the phonic method, and Col. Parker has recently put upon the market, at fifteen cents a copy, a little book containing all the monosyllables of the English language, arranged practically for use in teaching reading! I hope to have an opportunity to say at another time more about this brochure. Normal Park seems to be offering for sale two kinds of pedagogical medicines for the disease of illiteracy - one labelled phonics and the other antiphonic. Unfortunately for the cause of teaching, the anti-phonic bottle is much the larger.

A pedagogue, versatile and thrifty, be none left in the stomach to make sick-poiso once applied for a school in the out of. country. When questioned as to how he taught the shape of the earth, he replied, "Round or flat, as the community prefers." For any one to send to Chicago reasons for teaching phonics seems altogether a matter of supereogation, nevertheless I am willing to take my interlocutor's request seriously, and herewith present a few reasons for the faith that is in me. If L M. Pratt & Co. they are not considered "sound and ohilosophical'' at Normal Park, I respectfully request Miss Thomas and and our customers coming from far and Col. Parker to be so kind as to give us their apology for teaching reading Many have said that their children many have said that their children Europe who has writen upon elemen- and 50 cent sizes for sale by A. (5) Children can learn to read better by sound in two years than by the Quincy method in four years. This, in my humble judgment, is the soundest and most pilosophical reason of all.

Miss Thomas's suggeston that I review the teaching of Col. Parker, her friend, philosopher and guide, greatly pleases me. If the editor of where they will be pleased to show their Primary Education will generously permit me further to trespass upon her valuable space, I shall be glad, in the near future, to discusss the Quincy methods of teaching reading and spelling. A few weeks ago I purchased Parker's "Talks on Teaching"-"handsome new edition from entirely new plates with side-headings for the student, fifteenth thousand." Having the best of reasons for believing that Col. Parker had radically changed his views about the teaching of reading since the halcyon Quincy days, I looked forward with eagerness to this entirely new edition from new plates. When I opened the book, I noted with pleasure opened the book, I noted with pleasure that the copyright of the new edition are mentioned below: had been transferred to Col. Parker, and that he thus had the opportunity to give us his latest and best thoughts upon the subjects discussed therein But alas! I failed to find any advance whatever upon his opinions as reported by Miss Patridge fifteen years before. Indeed I found again, in his very words of 1882, the substance of Curies argument for the use of the moribund MADAM—As to the slander that you allege that I uttered against you at the time of the Basket Party held in Faxon Hall, Quincy, by the "Daughters of John Adams," L. President Andrews Announces Recall of Resignation.

No Explanation Vouchsafed For Reaching the Decision.

Providence, Sept. 15 .- President Anfrews treated the city and no doubt the ountry to a surprise yesterday aftersoon by announcing that he had decided to remain with old Brown. Nothing foreshadowed this decision. The tenor of all of his correspondence heretofore suggested an irrevocable intention to step down and out when his successor should be determined upon. His mind appeared to be unalterable, and returnng students were filled with gloom at the prospect of parting with their prexy.' It was the sole topic of discussion among them, and plans were discussed for attesting their general regret at the separation. Incidentally Congressman Walker of Worcester came in for a vigorous denunciation for initiating the movement against the bimetalic views of Dr. Andrews. Last night the college cast off its thoughtful mood, and celebrated as though the football eleven had defeated ts most bitter rival. President Andrews yesterday afternoon withdrew his resigation, and that is the cause of the rejoicing. His letter read:

Brown University, Sept. 14. To W. V. Kellen, J. H. Stiness and R. . Hazard, committee: Gentlemen-The esolution of the corporation of Brown niversity on the 1st inst., communicated te me by you, has been carefully conidered. I take pleasure in assuring you that the action referred to entirely does O'Connell was taken to the Clinton hos away with the scruple which led to my pital, where the doctors desided that the resignation. At the date, however, when ou laid the communication before me, although the cut was dangerously near I had undertaken to perform the coming rear certain work which, after learning the judgment of the corporation on the ubject, I came to regard as incomeatible with the duties of the presidency. I therefore felt obliged at first to adre to my resignation; but being now ree to give to the university my univided service. I have withdrawn my signation, and have notified the secreary of the corporation to that effect.

This move is entirely unexpected. A eek ago Dr. Anderson, secretary of the orporation, admitted that he had reived a letter from Dr. Andrews reewing his resignation. This was beeved to be an answer to the request of that body made at its meeting Sept. 1, equesting Dr. Andrews to withdraw his Secretary Anderson ansounced that he would issue a notice of meeting for a time which seemed most ould be any other result. The change nust have been brought about by considerable pressure, it is thought. It is Waid that Dr. Andrews was closeted yesterday afternoon with a committee pproach to which was carefully guard-Whether this was a factor in the uncement is not known, nor does re seem to be any reason why this atest action was made. The Brown boys appointed a delegation to wait on the president and to ask nim to address them from the steps of Dr. Andrews thanked students for their interest in him, but declined to say anything, reserving until chapel this morning whatever of mportance is to be announced. The vs dispersed regretfully with a song which they affectionately addressed as "Bennie."

Floating Bottom Up. Boston, Sept. 15 .- Since the crew of the British steamer Furtor were landed here on Aug. 3 their vessel, which was abandoned on the Grand banks, has been oating about the ocean, bottom up, a enace to navigation. The attention of he British government has been called this dangerous derelict by the captain f the steamship Jersey City, which reently arrived at Bristol, Eng., from New York. He states that on Aug. 4, a ew days after the Furter was abanoned by her crew, he passed the wreck ith fully two-thirds of it under water. The Furtor, it will be remembered, left arrsboro, N. S., on June 23 for Cardiff and after collision with an iceberg a eek later, she put into St. John's, N. F. or repairs. On resuming her voyage soon began to leak, and the crew was liged to take to the boats and leave er, being rescued after some hours of exposure by the Sagamore.

The Furtor was fully insured, and no ne in England is worrying about her except the captains of vessels likely to get in her track. It makes the sturdiest of them shiver to think of a 3000 ton derelict moving about the Atlantic, and that is why the British government has een requested to send a warship to

9 o'clock. The participants were two boys about 18 years of age. The cause was bad blood, and the result is that one of them is hovering between life and death. The actors in the affair are Henry Smith, residing about a mile from the village, and Charles Cheney, residing at North Bristol. It seems that unpleasant relations have existed between these boys for some time, and on meet ing in the village the old feud was rebewed and a fight was engaged in. Cheney drew a revolver and fired twice at Smith and then ran. Only one bullet took effect. This entered the abdomen just above the left hip, taking a downward course. After the shooting the Smith boy walked to the blacksmith shop of Clarence A. Smith, when he was taken by Bert Quimby to the office of Dr. George H. Calley, where the wound was

Gloucester, Mass., Sept. 15.—The salt mackerel catch of the entire New England fleet to date is 7887 barrels, against 28.610 in 1896, 16.676 in 1895, 30.954 in 1894 26,619 in 1892 and 40,438 in 1892. By thes figures it will be seen that the season' catch is decidedly small, and the season is far enough advanced to state with certainty that the catch for 1897 will be a complete failure for this branch of the fisheries.

Harvey of Lewiston, who were supposed to have been drowned in Casco bay, off Freeport, on July 21, through the capsizing of a boat in which they went to row, ar now known to be alive, Goss presumably in Lynn, Mass., and Harvey in some other part of the same state. The news came through a telegram from John Dorr of this city, who is in Lynn, to Stephen Goss, the father of Elmer Goss in which Dorr stated that he had seen and talked with Elmer last Sunday a Nahant beach. Young Goss gave no reason for deserting his family, and Dorr stated in addition that Goss asked him not to tell that he was alive. The announcement caused a great sensation, as a reward of $300 had been offered by his relatives for the recovery of the body, or any evidence of death, in order to secure $2000 accident insurance which Goss carried. ## BURGLARS ABOUT.

Williams' Jewelry Store Was too Much of a Stronghold, However.

Burglars were about on Wednesday night, but as far as known the only place they attempted to enter was T. L. Williams' jewelry store. There they did not succeed in getting in. The attempt at entrance was made at the rear windows. One of the panes of Dinegan, wore a pink silk, accordion glass was removed by cutting out the plated, gown and carried pink chrysan-ternational doll show that comes to Quincy new putty. This enabled the parties to turn the catch and open the window. Fortunately, Mr. Williams has an inside shutter to his windows which is held in place by several large iron bars. No attempt was made to force this shutter, possibly because it would were frightened away.

Died at Chatham.

Word has been received of the death, at Chatham on Wednesday, of Mr Benjamin M. Bevins of this city, his death being due to quick consumption Mr. Bevins was taken ill last July and soon after went to Chatham, where he has since remained. The health he sought for at the Cape did not come to him and he gradually failed unti hortly after noon on Wednesday whe he passed away. He was born i Chatham, and came to Quincy some twelve years ago and engaged in the fish business, which he has followed ever since carrying on business at Temple street, and residing with his family on Washington street. He was about 40 years of age and leaves a widow and one son. The funeral will be held Saturday at Chatham, his native place.

A Morning Episode.

It was near City Hall and the party was a nice looking lady. From her pocket there protruded the neck of a bottle. She was evidently tired for she made for the steps leading to the Council chamber and sat down.

Unfortunately she sat down too hard There was a crash, as of breaking glass, and soon a dark colored liquid from which a strong smell of whiskey arose, began to flow over the side walk.

The woman observed it and without even a smile she arose and hastily boarded a Braintree car and dis appeared.

K. of H. Anniversary.

Maple lodge, No. 313, Knights and Ladies of Honor, celebrated the twentieth anniversary of the foundation of the order Wednesday evening at Plumer's hall. Visitors were present from Woodbine lodge of Wollaston and Friendship lodge of South Boston. One candidate was initiated, the work by the degree team being unusually fine. At the conclusion of the business of the evening there were brief addresses on the good of the order, after which refreshments were served; the evening closing with a social dance which was prolonged until after midnight, music being furnished by Mrs. Rhines.

Liquor Transportation.

According to all accounts there is something wrong with Mr. Faxon's new liquor transportation law. Several convictions have been had in the lower court but there have been no convictions at Dedham as yet although there have been several cases before the jury this term.

The women who impress us as being always suitably attired are seldom arrayed in garments made according to the latest mode. Their choice in dress is usually governed by fitness and moderation. It may make very little difference to one who by reason of wealth or social position is a recognized leader of society, if her taste in dress is charac terized merely by refinement and simplicity, but it does make a great deal of difference to her poorer or more timid sister, who has been accustomed to look upon wealth as the basis of social distinction or who has not the moral courage to dress within her means.

No woman is exactly the keeper of another's conscience, but she should at least help the great work of education by living as if the soul were "more than raiment," and not a thing to be satisfied by a mousquetaire sleeve or godet plaits.—Housekeeper.

A Professional Auctioneer.

That woman has not a sense of hu mor is contradicted by a woman in England who has taken up a profession which should rank next to that of the professional comedian. She has become a professional auctioneer. If an auction eer can keep his audience laughing, the better sales he is apt to make. Miss Ada Hammond, who is the young woman auctioneer, does not lay any stress, however, upon this part of her work. She says it is a business which keeps its followers talking, and for that reason it is eminently feminine. She had an ambition to take it up, made application found that she could do it and has been at work several years. She is very suc cessful, has wit enough to get the best of people who try to talk her out of countenance when she is at work and seldom loses money at her sales, although there is always a risk, with heavy expenses to balance the profits. Miss Hammond does most of her work in the country districts, and it is hard work, for she is accustomed to make "one night stands," doing business in one town on one day and in another or the next .- New York Times.

THE BOSTONS WON.

Their Game With the Phillies and Other Matters of Interest.

Boston, Sept. 16.-The Phillies were again at the mercy of Bostons yesterday, and after the third inning were not in the game. Sparks proved an unequal match for Stivetts and only some excellent fielding saved him from worse punishment than he got. He was not given the support that Stivetts received. Long made a series of brilliant plays that caught the crowd. Tenney, Collins, Stahl, Long, Lowe and Bergen made a fine record, while Geier, Delehanty and Dowd did the best work for the visitors.

Drastic Step to Put Down Lawlessness In an Indiana City.

Mob of Four Hundred Takes Five Prisoners From Jail.

Hanged Them to a Tree as a Warning to Their Class.

Versailles, Ind., Sept. 16.—This city has nad exciting days, but none which surpassed yesterday, when the citizens awoke and discovered what had transpired in the stillness of the night before.

They were amazed to learn that the jail had been broken into and that five of its nmates had been ruthlessly slain. For years southern Indiana has been afflicted with lawless gangs. The railways and express companies broke up the depredations of these gangs along their lines, and recently they have preyed upon the citizens. The citizens have taken the law into their own hands in this locality before, but never to such an extent as yesterday. The Reno brothers were lynched together at Seymour, Ind., 20 years ago, and the Mey gang, three in number, were strung up ogether at Shoals, Ind., 12 years ago There have been numerous lynchings of one at a time, but five breaks the record. That an unusual state of feeling existed is shown by the determination of the mob of yesterday, which led it to the ferocity of first killing three of the mer in the jail, and then dragging the living and dead together and hanging them 9:51 to the same tree. It is notable, too, that o murder was charged against the victims, but their deaths were decreed because of long and exasperating suffering from robberies, some accompanied by torture of victims. The excitement of the day was not lessened by the sup> in the same way. The mob entered the town an hour after midnight on horseback and called out Jailer Konan, who, upon refusing to give up the keys, was overpowered. The mob pushed its way into the cell rooms and, in its impatience, first fired on Lyle Levi, Bert Andrews, Clifford Gonlor William Jenkins and Henry Shuler, and then dragged them to a tree a square from the jail door and hung them.

> pressed hints that more objects of the

Andrews and Gordon had already been wounded, having been shot several times while attempting to rob a store at Cor-AB R 1B PO A E rect last Saturday night. Shuler was in jail for attempted burglary, and Levi and Jenkins had just been indicted for robbery. They had failed to give bond and were put in jail. It is thought that Levi and Shuler were dead from the shots fired when taken out of the jail. The bandages that were on the wounded were found along the street, where they had been torn off as the men were dragged along. Levi was an old soldier and bore on his face wounds received during the Civil War while fighting for the Union. None of the lynchers is known. They all camfrom a distance, presumably from th neighborhood of Correct, where the two men were arrested Saturday night.

Governor Mount sent the following to the sheriff of Ripley county: "Wire me at once the particulars of lynching that has occurred in your county. I further direct you to proceed immediately, with all the power you can command, to bring to justice all parties guilty of participation in the murder of the five men alleged to have been lynched. Such lawlessness is intolerable and all the power of the state, if neces sary, will be vigorously employed for the arrest and punishment of all parties im-

Ice Is In the Way. Washington, Sept. 16.—In response to a telegram of Tuesday to Senator Perkins, asking whether he could take a eargo of food supplies to St. Michaels for the relief of the miners in the Klondyke section threatened with starvation, Secretary Alger received a response from the senator, saying that there are already many thousand tons of freight unprotected at St. Michaels which cannot e moved up the Yuken river to Klondyke on account of the formation of ice in the river. Therefore it would be needless to send further supplies at present. Secretary Alger has communicated this information to the citizens' committee of Tacoma, whence the application for relief was made. He has added that there are already two army officers of their way to Circle City, for which place they started Aug. 5, to report the actual state of affairs, and they will undoubtedly inform the war deprtment whether or not supplies are required, and how Situation at Hazleton.

Hazleton, Fa., Sept. 16.-A calm pervaded Hazleton and its environs yesterday, and no disturbances were reported. The strikers maintain silence and good order. An extra guard was placed about the company stores at Latimer in consequence of a current rumor that the foreigners were plotting to blow up the building with dynamite. They have ceased dealing there, and are now buying their provender in Hazleton. Some are going so fas as to move into town. Large groups of the miners are constantly hovering about the stores.

Arrangements are under way for a monster mass meeting here on Saturday night, and it is understood that efforts are being made to bring Eugene V. Debs and other prominent labor men here to address it. All the miners in the middle coal field will be asked to attend, and it is estimated that 25,000 miners will be present. ## Bargains in Furniture.

Less than a week ago, a salesman in one of Boston's largest carpet stores, in talking about furniture to a lady from this city, said : "The people of Quincy can buy furniture cheaper in their own city than they can in Boston, if they only know it, but they don't know it." That salesman spoke honestly and knowingly. The people of Quincy can buy the same furniture cheaper at this mammoth store of ours than they can in any store in Boston.

For five years we have sold reliable furniture only, at genuine money saving prices, and for five years, during the hardest times the country has ever known, our trade has increased steadily.

Isn't this worth considering when you think of buying furniture ?

Ready For All Comers.

New York, Sept. 17.-Peter Jackso was interviewed yesterday before his departure for California. He had been out of the country so long that his position in the pugilistic world was well night forgotten. Jackson to use his own nigh forgotten. Jackson to use his own words, has come here in search of fight He is out for everything in his class. "Come one, come all," says he; "none excepted, and with no dodging for the best

"Yes," said he, "I've come here to fight. It's my business, and that's what I'm here for. I'll take one, or I'll take 'em all, one by one. I've got money to back me, and I'm looking for battle." Jackson, to be sure, has money behind him. Curiously enough it lies in Wall street, and if he can pull off a fight he can raise all the money he needs. Much of his old-time popularity sticks to him and the Wall street men have guaranteed to stick by him.

"You won't dodge Fitz?" some one asked hm on the pier. "I'll fight anyone," he responded.

"Fitzsimmons included?" Jackson threw out his chest, breathed hard, and replied: "Mr. Fitzsimmons

Chicago, Sept. 17.—The most sensational event of the national golf tournament occurred when W. R. Betts of the Shinnecock Hill club beat C. B. Mac-Donald of the Chicago club. MacDonald was the 1895 champion, being displaced by Whigham in 1896, and was confidently expected to reach the championship this year. At the beginning of the game Betts was a comparatively unknown man, and when it was announced that he was one of the four qualified for the semi-finals he was not considered a remote possibility. His success brings two young men together for the finals, and it also definitely matches eastern and western golf. Betts really won over MacDonald by superior nerve.

New Marks at Rigby.

Portland, Me., Sept. 17.—Rigby was again favored with splendid weather conditions yesterday, while the track was in prime shape. As a result a number of the horses have new marks to their credit. There was a very noticeable inrease in the attendance.

In the 2:09 trot the first mile was made in 2:08 1-2, and Derby Princess, by this performance, not only enters the 2:10 list, but came near equalling the trotting race record for the season of 1897 made at Readville in 2:08 by Grace Hastings.

Dobbs Whips Judge. Scranton, Pa., Sept. 17.—Bobby Dobbs, the Minneapolis lightweight, put Martin Judge of Philadelphia out in the second round last night by a right hand swing on the jaw which followed several punches in the region of the heart. Judge did not appear to be in good condition. The men were matched to fight 20 three-minute rounds, and they stepped into the ring each weighing 137 pounds Dobbs had the best of it from the start and Judge seemed to be entirely out-

THE FENCE ISSUE.

Wollaston Out En Masse Before Commissioners.

United in Asking Removal of That Depot Fence.

Satisfied If the Old Condition Is Restored.

[Special to the DAILY LEDGER.] The matter of the famous Wollaston fence came before the Railroad Commissioners in the shape of a hearing in answer to a request from the City Council, at 10 o'clock this morning, at the Commissioners office on Beacon street, Boston. About 125 citizens of Wollaston were in attendance.

The hearing was opened by Chairman Sanford of the Commission who briefly stated the object of the hearing and asked who appeared for the interested parties. Mr. George F. Pinkham, the Chairman of the Citizen's Committee, stated that he would represent the Committee Mayor Adams appeared upon behalf of the city, and Mr. Francis L. Hayes on behalf of the petitioners to the New Haven road for the removal of the Very able addresses upon the part of he people were made by Mr. George F. Pinkham, Mayor Adams, Mr. Francis L. Hayes and President Bryant of the City Council.

Base Ball.

The game between the Norfolk Mills of Ded ham and the T. R. & S. club at Merrymoun Park on Saturday will be very exciting, inasmuch as the home team defeated a team from 106 68 Dedham early in the season by a score of 36 to 93 09 9. The Dedham team then disbanded and another team was started under the name of the Norfolk Mills. It is a good, strong amateur eam. They have defeated the T. R. & S. team $17 64 by a score of 21 to 12, but the T. R. & S. team 18 27 was a very much crippled team and was handiapped. Last Saturday the Dedhams defeated he cracked Norwood club by a score of 16 to 9, o the people may look for some good ball daying. One great trouble with the home club as been that it has not had support enough and ould not afford to pay the price asked by a itcher, but they will have all their old team back with them Saturday and will play well together. It is also understood that the manage has offered a box of eigars for the best batting ecord of the season, and it is not known yet who will get the smokers. All are good batters and are pretty close together. Saturday's gam will tell the tale, so all turn out and root for the ome team and let us hope they may win.

DOGS FOR KLONDIKE.

RUMORS OF A SCHEME TO PURLOIN WEST COAST CANINES.

Pound Masters Alleged to Have Created a Trust Whose Purpose Is Peculiar-Demand For Dogs In the Yukon Country Responsible For the Movement.

Dog owners on the Pacific coast are in a panic of fear respecting their pets, for there is a well defined rumor that a Washington and So the wandering dogs of California and Daniel Carey, John J. Shea, Charles C. Sander-town where there is no license shall be send them to the Kloudike at so much son, Alfred E. Thornton; senatorial, John F. marked with the owner's name, street per head. It is a gigantic dog trust, > cess. From the day that the first bit of news of the Klondike reached San Francisco up till the present time it has been made apparent that dogs are most valuable adjuncts to the outfit of the gold seeker. In fact, it has been demonstrated time and again on the trail over the Chilkat that the dog is about the only thing on earth by which the packs of the prospective miners can be got with any certainty over the treacherous

In consequence the demand for dogs has been enormous, and many is the stray canine that has been reft from the bosom of a San Francisco family for transportation to the golden north. This demand naturally came to the notice of the poundkeeper of San Franisco, and apparently has not escaped he notice of his fellows in other cities of California. As a result, the poundkeepers' trust, which threatens to depopulate local and circumjacent dogdom, irrespective of pedigree or price. The existence of this combination was learned recently when it was stated that the poundkeepers of San Francisco, Stockton, San Jose and Oakland had entered into a secret compact to gather up the bowwews in their neighborhood, assemble them on a given day in San Francisco, herd them aboard an outgoing steamer and start them, with plenty of dog meat, for the Chilkat and White's passes, where they will bring New Dark Percales, 10 and 12 1-2 prices that, it is hoped by the planners of the scheme, will enrich them beyond mere dreams.

This rumor proved to have a solid foundation. Thomas Horton is the pound master at Stockton. He was interviewed by a reporter and admitted that he was one of the parties to the

"We have been keeping the matter very quiet," said he, "because, of course, it might ruin the enterprise if generally known, but it is a fact that the company has been formed and all the contracts signed.

"Our idea is to gather as many dogs as we can in the usual run of our business, and we expect to get at least 500 by the time we are ready to start. The poundkeepers of Oakland, San Francisco and San Jose are with me in the scheme, and each is pledged to furnish as many dogs as possible by Sept. 15.' Pound Master Osborn of this city could not be found last night, but his bargains in Trimmed and alleged collaborator in the trust, H. L. ed. Weitzell denied that he had made any such agreement as had been stated by Horton of Stockton. "I don't know anything about it, but I think it is a pretty good scheme. Out of 200 dogs that I captured here there were not more than two that would be any good up in that country. I have been all over it as far north as the Mackenzie river, and I know what I am talking about. No, I'm not in the combination, but I have sold a couple of dogs to send up there." From all of the above, therefore, it might not be unwise for the owners of good dogs to keep on the watch. There is no telling when the bogy man may 4 Faxon Block, Quincy. make a call. - San Francisco Chronicle.

Starving to Death. Park Policeman Shea of the New York squad saw a well dressed man drop to the pavement at Fifth avenue and One Hundred and Twentieth street shortly before 2 o'clock one morning recently. He appeared to be starving and near the point of death. Shea sent him to the Harlem hospital, where the patient was cared for until noon, when he was sent in an East river boat to Bellevue

At Bellevue it was learned that the case of the man was diagnosed as one of insanity. He refused to say a word as to his identity or how he came to be at Mount Morris park. He is of medium height, has brown hair and mustache and a week's growth of beard. He is said to be so terribly emaciated that the skin has cracked where drawn tightly over joints. His clothing contained only a key. - New York Herald.

A Musical Clerk. The hotel register at Willard's in Washington is decorated daily by Clerk Coffin with several bars of music of popular and appropriate tunes. The recent scarcity of arrivals suggested no more appropriate tune than "He Never Came Back," but the clerk, for obvious reasons, did not insert that in the register. A recent day preceding it bore a few bars of the song, "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgot," in honor of the arrival at Willard's of Cornelius Van Cott, postmaster of New York city, who is well known in Washington .- Washington Post.

A Human Spinwheel. Convict Painter, serving in the Ohio penitentiary for burglary and larceny, had a thrilling and exhilarating experience recently. He came too close to a couple of set screws on a flywheel. The screws caught the seat of his trousers, and for about a minute made a perfect human spinwheel out of Painter. The trousers couldn't stand the strain long, however, and Painter fell to the ground, badly bruised but not fatally injured .-Cincinnati Enquirer.

While it is eminently proper that the championship of the New England league, which now depends entirely upor the decisions on several protests, should be divided by the directors, it might be a little more satisfactory to the cranks in Newport and Brockton to have it de cided before next January. Crisham of Newport, Beaumont and

Stouch of Pawtucket, Magoon, Nadeau and Pittinger of Brockton, Hill and Miller of Fall River, and Harrington of Taunton are the players of the New England league liable to be drafted into faster company.-Taunton Gazette. Umpire Breckenridge may hold dow Arst base for the Tauntons next season

Pitcher Kennedy of the Brooklyns was taken ill in the second inning yesterday The champions tied with Philadelphia yesterday, and as a result will play double header this afternoon. Nops was batted freely, but the orioles were enabled to tie the score owing to Taylor's wildness in the last two innings. The game was called at the end of the nint? inning on account of darkness.

"Of course the orioles will win the pennant, and there is no reason why they shouldn't, as they have a team that is better equipped all around. the bases, in the field and at the bat, a. We find that our judgment is relied upon more and more by Horse and Carriage owners. People come to us with general ideas as to what they want. They wish to avoid mistakes, and they are often glad to have us shoulder the entire burden. Many times we save dollars for such people. We certainly do our best, and such operations as a rule, reflect favorably upon both parties.

Honest-made Carpetings.

There's more difference in carpetings than anything else we know of, -some good, some bad, some indifferent.

Our mammoth carpet department is chock full of carpetings, just the kind you'd like to have. Hundreds of new patterns to select from, and you don't have to depend on your own judgment of quality, and possible service, for our experience is yours for the asking.

There are few carpet stores on earth, with goods better adapted to your needs than here, and every carpet price is guaranteed to be as low, and invariably lower, than the same goods can be bought for, at any store in existence. We are bound to build a carpet trade in Quincy, if low prices and quality will do it.

FEMUR OF A HOC. Counsel For Leutgert Puts an Expert's Knowledge to the Test. Chicago, Sept. 17.—Yesterday was given over to expert testimony in the Luetgert trial, and the attorneys for the defense and the witnesses for the state wrangled vigorously regarding femurs of human beings; femurs of sheep and of hogs. When court adjourned for the day the fight was still on, and was resumed this morning

When court opened yesterday the defendant came in upon a pair of crutches. He said that he had a badly sprained ankle, the result of a fall while sparring a friendly bout with one of the guards in the jail. The principal witness of the day was Professor Dorsey of the Field Columbian museum, who took the stand for cross-examination. Attorney Vincent; for the defense, made it his busines; to show the jury that Professor Dorsey did not know anything about bones any-how, and that he was densely ignorant on the subject of femurs.

The closing hour of the afternoon sesion of the Luetgert trial was lively. Attorney Vincent, for the defense, made a supreme effort to break down the evidence of Professor Dorsey. He picked up a handful of bones and asked the witness to identify each of them. Professor Dorsey refused to attempt to do this without first having an opportunity to xamine them.

"Can you do it?" shouted the attorney for the defense, "If you are the expert ou claim to be it should not be difficult or you to name these bones."

This exasperated the witness, and Atorney McEwan came to his aid with an bjection, which was sustained by the ourt. But Attorney Vincent was not o be stopped by obejetions. "Did you ver dissect a hog?" he inquired.

"No, sir," answered Professor Dorsey. There was an objection to this line of ross-examination, and Vincent arose to explain that he wished to show that the emur of a hog was identical with the emur the state had introduced, and which Professor Dorsey had identified as the right femur of a human being, a fenale. After further questioning with eference to whether or not Professor Dorsey had ever dissected a calf, or a sheep, and receiving a negative reply as o the former and an affirmative answer to the latter animal, Attorney Vincent asked: "How do you know, then, that this is not a calf's femur?" "Because from a careful examination of it I believe it to be a human femur,' eplied the witness. "Why do you consider it the femur of woman?

"Because it is smooth and has the hape and other distinguishing characteristics of the female femur," replied

Married For Love.

Berlin, Sept. 17.-A sensation has been reated here and elsewhere by the statement that Archduke Francis Ferdinand. on of Archduke Karl Ludwig and Princess Annunciata, heir presumptive to the throne of Austria-Hungary, was married in London last week to a middle lass woman from Kohlseheidt, near Aix-La-Chapelle The woman's father was formerly a Believed to Be Drowned.

New York, Sept. 17.—The relatives of Mrs. Marie McDonald and her daughter, Mrs. Marris of Bulls Ferry road, Guttenburg, N. J., are fearful that both were drowned in the steamboat collision on the Hudson river. Mrs. McDonald and her three daughters were on the illfated boat. Only two of them, Mrs. Herman Klein and Mrs. William Presser, have returned home; the other two are missing. The four ladies were sitting on the upper deck of the steamer and were thrown down by the force of the collision, Mrs. Klein being rendered unconscious. All of the hospitals and hotels have been searched by the anxlous relatives of the women without suc-

President of Venezuela.

Washington, Sept. 17.-Advices recived here leave little doubt that Genral Andrade will succeed General Crespo is president of Venezuela. The elecions began Wednesday and continue for three days, the polls being open from S a. m. to 5 p. m. daily. The result cannot be assured before Saturday, but Gen Andrade's election has been a foregon conclusion since the "inscription," similar to our regintry, occurred during the first two weeks of the month. As a result of that test, the two conservative andidates, ev-President Rojas Paul and eneral Hernandez, withdrew from the ontest, leaving General Andrade practically unopposed.

Hurt by Falling Bricks.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Sept. 17.—A severe windstorm swept over this city and vieinity yesterday, doing considerable damage and fatally injuring three men. They are: George K. Rochenberger, Fred Wehr and Andrew Eindefler. The men were injured by falling bricks from lemolished chimneys. Telegraph and telephone wires were prostrated and considerable damage done to barns and plate glass windows and outbuildings.

Two Got Away. Columbus, O., Sept. 17.-Yesterday three prisoners appeared in the guard from of the penitentiary and, leveling revolvers at Captain Saxbe, attempted | to escape. A fight ensued. Two of the prisoners, Botts and Clark, got away. Lincoln, the third man, was held. Benjamin James, sub-guard, was shot twice.

A Midnight Message. Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 17.-A message ame to headquarters at nearly 2 o'clock this morning at Cranberry that a body of strikers was breaking into the powder house of Edward Turnbach. Request was made for a detachment of troops. The night watchman at the powder house was one of the deputy sheriffs.

TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE.

Oh, many a vision I've cherished, To brighten the days of my life, Of a home amid roses embowered, Of some one to greet me as wife, But to have such a home as you offer, To have such a lover as you, . With a heart so devoted and tender,

Seems almost too good to be true

I remember the times in my girlhood I felt it my pride and my joy
To have your attendance at parties,
For you were the favorite boy. And though there ware handsomer maid

And others much richer than I, There was none of the group so heart-When you left without saying goodby.

I heard of you then in the city, And knew you were making a name, Each day by the efforts of genius Securing a permanent fame,
And I fancied you must have forgotten
The poor little girl you once knew,
And to have you come back as a suitor

Seems almost too good to be true. I hoped to have cards to your wedding, To the church and reception beside, Where I might with tearful emotion Congratulate you-no, the bride But to stand by your side at the altar To be solemnly married to you-It seems, when I think it all over,

As if 'twere too good to be true.

-Josephine Pollard in New York Ledger.

"Why in the fiend's name do they dress alike?" he muttered in nervous fear of another mistake. He might be archly. continually coming across the one he didn't want, like a recurring decimal. Several times he bore down on a fair girl in blue and white, but turned away, deciding that he had only come on an Isabel in another place. The lancers had begun. It was in full swing before he came suddenly on a sofa where sat the Isabel.

"Miss Dennison," he stammered, "'I'm so sorry"-

"Pray don't apologize," said she coldly. "I assure you the delay is not of the slightest moment."

"Indeed, it was quite unintentional." said the unfortunate Charlie in despair. "I have been looking for you"-"I have been sitting here the last

"I think my mother wants me," said Isabel, rising with dignity.

"May I take you to her?" "No, thank you.'

Charlie only got pardoned when everybody was going. He was mad with himself, but could not bring himself to acknowledge the real reason of his apparent neglect. He was sensitive about these constant mistakes. They went on happening, of course, the one Isabel laughing at him, which he dreaded, the other turning haughty and offended. He offered some flowers to a Dennison girl one day and she said demurely, 'Are you sure they were meant for

And when he turned away he met the scornful eyes of a girl who must be the Isabel he wanted because the girl he had left wasn't she. It was quite impossible to present the flowers, and he made a crestfallen es-

His opportunity seemed thrown into his hands, for he was invited to spend a week at a country house where the Isabel was also going with her mother. He sat next her at dinner, and to his great delight saw no other Isabel.

"We shall be a larger party tomerrow," said the young lady. "My cousins are coming. "The-the Dennisons?" Charlie al-

This was comforting. And both Isabels had such an odious habit of dressing in the same colors! Why didn't they wear different colored ribbons, like French twins? He got along fairly well, with great care and caution. One evening he saw Isabel Dennison entering the library. He knew it was his one because she had on a gray dress, whereas her cousin had worn a green one during the day. It was too dark to see her features. He followed her into the room.

"The nicest time for a chat," he said, and she made a movement as if to leave the room, flitting toward a far ther door. "Yes, but I'm afraid I can't stay," she said. "I only came to fetch something I left here.

"Well-but don't go-stay a minute," said Dacre entreatingly. He had no doubt at all about his accuracy as to identity. The other Isabel sprang forward. "Don't be a goose, cousin," said she, half laughing, "and you, Mr. Dacre, wait a minute. You know very well, Isabel, it's all a mistake, and I'd have interrupted Mr. Dacre before only he was so impetuous I had no time. He

How He Became a Cynic.

Some lovable traits of character in Prosper Merimee, the famous French novelist, who has left to posterity the reputation of a misanthrope and a cynic are revealed in the pages of Augustus Filon's "Merimee and His Friends."

M. Filon tells us how this celebrated author devoted 100 louis of his salary as senator toward pensioning an old prefect of Louis Philippe who had been ruined by the revolution of 1848, and how for 20 years he assisted and protected a humble sculptor in whom he had become interested.

M. Filon relates an incident of Merimee's childhood that shows how sus ceptible his nature was to strong impressions, and how responsible older people, and particularly parents, are for the development of certain traits in chfldren. When the future novelist was 5 years of age, he was once punished by his mother for some naughtiness of which he was guilty. Mme. Merimee, who was an artist, and who was at the time engaged at her easel, put the culprit out of the room and closed the door upon him. The little Prosper, already penitent, anxiously besought forgiveness through the closed door, expressing great contrition and promising good behavior. but the door remained inexorably shut. Finally, after much effort, he opened it ward his mother. His piteous supplications and his pathetic attitude so amused Mme. Merimee that she began to laugh! Instantly rising from his lowly posture he exclaimed indignantly, "Since you mock me I will never ask pardon again." He kept his word. Thus was

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Sept. 19. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. Topic.-Losing one's life and finding it .-

John xii, 1-8, 20-26. It may seem paradoxical, and yet it is true, that to win life we must lose it-that is, to win the highest form of life there will be much in the lower forms of life that must be sacrificed. Life comes through death; exaltation through humiliation; self glorification by mens of self abasement. This is she law of nature. "Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone; but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit." It is the law also of the worldly life. If a man wishes to get rich, if he places wealth before him as the highest standard of life, he must die to many things in life about him. He cannot enter to any great extent the social world, the world of pleasure or the world of learning.

All his time, all his energies, must be concentrated upon this one object, and if with this as his goal he is willing to die to all other things that he may live for wealth he can usually win a great fortune. If a man wants to win distinction in the world of wisdom, he must also go through the same process. He cannot amass a great fortune; he cannot be a leader in society. Everything else to a large extent must be sacrificed. All his energies must be devoted to the one line of work, and by the sacrifice of other things and the pursuit of this one alone he can ordinarily win the distinction he desires.

This law of losing that we may find, dying that we may live, is also characteristic of the spiritual world. "He that loveth his life shall lose it," says Christ, "and he that hateth his life in this world shall find it." The life that must be lost is this present life. It must be sacrificed if we are to win the eternal life of the soul in heaven. Two lives are placed before us. We cannot have both to a large extent, but w may have either. If we prefer this life, we can give up the future life and live for this only. If we prefer the better, higher life, with God, we must sacrifice this life.

To sacrifice this life for the higher life of the soul should give us no thought and no anxiety. The higher life of the soul is so infinitely beyond anything that we can achieve or attain to in this life that we should not hesitate for one single moment in making our choice. "For what shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his life?" the higher life of the soul beyond the grave. If it would not pay us to sacrifice this higher life for all the world, how could it pay us for sacrificing it for the infinitely small part of the world that any of us can win? Let us be willing to sacrifice this life for the higher life of the soul and do it.

By Our Own Deeds.

You have individualities that may be eccentricities, but they need not be. They may be your points of strength. Your efficiency may depend upon them. Do the work to which you are adapted. Make a distinct impression in the sphere of your activities. Be in league with others, for sometimes you will be unable to do much alone, but be sure to do something. To vote to do something, or for others to do something, is frequently all that is done. We shall not be judged by the deeds of the organization of which we are a part, but according to the deeds that are distinctly charge able to us. - Philadelphia Methodist.

Congregational Singing.

Congregational singing is destined to force its way into the service in spite of the attitude of music committees and choirs who can tolerate naught but high class music. The sooner these officials become satisfied that the service is primarily for the benefit of the congregation and arrange the music accordingly the wiser will they be. If the service is for the worshipers, let them partici pate in it. If it is not, they will stay away altogether. - American Hebrew.

Like Bells Which Ring Out. A man who lives right and is right has more power in his silence than another has by his words. Character is like bells which ring out sweet music and which, when touched, accidentally even, resound with sweet music. -Phillips Brooks.

Personal Purity.

Personal purity lies at the foundation of all progress. It is essential as well to the state as to the family. It is the basis of all law and decency and order and the condition of all true progress and civilization. - Jewish Exponent.

Endeavor Sparkles.

"Trusting, I promise." To keep up the pledge keep up the trusting. There are now 4,482 Christian Endeavor societies in Great Britain.

Ireland now reports 150 Christian Endeavor societies, Ulster county having 112 societies.

A new Christian Endeavor society has been organized in Rome, but there is nothing papal about it. About 50 slot machines in saloons, poolrooms and cigar stores at Kalamazoo, Mich., were removed within 24 hours after the Christian young people had declared war on them. Mexico now contains 100 Christian Endeavor societies, with 2,047 members. Twenty-eight of these are Junior societies, with 469 members. Last year there were only seven Junior societies in the country. Social committees should not wait for strangers to enter the room before they give a greeting, but appoint one of their number to stand in the hallway, or even sometimes outside the door, to invite them in and give them a hearty

FALL RIVER'S SCANDAL

Member of the Common Council Held For the Jury on Bribery Charge.

Thousand Men Quit Work In Brockton's Shoe Shops.

Fight Relates to Principle as Well as to Wage Question.

ribery case was opened yesterday afternoon with the argument of Charles R Cummings, counsel for the accused. He epresented that Hoag is a reputable ousiness man of Fall River, and the harges against him are brought by an outsider, a man whose reputation is assailed by a number of witnesses. Bobrick's testimony also lacked corroboration. Mr. Cummings applied the test of probability to the case. The crime with whah Hoag is charged strikes at the root of good government. If he vas to be held on such proof, it would be impossible to get good men to fill

Milton Reed said: "The common realth asks the court to hold Hoag on what the government alleges to be a scandalous violation of the statutes. The only way to get good men to fill public offices is to purge them of rascals and bribetakers. The case is a part of the movement for the purification of the government. Justice Levatt held that there was probable cause for holding the accused. Frank W. Hoag, for the grand jury Mr. Reed asked that the bail be raised from $1000 to $5000. The court ordered that Hoag furnish bail in the sum of $2000, and James Langford offered himself as surety in that sum.

BROCKTON'S BIG STRIKE. Over a Thousand Affected by the Disagreement Over Lasting Machines.

Brockton, Mass., Sept. 18.-The strike against the Chase Lasting Machine company in 22 of the shops of this city began yesterday. There are now more than 4000 idle operatives in this district today. The large shop of George Snow has added two more departments to the list. Secretary McSherry of the Sole Easteners' union conferred with the firm. but not with a favorable result, and 46 out of 44 finishers and all of the sole fasteners walked out of the shop.

The strike has extended from the lasters and sole inishers to the finishers by this latest move. The lasters are fighting for a principle, and the others are striking for more pay. The strike of the lasters on Chase machines is evidently being used by the sole fasteners and finishers as a lever on the manufac turers to recover the big cut in wages made during last summer, and Secretary McSherry says that every shop will be stopped if the manufacturers fail to restore prices. The grievance of the all but three or four from jumping. finishers is a reduction made early in July of 12 1-2 or 13 per cent on all grades of work.

President Tobin of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union said: "We gave the manufacturers an opportunity at one time to make such a condition as now exists impossible. solutely to have anything to do with us, and were backed by the board of trade. They refused to arbitrate with us in the past, and in every way have ignored the laborers and the union. The quietness of the recent past, induced by a desire of the union to arrive at an amicable understanding with the Brockton manufacturers, is at an end. They have seen fit to scorn any relations with the union. From now out the unions will take matters in hand with a firm grasp and with those methods employed which the unions think best. The claim that Brockton prices compare favorably with other places can be shown to be faise. The unions have tried to arrive at a mutual settlement. Now they will go forward on their own wisdom without reference to the employers."

Besides the shops in Brockton : score in the towns of Whitman, Rockland, the Abingtons, Holbrook, Randolph, Stoughton and the Weymouths have joined in the crusade against the Chase Machine company. Yesterday afternoon the lasters at Whitman and she Abingtons voted to go back to the factories in order to last shoes by hand at the established union prices for hand lasting, but whether this will be donoutside of the places named is not yet known, as some of the manufacturers may object to paying union prices.

Treasurer Walter Shaw, who is the active manager of the Chase Machine company, said that he would seek no conference with the strikers and would most assuredly keep his men in the factory of Churchill & Alden and use every effort to fulfill his contract to last the shoes of the firm. He also said he would endeaver to find men to operate the machines in the other factories where the men had gone out, provided the man ufacturers were willing. That he will do so, however, is improbable, as the lasters who refused to work on the Chase machines have notified several of the manufacturers that they will immediately return to work and last the shoes by hand at machine prices.

A Defaulter's Bondsmen.

Nashua, N. H., Sept. 18 .- One point brought out at the afternoon session of the hearing of the Indian Head National bank against the bondsmen of the defaulting cashier, Frank A. McKean, was the fact that at the time of McKean's detalcation the bank held 14 notes, amounting in the aggregate to about $3500, upon which the name of A. A. Hines appeared as maker or indorser These notes have never been paid, and although all are dated between March 8 and July 9, 1894, and appear on the loan and account books between those dates, none of the directors remembers having heard Hines' name prior to McKean's

One of the bondsmen stated yesterday that McKean's deposition was never taken at Buenos Ayres, because of the death of the United States consul there who was to take it, and his successor has never taken the matter up. It is ing to pay 56 cents, but unwilling to said that Mr. McKean has written to recognize the miners' labor organizafriends here that he would return and tion by signing with a committee.

Tar and Feathers In Vermont. Brattleboro, Vt., Sept. 18.-The tarring and feathering of a man named Williams is reported from the town of Bondville As the story goes, Williams, who is about 30, was very attentive to the daughters of Dwight Bowen, a farmer. He was warned to discontine his visits, but he persisted in calling. While there he was visited by a body of whitecaps, four of them going into the house and seizing him. In the struggle, Williams managed to draw his revolver and fire twice at the men, but without hitting

By this time the Bowen girls had come to Williams' assistance and fought the whitecaps with great vigor. They were finally taken in charge and Williams vas conducted to the yard, where many nands assisted in applying soft tar to his body, after his raiment had been removed. Finally Williams was sprinkled with feathers, conducted to the town line a mile away, and warned not to come back. Williams has been heard from and he threatens to make it warm for his assailants if he can get a warrant ou against them.

Red Light Not Seen. Andover, Mass., Sept. 18.—The through freight from Boston for Portland, Me ran into and telescoped the cabcose of the Salem coal train just outside of the station last night. A line of hose was quickly laid and the fire in the caboose extinguished. The property loss was not great, and notone was injured, but traffic was held up for some time

Lynn, Mass., Sept. 18.-Almost a panic was created among the 22 girls employed by the Standard Crayon company Thursday, through a peculiar accident in the boiler room. Three were hurt slightly by jumping from the windows, and Effie I. Rich was quite badly cut about the head and received sprains to her back and limbs.

A mason who had mounted a ladder to a position almost over the boiler found himself falling, and in doing so he either fell upon or caught hold of the safety valve, which broke under his weight. This had the effect of opening the valve and the steam rushed out with great force. The noise and then the steam frightened the inmates of the building. more especially the girls, most of whom made a quick rush for exits. Plain swimming, with its attendant diving, treading water, floating and rolling in the warm sand, is quite good enough sport for most young people, but there are a number of tricks and games in swimming which will help to make the sport more fascinating than pond.

Few people realize how very nearly the human body comes to floating. Drop your arm loosely in the water and it will rest near the surface, buoyed in its place by the pressure of the water. If it were not for the weight of the head in to Bruno and ran quickly up the wharf, proportion to the weight of the body, a man would swim as easily and naturally as a horse or a dog. With these facts in mind the good swimmer or took her seat at table. "It's 20 minutes, floater keeps as much of his body under instead of one, that you waited this the surface of the water as he can. On noon," he continued as he glanced up the same principle a swimmer may keep | at the clock. himself afloat by holding a very small piece of wood in each hand, provided he allows himself to sink deep into the |-it is!" water in the position shown in the picture. Any boy or girl may readily test this plan. It merely requires a little confidence in letting the body so deep into the water.

A big Swede named Stromberg, who made himself famous several years ago as a swimmer, well knew this plan. Sometimes in making long practice swims he took with him a compact piece of cork four or five inches square by about two inches thick. This he fastened to the back of his head by means of a small strap which ran around under his chin. When he grew tired and needed a rest, he would turn on his back and sink deep into the water. The cork float under his head was almost sufficient to buoy him up.

A boy who falls overboard from a ship, if he keeps cool and does not try expected to get work on the proposed to raise himself out of the water, as many frightened people do, can keep affoat for some time by paddling gently, his clothing acting as a float until it becomes well soaked.

One of the greatest sports "in swimming" may be had with a small rubber tube 10 or 12 feet long. Two large empty spools should be fastened to the ends of the tube by crowding the rubber into the hele in the middle of each. which has first been enlarged with a jackknife. The swimmer allows one of the spools to float on the surface of the water or fastens it near a stone or log on shore or next to a stake driven into the water. Then he places the other spool in his mouth and sinks out of sight under the water. Of course he can breathe through the tube and he can remain a considerable length of time without rising to the surface. Any boy will readily imagine the various pranks that may be played with such an invention. It will also be found useful in diving for lost objects. - Chicago

The Good Little Boy. A little boy who had been blowing bubbles all the morning, tired of play and suddenly growing serious, said, "Read me that story about heaven; it's so gloriouth."

"I will," said the mother; "but first tell me, did you take the soap out of the water?"

"Oh, yeth, I'm pretty thure I did." The mother read the description of the beautiful city, the streets of gold, the gates of pearl. He listened with delight, but when she came to the words. "No one can enter there who loveth or maketh a lie," bounding up, he said, "I guess I'll go and thee about that thoap."-Outlook.

Mr. Charles R. Sherman prefaced his remarks by stating that he did not sign Mr. Hayes' petition as he did not believe in taking the fence down, thus leaving no protection from the hairbredth escapes which he had often times witnessed at that place. He had no idea that the road would erect such an unsightly affair and attempt to remedy the difficulty in such a speaking, when he saw what had been accomplish the desired result.

President Bryant of the Council then ook the floor and made a strong argument against the fence. He said in part: The railroad seems to have discriminated against the people of Wollaston, as to depct approaches. Quincy has electric bells and Quincy and Quincy Adams both have flagmen to protect people. He considered the danger now just as great as if the fence was down for several reasons. Now the people are compelled to alight onto the inward track upon gravel heaps poorly lighted. The narrow bridge over the tracks at Beale over which the people are now forced to go, has high board fences which hide pedestrians and render them liable to be run down. Then the twenty steps are dangerous and will be more so when ice and snow comes. The steps are not wide or broad and there is no covering. The turnstile proposed is not wanted.

We want the fence removed. Remarks were also made by Mr. Frederick A. Claffin, Mr. Frank J. Perry and Mr. A. L. Baker.

At one o'clock the hearing adjourned to Wednesday, Sept. 29, at 10 o'clock 'A. M., at which time the New Haven road will present its side of the case.

A Fair Field For Women.

All we women who are active in All we women who are active in business or professions want is a fair International Doll Show field and no favor. We ask for nothing on the ground of sex. We are willing to compete with and work with men on their own ground and desire to be measured by the same standards. We increased tariff on granite will be a demand no courtesy further than that and the more the element of sex is intruded the greater the interference with the success of women.

I know of a young woman who went into a newspaper office on a purely business errand-to sell an article, in fact-Alten was had. Nothing definite came of the same time they were working night and was indignant because the reporters, this conference as Mr. Allen, as well as our and day to finish up their contracts and all of whom were busy writing, did not jump to their feet and offer her a seat. They were absorbed in their work, and most of them were probably unconscious of her presence. Perhaps 25 women enter the office of a great New York daily every day. You can easily see how it would interfere with business if the reporters should immediately stop writing and pay them the little attentions they are accustomed to in the drawing room. The woman who expects these shows her ignorance of business. If they are necessary to her peace of mind, she is out of place in the business world. - Margaret E. Sangster in Woman and the State. Touching a recent symposium (on "Should the Services of Women Be Recognized by the State? is the following opinion from Mrs. Vicbenefit that Quincy manufacturers are toria Woodhull-Martin. Mrs. Martin is the founder and editor of The Humanitarian, published in London. "Of course I believe that women should be duly honored, and if they distinguish themselves in any field-science, art, literature, politics or any other fieldthe same rewards should be open to them as men. But I do not approve of a special order or decoration for women only. It would suffice that they should be eligible for all the existing orders for men, from which women are not debarred by a mere accident of sex. I am in favor of woman competing on equal terms with man in all spheres and receiving equal rewards, no more and no less. Then the best will come to me orders and decorations matter little. They are of no value in themselves. Honor, not honors,' is my motto, but, all the same, there is no reason why women should be debarred from receiv ing them. In a country where a woman is 'the fountain of honor' this is surely a strange anomaly.

The Single Woman.

Under present conditions the married woman, even at her best estate, is always more or less restricted and hamformed last evening at the club house pered. It is not the fault of her husband The single woman is free to make of her life what she will. The single life is the life of liberty and splendid achievement-achievement which the married weman can hope to attain The organization started under very only under exceptionally favorable conditions. Let those who enjoy the single and opportunity. Let them keep the appellation "miss" and make the most of their freedom. The title "miss" cannot take away from their dignity; the title "Mrs." cannot add to it. The free, glorious woman herself is beyond all trivialities of that sort .- Eliza Archard Conner.

The Principle Involved.

The question how women would vote on certain matters-whether they would vote for temperance or against it or in driveways. favor of gambling or prizefights-has little to do with the main principle involved. We are face to face with the object until the membership proves too fact that many thousands of women in this country are thoroughly qualified to vote, and they pay taxes without representation. The state may or may not need the intelligence or moral power which they represent. But has it any right to deprive them of this function of citizenship? And are those who are able and willing to perform their duties in this respect to be proscribed from voting because many women, like many men, place little value en the right of suffrage?-Boston Christian Register.

The Next Century Test.

Man is not meant to be a creature of one activity. The test of the nineteenth century was the enfranchisement of man and the exaltation of woman. The at 9 A. M. test of the twentieth century will be just the reverse-woman's enfranchisement and man's exaltation. There is no Quincy, Aug.28 -3w We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for the human race. Every woman is some man's daughter and every man is some woman's son. - Miss Frances Willard.

A Brave Woman.

Mrs. Florence Sparrel of Boston is one of the bravest women of the century. She attacks all the mediæval abuses which linger in the prison systems of America, and in many instances has secured the abolition of "bread and water" and "solitary confinement." She has shown the iniquity of depriving saint or sinner of God's light and of plunging human souls into darkness to prey on their own misfortunes.

FEATURES OF THE WEEK.

Extraordinarily L rg Bank Clearings and Mercan. a Collections.

New York, Sept. 18.—Bradstreet's this eek says: Notwithstanding unseason ably warm weather and the appearance of yellow fever in several Gulf states, hecking locally the distribution of merchandise, business throughout the country had increased more than anticipated. The center of inprovement is Chicago which furnishes the most favorable trade report within five years. Advices from Kansas City, Omaha, St. Paul and St. Louis also reflect activity in demand among jobbers and wholesalers. There is a temporary stimulus to business at Savannah, owing to the withdrawal of competition from merchants at towns now cut off by the fever quarantine. The practical settlement of the bituminous coal strike, a further rising ide of demand for iron and steel products, the withdrawal from the market of some manufacturers of woolen goods, activity generally among manufacturers of woolens, extraordinarily large bank clearings and reports that mercantile collections have improved con stitute the features of the week. Bank clearings for six business days ending with Sept. 16 (none estimated) aggregate $1,386,000,000, and form the largest week's total since January, 1893, at the top of the boom which preceded the panic of four years ago, one of the ergest like totals ever reported. The increase over last week is 25 per cent and fully 52 per cent over the total in the second week in September, 1896. There is an increase of more than 27 pe cent compared with the corresponding figures in 1895, nearly 53 per cent con trasted with the corresponding figure n 1894, and 74 per cent compared with the like total in the panic year 1893. When comparison is made with similar aggregates for three years preceding whole, was exceptionally large, this week's total shows a gain of 25 per cent over the total in 1892, 15 per cent over that in 1891, and 8 per cent over the total or the second week of September in 1890, a period marked by an exceptionall heavy business

This week 169 business failures are re ported throughout the United States ompared with 175 last week, 315 in the veek a year ago, 218 two years ago and a like number three years ago, and as ompared with 346 in the second week of September, 1893.

The price for 30 of the more important staples continues to show pronounced trength, on seven being lower than last eek. Unchanged prices are reported for copper, coal, print cloths, leather, hides, and for wool and oats, which remain very strong with an upward tenency. Higher prices are given for ugar, rice, coffee, butter, eggs, potaoes and canned goods among food prodicts, for woolen goods for spring delivery and for some grades of men's hoes and other things.

Toronto merchants report the larges distribution of general merchandise vithin a week for 10 years and free de iveries of grain, good prices for which ontinue to stimulate interior buying Considerable activity marks the merchandise movement at Montreal.

SULLIVAN'S WILDNESS

Responsible In Part For the Big Score Made by the Bostons.

Then New Yorkers Couldn't Hit Nichols In Safety.

Baltimores and Phillies Won One Game Each on the Baltimore Grounds.

Boston, Sept. 18 .- The New Yorks are lost in the shuffle. Their dream of the Temple cup series has vanished. They were beaten by Boston yesterday. Never before has a club been forced to suffer such a humiliating defeat. Not a run was scored by the giants in nine innings, while in eight the home team tallied 17. It was an awful shock, and one that the New York rooters will not forget for a

It happened that Boston won in the first place by batting. In the second because of Sullivan's wildness. The whole ecret of the game was that Nichols pitched ball that has not been equalled on the home grounds this season. New York batters who had found Klobedanz a mark were completely baffled by Nichols, and when this is said the entire story of the game is told. The New Yorks in the ninth inning made a desperate effort to score, but were blocked by the superb fielding of the home team.

two pacing kings. He had the pole, the place being won by the flip of a coin, and from the word he cut the route and was not headed. Pointer won the first heat in comparatively easy form in 2:04%. McCleary was driving in fine style, and he counted on the second heat being taken with equal ease. Patchen had faltered some in the first argument. An experiment had been tried in his shoeing. For the first time in weeks delay was caused in getting the word, due to his breaking. His rounding in form was superb, and the crowd of 45,000 people was immensely pleased at his swiftness. Time, 2:04%; 2:03. The remaining heat will be paced today.

Won a Championship. Chicago, Sept. 18 .- Joseph Lloyd, the professional from the Essex County Golf club, Manchester-by-the-Sea, Mass. won the open golf championship for 1897 on the links of the Chicago Golf club at Wheaton yesterday afternoon. His total score was 162. William Anderson, the phenomenal young player from the Misquient club, Watch Hill, R. I., was a close second, with 163. James Foulis, now ex-champion, finished third with 168. Willie Dunn of the Ardsley club tied with him. Thirty-four men finished the 36 holes under 200.

Philadelphia, Sept. 18.—The cricket match between Captain Warner's team of British amateurs and a team of 22 "colts" selected from the junior members of the various Philadelphia cricket clubs was begun at noon yesterday. Robert S. Newhall, the veteran player, acted as captain for the colts. The Phillies won the toss and chose to go to the bat first. Increase In the Pension Appropriation Considered Probable by Mr. Evans.

Washington, Sept. 18 .- Commissioner Evans of the pension bureau said yesterdaythat he thought it would be necessary this year to ask the congress for a deficiency appropriation on account of pensions. He said: "I estimate that the total payments for the year will not exceed $147,500,000 and the appropriation be an unexpected falling off in the revenues, the pension payments might be curtailed toward the end of the year, although I don't think that is at all likely." The increased payments would be due chiefly to the fact that there are about 200,000 old claims pending which it is the intention of the bureau to adjudicate as rapidly as possible. The claims allowed probably would call for something like $5,000,000. There also had been a remarkable increase in the number of new pension applications, and these would increase expenditures largely.

In answer to a suggestion that there might be a deficit in the treasury at the end of the fiscal year the commissioner said that he had examined into the matter somewhat and was of the opinion that there would be a sufficient increase in the revenues before the year was over to prevent a deficit.

To Restrain the Lawless.

Washington, Sept. 18.—The report from Captain Ray, the army officer who was sent to Alaska to investigate the condition of affairs there, showed that without doubt great suffering must be expected in the Klondyke region this winter, owing to the lack of food supplies. He regarded it as essential that some kind of force acting under lawful authority be placed at St. Michaels to restrain the lawless element.

The soldiers will be under the lead of Lieutenant Colonel Randall of the Eighth infantry, now at Cheyenne, and there will be a surgeon and three members of the army hospital corps, because of the report of the prevailing sickness in Alaska.

The Alaska Transportation and Trading company will start another boat from Seattle for St. Michaels within the next seven days. The boat will take up mainly food and clothing supplies, but the troops will be taken also if the war department desires it.

The Times remarks: "Though Mr. Sherman so far forgot himself as to sign the famous dispatch, we cannot suppose that he actually wrote it." Only the concluding paragraph of the dispatch is republished.

SPORADIC OUTBREAKS.

Why the Troops Will Not Be Withdrawn From Hazleton.

Flats of Sabres to Be Used In Dealing With Amazons.

Fiery Speeches at Tonight's Meeting Interdicted by General Gobin.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 18.-Unless there an early and positive change for the etter in the strike situation, it is very probable that the number of troops now on the battlefield will be greatly aug nented instead of called off altogether as desired by the labor leaders. It is possible that the local authorities could deal with an emergent situation, but the sheriff is not disposed to add to the onus of responsibility assumed by him previous to the calling out of the militia. The 10,000 or more mine employes see little in the prospect to encourage an early settlement, and it is feared that things might occur, were the militia withdrawn, which might cause the Lattimer affair to sink into insignifi-An unfavorable symptom is the sporadic outbreaks, with women as the leading spirits and the men lending moral encouragement as passive spec

A captain of General Gobin's staff is authority for the statement that an un easy feeling prevails at headquarters in consequence of the little outbreaks of the past few days and the indication they hold of the underlying disturbance The brigade commander himself admitted that the action of the raiding women was giving him much perplexity He does not care to use force agains them, and has instructed the soldiers, is case of necessity, to use only the flats of their sabres upon the amazons. The story reached the general that many men were in the attacking crowds of Thursday and yesterday, disguised as women. Yesterday morning's violent cene at Audenreid, where the women closed a colliery, was almost an exact repetition of Thursday's at the same place. It arose from another attempt to start the Monarch and Star washerie of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre company About 100 men reported for work at the former when the will band of women swooped down upon them with an armament of sticks and stones. Others were stationed on top of an adjacent culm bank, where they showered missiles upon the whole of the would-be workers. A large body of men and boys waited in reserve behind the bank. The men promptly quit work before any injury could be inflicted. At the Star washery where 100 or 135 men wanted to work a like assault stopped them.

The call for troops which came from Cranberry at 2 o'clock yesterday morning was the act of a scared watchman, who mistook soldiers for strikers. All the dynami e that can be found in the region is being collected and stored in Turnbach's powder house to keep it from the hands of the miners. One hundred men from the Ninth regiment were sent over to guard the house. The watchman saw the lights and m figures, lost his nerve and telephoned that an attack was threatened.

Deputy Coroner Bownian will begi the inquest over the bodies of the dead miners next Tuesday afternoon. Over 100 witnesses will be examined.

General Gobin will not interfere with today's big mass meeting unless highly colored speeches are made. The principal speakers are to be P. J. Maguire. vice president of the American Federation of Labor, and George Chance of the United Labor league. As a precautionary measure a guard of soldiers will b present. Organizer Fahey and other leaders have asked that the militia b withdrawn, and General Gobin has advised them that the speediest way to accomplish this will be to stop holding mass meetings and thereby exciting the people.

The only change in the strike situa tion proper yesterday was the return to work of the 500 men employed at Coxe's Beaver Meadow colliery. The miners say that this is only temporary, and that if the other Coxe men at Drifton and elsewhere decide at their meeting of next Monday to go out the Beaver Meadow men will join them.

Stamps to Be Different.

Washington, Sept. 18.-While on account of an agreement made by the international postal congress, there will be no change in the color of the 2-cent postage stamp, the color of the other denominations will be altered. The congress provided for uniform colors for stamps of each country. This will require a change in the 5-cent stamp which represents the single rate of for eign letter postage. It is now a light brown, but it will become a dark blue. The 1-cent stamp, now a blue, will be changed to green. These changes will become operative on the first day of January, 1899.

Much Afflicted Family.

Chatham, Ont., Sept. 18.-Mr. Howard, a well to do farmer, awoke yesterday morning and found his house in flames Three of his daughters were burned to death. He, Mrs. Howard and three sons escaped. One of the girls was seen to rush back into the house in an attempt to save her sisters, but all three perished. Two of the sons were badly burned, and Mrs. Howard was seriously, f not fatally, injured.

Took Paris Green. Manchaug, R. I., Sept. 18.-Mitchell Benoit of this place committed suicide by taking paris greek yesterday afternoon while at the Joslyn House, Webster. The physicians worked over him for an hour, but Benoit kept saying, "Let me alone; I want to die." He was despondent. His age was 50 years, and he leaves a whe and family.

ystematic Efforts to Stamp Out Rowdyism-Will the Magnates Be Equal to the Occasion?—Home Stretch In the Pennant

Two young stars who entered the National league within the last 12 months with the most brilliant prospects have almost thrown away their fortunes by the excessive use of liquor. One is Lajoie of the Philadelphia club and the other is Sockalexis, the much talked of Indian on the Cleveland team. Both were recognized at once as players who had abilities to stay among the major stars from the outset. Neither could stand flattery and success. Probably they had the love of strong drink before they reached the goal of their ambition in the baseball profession, and their success among the "top notchers" set that

She held the national ness, Lajoie's indefinite (?) suspension was | championship two years ago, but by a comremoved and he went back upon the team. Is it a matter of wonder that the Phila delphia team is constantly rent with breaches of discipline?

Last year Rusie was out of the game all season because the New York club would not remit two fines of $200 each. President Freedman admitted that Rusie's presence in the nine for one game only would be worth $5,000 to the club and his presence with the club for the season at least $25,000 more, but he declared he would close the gates of the Polo grounds for good before he would remit the two fines. History shows how firmly that stand was maintained and how it was applauded by every one who whose convictions of right cannot be moved by the temptation of gain. This year there is no better disciplined team in the land than the New Yorks, and Rusie is the most tractable of them all. The rich harvest which comes to the club from this year's campaign is, much of it, the fruits of the club's resisting the moneyed temptation last season.

plorable as that of Lajoie. He entered the big League under the most flattering conditions. His ball playing—particularly his batting—surprised the veterans of the profession and became the talk of "fandom" for the first month or more of the season. Then the fact that he was of full Indian blood, though highly educated and pos sessed of all the refinements of a white man, made him doubly a hero in every city where the Cleveland team played.

Suddently his heavy batting declined, his fielding became ragged and his playing in general ranged from poor to bad. Finally he dropped out of the nine entire ly. The real cause was for awhile suppressed. A bad ankle was the excuse given to the public, but facts cannot be strangled, and the truth went abroad. Sockalexis had succumbed to the curse which has been the bane of his nationality ever since civilization in America put whisky within the reach of the aborigines. Sockbe determined to redeem his great error. What is the queerest part about his case is his claim that until he became a ball player he did not know the taste of whisky. But when he rose to be a hero and a public pet his admirers surrounded him. They must do him homage. Mere flattery was not sufficient; more seemed to be required to show their admiration for the young Indian ball player. Whisky! Indians instinctively liked whisky. Sockalexis was importuned to "join us." His first refusals were soon broken down. The step was taken. All the national love of "fire water" lying dormant in his soul flamed out, and the famous new star of the baseball field went out like a meteor.

Mr. A. S. Soden of the Boston club, who is also chairman of every National league meeting, has announced that at the approaching annual conclave in November at Philadelphia the first and chief object of the delegates will be to devise some effective and positive means to stamp out rowdyism on the ballfield. He proposes to bring every club president and manject, and once a plan is devised to bind them down to it with means which shall be ironclad and which cannot be trampled under foot as soon as the season ends. Mr. Soden's design is most commendable, and if all his fellow club presidents were of his ourage and stability of mind the object could be accomplished, but past experience teaches that these magnates get together between seasons and covenant to among their players. They are philosophers then, but as soon as the championthe field begin, they become the crankiest eye until dead. The teeth are extracted $60,000 out of the fights he has won, inof cranks. games. I have seen the president of one of New York's leading banks in the most ridiculous actions during games at the Polo grounds. He will shout "Thief!" "Rotten!" "Kill him!" at the umpire and root in tight places like a boy on the bleachers, jumping up and down in his seat, waving his hands, stamping the floor with both feet like pile drivers, perspiring like a harvest hand and making himself notoriously ridiculous. Next day at his bank it takes two yards of red tape, a wait of 30 minutes and lots of moral courage to get into his dignified presence. This incident is real and not a picture of the mind. It explains why the word "crank" was introduced into baseball. And when we consider that two of every three club owners and presidents of National league clubs are baseball "cranks" it is the more easily understood why the well laid winter

The remarkable achievements of the three leaders in "the home stretch" have fulfilled predictions, but the three have all been so nearly invincible that the New Yorks, handicapped with six games in the rear when the triple struggle began, have not been able to overhaul their two rivals in spite of their most remarkable run o victories. Who Richard Savage Was.

One of the plays Mr. Nat Goodwin is go ing to produce this season is entitled 'Richard Sayage." Few people seem to know who Savage was. He was a scur-rilous pamphleteer, whose pen was always in and out of venom. He would have died long before he did die had he not been be friended by Dr. Samuel Johnson, who was his one friend in the world.

How Mr. Goodwin is going to make hero of Savage is a mystery. Savage has been mentioned as an English Poe, but cus, 2:1114, and she is the first of his get Poe had genius, and Savage possessed only the talent of a fifth class man.

The man with his right hand grasps his partner's left, and the racing couples start off. The ob ject of the race is for each couple to ride over the course as fast as they can without unclasping their hands. As the horse of course, is much speedier than the don key, it requires a good deal of skill to keep near enough together for them to do this The couple that cover the course in the best time without losing their grip on each BRAINTREE, MASS. other win.

The trotter Bismarck, who earned a record of 2:12 2 at the Dover (N. H.) meet, is owned by S. E. Bailey. Prior to the meet at Old Orchard, Me., no one knew him-at least not outside of his stable guardians. Bismarck is a stallion 7 years old, bred by Mr. Doughty of Gray, Me. sired by Bayard Wilkes. He was trained by C. S. Richards, was raced some during 1895 and again in 1896, getting a mark of 2:231/4. On July 5 this year he started on a half mile track in the backwoods for a purse of $30. He won, getting $15 and a mark of 2:2014, the time being 2:2014 2:201/2, 2:201/4. Then he started at Old Orchard. way. He was of ambitious, vigorous youth. A puff an insignificant, invisible atom some of the Horses That Have Recently of dust in one of his eyes. It blinded Been Making Records - Bismarck and him. He clasped his hands over his eyes and staggered on, only to be run down and killed by a cable car. That man's death was due to an insignificant trifle, an atom of dust that was barely visible under the microscope. It is thus with health. Men find that they are suffering from a trifling disorder of the digestion. It doesn't amount to anything, they think, and time is precious. They don't stop to correct it, but stagger blindly on and are run down in the heyday of ambitious youth by death.

Neglected indigestion is the first cause of all manner of wasting diseases and all forms of nervous disorders. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all disorders of the digestion. It invigorates the liver, imparts a keen, hearty appetite and causes the life-giving elements of the food to be perfectly assimilated. It purifies the blood and builds healthy tissue. It is the great blood-maker, flesh-builder, and nerve tonic. It cures consumption, wasting diseases and all disorders of the nerves.

"I was a sufferer five or six years from indigestion," writes B. F. Holmes, of Gaffney, Spartanburg Co., S. C., "also from sore stokach and constant headache. I then used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets,' which in a few days gave me permanent relief."

"The People's Common Sense Adviser" explains symptoms of ailments common to every family, and suggests remedies. It has several chapters on woman's diseases and weaknesses. An edition in heavy paper covers will be distributed absolutely free. Send the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps, to pay the cost of mailing only. Cloth binding may be had for 31 stamps.

Same corps of teachers. Temperance Meeting.

A public temperance meeting was held last Thursday evening in Doble's Hall, under the auspices of Merry Mount lodge, No. 55, I. O. G. T. The programme for the evening was in charge of P. J. Chisholm, District Templar of Suffolk district, who was introduced by Mrs. S. Harris, Chief Templar of Merry Mount lodge.

The musical part of the programme, in charge of Miss Lizzie Blair Olive, the popular soprand singer and Mr. Lyon Ferrond, the well-known tenor singer of Boston was delightful.

Remarks by C. A. Hobart, H. L. Chase, J. P. Bigelow, Jr., R. Bishop and Miss Katie Crowley, all popular and prominent members of the lodge, were received with hearty applause Also the remarks by members of Klippan lodge of Quincy, and Corner Stone lodge of Hingham. The address of the evening was delivered by P. J. Chisholm, Grand Counsellor of Massachusetts. It was forcible, logical and made new recruits for the Good Templar order.

The readings of Miss Ruby C. Neil and Miss Susie Doane were highly appreciated, as were also the piano duets by Misses Chisholm and

Castle Square Theatre.

The regular season at the Castle Square Theatre is progressing most successfully and the productions made are attracting audiences limited in number only by the capacity of the house. The members of the company are steadily maintaining the high standard of excellence which characterized all the productions of the summer season and the enterprise of the management is daily gaining large numbers of regular subscribers for the performances of the coming months. It will gratify the patrons of the theatre to learn that Director General Tony Cummings has decided upon the revival of the famous play "My Partner," by Bartley Campbell, the coming week. Following "My Partner," which is announced every afternoon and evening of the coming week only, comes a grand production of Belasco and De Mille's 'Men and Women." The regular season has begun with increasing popularity and no play house in Boston draws larger audiences.

Keith's Theatre.

Now that the long engagement of the Symphony Orchestra players has come to an end, the Keith management will cast about for son other attractions to interest their patrons. Many notable bookings are announced for the near future, including Pauline Hall, Felix Morris, Lillian Burkhart, Henry E. Dixey and Kate Claxton of "Two Orphans" fame. For the week of Sept. 20 Mr. and Mrs. Milton Nobles have been engaged, and their sketch is rated as one of the notable successes of the vaudeville this season. It is called "Bilgeville Junction," a farcical episode, naturally worked out, prettily told and well acted. New Orleans' Board of Health Takes Complacent View.

Vigorous Effort to Improve City's Sanitary Condition.

Detention Camp and Place For Reception of Indigent Patients

the sanitary forces was unabated yes erday, and the officers employed them selves in hunting up many old rookerie where people are closely crowded and where they live in filth. Many of these places were subjected to complete disinfection and cleaning.

At a largely attended meeting of bank ers, business men, ministers and repre sentatives of labor organizations it wa resolved to ask the board of health to consider the advisability of adopting next Tuesday as a general cleaning day Acting Mayor Brittin and President Ol liphant replied to the suggestion, strong ly deprecating it. They wrote that i would be inadvisable and inexpedien to determine upon a fixed day for clean ing purposes, as such a movement would cause an accumulation of filth and trash which could not be removed at once; and by stirring up the miasma they would further endanger the health of the city instead of improving it. It was suggested, therefore, that each inhabitant of the city proceed without delay to the cleaning of his own premise to the disinfection of his water closets alleys, yards, etc., and the destruction of all decaying matter by fire.

The record last night was six nev cases, one death, and three cases unde examination. Owing to the vigorou efforts to prevent the spread of the fever, it is felt that New Orleans will escape freely by the health authorities.

The report of Dr. Metz, the city cher ist, on the condition of the Italian quarter moved the board to prompt action He found as many as 60 people huddle together and living in filth. In one room a goat was found sleeping nightly with the family which owned it. The woman, Graffato, who died Satu Lay, was taken from this quarter, and the board realzed that unless something was done at once the block in which the woman had lived was likely soon to become a plagu spot. It was therefore decided to guard and thoroughly disinfect and fumigate the entire square, and to remove as soon as possible most of the families to the old marine hospital. The hundred squatters who occupy the latter building will be given quarters in one of the new schoolhouses in the vicinity, and the hospital buildings will be perman ently used as a refuge for the familie of the Italian quarters and those of th indigent sick throughout the city. House Surgeon Bloom has had a conference with President Olliphant relative to establishing a place to which indigent yellow fever patients may be removed. There are usually 700 or 800 patients in the charity hospital, and it is considered highly dangerous to re ceive fever patients there. Dr. Bloom said that the institution was ready to g to any expense to provide a supplemen tary hospital. At this conference Dr. Beard submitted an offer of the free use of the old smallpox detention camp, which is entirely disconnected from the hospital, and it seems likely that the offer will be accepted. There are now two patients suffering with yellow fever in the cha .ty hospital, and their pres ence, although they occupy isolated apartments, is deemed a serious men-

The detention camp at Fontainbleu is guests. A special train went to Biloxi and Ocean Springs Sunday, and from there carried about 40 people to the camp. Today the camp was thrown open to all comers. Those who are not immunes will have to stay 10 days ac cording to the federal law, which Surgeon Murray, as the commander of the camp s bound to enforce.

At Mobile. Mobile, Ala., Sept. 20 .- The official bulletin shows 11 new cases of yellow fever. There has been one death, that of Frank Donaldson, 16 years of age, and a paper carrier. The total cases to date are 29; total deaths, 3.

The calm was intensified Sunday, all traffic being suspended and the streets being even deserted by the usual throng of worshippers. Not only have many people gone away, but those remaining think it prudent to avoid gatherings. The president of the board of health comments upon the day's report as follows: "The cases reported were taken, one on the 12th, one on the 13th, one on the 14th, three on the 15th, four on the 16th and one on the 18th, so there is shown that there has been but one new case in the past 24 hours. > Knives and Revolvers. Providence, Sept. 20.-The women in two families at Little Italy quarrelled Friday over a clothesline, and again Saturday over the respective merits of their children. When their husband came home from work they told them th story, and the hot Italian temper decided that bloodshed was the only way to set tle the difficulty and avenging their in sults. The men and women started out each of the former having a knife and revolver in his pocket. The shooting and stabbing began immediately. The When it was over one Restio was found lying on the ground with a 38-caliber bullet in his abdomen and a man and two women were covered with blood. The men who had done the shooting and stabbing had fled, and the police who reached the scene soon after the shooting began were able only to capture Camello Perrino. At the last city election there were 4,076 name on the voting lists of the city, so there are more school children than voters.

But 3,870 residents of Quincy are assessed on property so that each property holder on an average is called upon to educate more than one child in our public schools, but it is probably a Wrinkle fact that the total tax of half the property holders Vamoos will not educate one child.

This year the Assessors assessed 4,533 people for a poll tax only, so that if all these paid there would be more single polls than school children. Other interesting comparisons might be made.

Sunday afternoon the reply to his telegrams was received. It was brief but enough to arouse the greatest sympathy among his people at West Quincy. In brief it was that Mrs. Brown was walking along the street while a short distance behind her was a man named Charles Carter carrying a gun. The man stumbled and fell and the gun wa discharged. The shot took effect Mrs. Brown's legs at the knees. S. may be crippled for life.

The sad news was a terrible sho to the people of West Quincy who have nothing but the profoundest sympath for their pastor in his deep affliction. The pulpit was supplied Sunday the Presiding Elder, J. H. Mansfie who feelingly alluded to the accident.

THE JOHN WORTHY SCHOOL FOR JU-VENILE OFFENDERS.

An Annex to the Chicago Bridewell Which Removes Young Prisoners From the Contaminating Influences of Prison Life and Gives Them a Chance to Reform

An earnest effort to solve a difficult problem in criminology is being made by the city of Chicago. What to do with the young hoodlums of the streets who were constantly violating the laws and city ordinances, but who had not yet developed into hardened criminals, was a question which long puzzled the authorities. Many of the boys did not deserve to be sent to the reform school, where they would have to stay for a street, West Quincy, spent Saturday with the young hoodlums of the streets where they would have to stay for a long term of years and from which they would emerge worse than when they

There was no intermediate place between the reform school and the city bridewell, and to the latter they were sent, there to mingle with men old in sin. It was practically a school of crime s about to take up his residence in Boston, and for them. They associated and became acquainted with a class of men far more depraved than those with whom they would naturally have come in contact on the streets. They learned to look up to them and to emulate their evil deeds. Many protests were made against this system, but no remedy was suggested until John Worthy, a rich resident of the North Side, was appointed bridewell inspector in 1891. In a conscientious attempt to perform the duties of his office he became very much interested in the juvenile offenders whom he saw behind the First church at Salem has been ap- the bars. He realized the grave defects of the system which threw them into daily companionship with the worst of Today's price, $1.67. the city's criminal class, and he at once set about the work of changing it.

As a result of his efforts the proposi tion was made to establish in the bridwell a department where incarcerated boys should not only be separated from older criminals, but where they should be given useful instruction and receiv both mental and manual training. Although the project was not received with anything like enthusiasm it was agreed that the experiment should be for some time. But this was not giving the scheme a fair trial, and in 1893 the city council grudgingly appropriated $80,000 to build and equip a new wing for the purpose. It was finished two years later and in honor of its promoter called the John Worthy school. Last March the school, which had been put in charge of the board of education, was opened and since then has been conducted with much success. It was not to be expected that the school would work any miraculous change in the youthful sinners who found their way inside the bridewell walls. Most of them are committed for terms averaging not more than three weeks at a time, and some for even shorter periods, so that they hardly get interested in their studies before they leave to go on the streets again. There have been not a few cases, however, which have shown that the system is bearing good results. A dozen or more boys who had formerly spent their time in mischievous if not actually criminal pursuits have, after leaving the prison school, been permanently reformed and are either regular attendants at the public schools or have gone to work with the serious intention of living honestly and respectably. At present there are about 90 boys in the school, and most of these are under 15. Older lads, who might be benefited just as much, are put to work in the bridewell shops, where their labor is wanted. An effort will be made to change this system, as there are accommodations for 300 boys in the John Worthy school. There is no dormitory connected with the school, so the boy are obliged to sleep in bridewell cells. where an attempt is made to keep them apart from the older prisoners. This condition of affairs will soon be changed for a new dormitory is to be built with in the walls, but entirely separated from the bridewell. Under the present regime the boys rise at 6:30, spend half an hour arranging their cells, receive their bread and coffee breakfast at 7 and at 8 o'clock are marched into the school playgrounds, where they are at liberty un til 9. Then they go to the schoolrooms In the forenoon half of them are taught the lower English branches, while the others are given manual instruction. They are taught to use carpenters' tools Grown people must not fail to see this unique collection of curious, rare and beautiful dolls—there are nearly two hundred—all have a history, and every state in the Union, as well as many foreign countries, is represented. It has helped to raise money for many children's charities in Boston, and the owner has generously lent it to the Quincy Home Science Association for the benefit of whose Vacation Kindergarten work it is to be exhibited.

They are taught to use carpenters' tools and turn out simple little articles, which are either given away or destroyed, none of the products being put on the market. In the afternoon the classes are reversed. Other lines of manual instruction are to be introduced, and in time Chicago hopes to greatly reduce her Chicago hopes to greatly reduce her

A NEW YORK GIRL SHOOTS A BIG BEAR IN MAINE'S WOODS.

Dainty Morning Gowns-Women as a Race. A Tribute to Southern Women-Straw Home Goods-West Virginia Women. Materials For Winter Gowns.

A New York girl has killed one of the biggest bears ever slain in the Dead river region of Maine. This daring sportswoman is Miss Hattie M. Richards, the daughter of a Grand street dry goods merchant, who lives at 130 West Eighty-sixth street.

She is still in Maine's deep woods close friend of the family to tell of it. He gave the facts upon receipt of a long letter from Miss Richards describing ner remarkable achievement.

Mr. Richards left New York recently with his family to spend six weeks in his handsome camp at Chain of Ponds, on the Megantic fish and game preserves, which consist of 250 square miles of the choicest hunting grounds Miss Richards carried a rifle that had been made expressly for her. She is familiar with the use of firearms and has often brought down deer, but this was the first time she had had a chance to tackle a bear. Suddenly there was a loud cracking of the underbrush, and looking in that direction she saw a huge black bear oming toward her. Bruin trotted along in blissful igno-

an with rifle raised waiting for him When he had approached to within 200 feet of her, she fired. The bullet struck the girl, but when it was about 70 feet away Miss Richards' rifle cracked again, and the bullet hit the bear behind the ear and killed it.

As a sportswoman Miss Richards has few equals. She is 23 years old, of athletic build and spends her summers in the woods with rifle and rod. The members of the family are fond of outdoor life. Their home is filled with trophies of the hunt, and they have a fine collection of firearms. - Boston Globe.

Dainty Morning Gowns.

"Everybod should bear in mind that the most essential point in attaining a well dressed appearance is to study consistency and becomingness, as well as the latest modes in cut and fabrics,' writes Mary Katharine Howard in The Woman's Home Companion. "The gown for the morning may be of the most expensive material, yet if it be of fabrics designed for evening wear and made after the style of a street or reception costume both time and money have been thrown away in the effort to make something suitable to the time.

"The morning house gown, and especially that of thin, airy, flowing materials, has an irresistible fascination for the æsthetic woman. If she is a success in this r single dress, she pretty well understands the art of selecting, in color and style, the gown that best harmonizes with her surroundings and her own individuality, and she wears it with the air of never having considered | today. - F. Hopkinson Smith in Scribthe effect at all.

"The morning gown affected by the women of today is less the wrapper and more the dainty dress in which one can appear with all propriety outside the door of her own boudoir. In it she is appropriately gowned, and, while it is not stiffened with bones, stays and interlinings, the contour of the figure is not entirely hidden, as in the days when the Mother Hubbard wrapper went swirling in uneven fullness and slovenly fold about her feet and waist. Not that we wholly condemn this comfortable lounging gown, which, when used in that capacity, is a comfort giving garment, but let its use be confined to the lounging room, and not at the breakfast table or for the reception of carefully and becomingly gowned in the early morning not only adds greatly to her appearance from the point of good dressing, but takes on a more youthful appearance, and the effect she has upon those around her is by far more pleasing than if she has the look of having snatch a bite with the rest of the house-

Women as a Race.

All women have fathers as well as mothers. That is a fact of natural history which we do not suppose the most advanced of the crowds who are now writing about women and their proghunting and fishing. It was left to a they would certainly like to deny it if they could. The assumption which underlies all their views is that women are not only different from men physically, intellectually and morally, but that they belong to a different race, which may, as time advances, have a destiny of its own. They write as if the great Hindoo legists, who hold that female property should descend only to females, had perceived part of a great truth, which is that women are continuously separate from men, inherit nothing from them and are forever advancing upon a line of their own which will in the end, or, at all events, may in the end, after what Mrs. Green calls an anarchic period, develop in them something probably superior to anything in men, or, at the worst, something radically different.

The human race with these writers s male, but women are female and therefore something quite other than human. Their strength and their weakness, their virtues and their failings, belong to themselves, and no more belong to a common humanity than the qualities of cattle and the qualities of the felidæ belong to a common animal nature. They have a different line as well as a different law of progress, and will in the end develop into beings entirely separate from men, probably much higher, but at all events so different that to reason from the progress of one sex to the progress of the other is is futile as to reason that because wolves have in the course of unnumbered ages developed into dogs therefore cats must in the course of countless æons develop into dogs also. In the violence of their recoil from the Tennysonian idea that woman is but lesser man the more fanatic writers attribute to her qualities, faculties and, above all, a future fate which would, if their assumption were true, prove her to belong to an essentially different species, which resembles man only for a moment when, as it were accidentally, she is level with him the bear in the neck and made a bad in a race in which she is destined to be wound, which caused the animal to far the first. The fact that, as all mer grow very savage. It made a rush for are the sons of women, they must share in any inherited excellence, or even change, which their mothers may develop is not so much denied as ignored and the whole question treated as if all The bear was an old fellow and men were the descendants of Adam and

It may be because of the associations of my own early life. I can still remember the broad arms and capacious lullaby rest of the old black mammy who brought me through from babyhood to boyhood, or it may be because those and succeeding days accustomed my ears to the cadence of the liquid voices of the south, but certain it is that today there is no sound that escapes human lips so grateful as are the soft tones of a southern woman. This sweet soul, with her velvet tread and touch, had doubtless a sad history of her own-a shattered past-nothing left but a few graves, the whereabouts of some perhaps unknown to her. Since those cruel days there had come privation and bitter poverty and that dread loneliness which sometimes takes possession of the helpless. And yet nothing had disturbed her exquisite patience or robbed her of the marvelous restfulness of manner and refinement which distinguishes the southern woman of today. If this gentle lady had suffered none of these things, I am all the more glad for her sake. And vet, all the same, I think I have read her signs aright, the indications are always so plain and so many of her sisters have trod the wine press, too, and still do. Yet nothing has ever imbittered the sweetness of their natures or cramped their generous hospitality. What they had they gave—gave cheerfully and graciously-and so they do

Straw Home Goods.

It has been a work of time and patient experiment for the chemists to discover the different pigments and substances that would successfully dye straw and grass fiber, but they have conquered the problem at last.

The bulk of the manufacturing of baskets made from willow peelings is done in Germany. The impetus that has come to the dealers in fancy and millinery goods of straw has also affected the basket dealers, and novel combinations of stitches and plaitings and beautiful studies in color make a collection of latest made baskets most interesting. The improvements in the dyer's morning callers. The woman who is art have made it possible for the makers to avail themselves of many patterns and designs that only needed the harmonious touch of color to make them salable. Workbaskets, whisk broom holders, candy boxes, photograph holders, music and paper racks, jewel holders and catch alls for desk and toilet table can all be secured this season in any wrapper and reach the morning room to color that the buyer fancies, and some of the striped and plaided and dotted tops and panels to these accessories look far more like cloth than like straw. The organization which has chosen Mr. Hoard as its chief executive officer represents the result of years of combined effort on the part of the western farmers to form a coherent and reprefarmers to form a coherent and representative body. The congress is the outgrowth of the Grange movement, which a few years ago promised to knit the agricultural strength of the whole agricultural strength of the whole country into a powerful political body, strong enough to dictate to legislatures and railroads.

But the Grange proved too unwieldy, and it went to pieces almost because of its own weight. Next came the Farmers' Alliance, with its spice of political aggressiveness, and this proved even more popular as a form of organization seen, however, that little could be done were formed, with the object of demand-

He is a plain, unpretentious man of 60, who thoroughly understands agriculture in all its branches and knows, too, how to win the confidence of an audience. President Hoard is a native of New York state, but he removed to Wisconsin at the age of 21 and has lived there ever since. He served during the war as a private in the Union army and alleges that he "has never done anything startling or heroic in his whole life." He managed, however, to become well and favorably known to a great many people in Wisconsin. Some of them were farmers who had read his newspaper, and many were those who had heard him talk at farmers' institutes and similar gatherings. For years he has been in demand as a speaker, for he could always be depended upon to say something that smacked of sound common sense as well as to enliven the session by telling one or two good stories. In this way he gained a wide reputation as a humorist, and his audiences came to expect at least one funny yarn or wittily told anecdote from him whenthe crush at a bargain sale at which 22 ever he appeared in public. Perhaps his best story is one which he told during his gubernatorial canvass. It concerned Mike and Pat. Mike had bet Pat a dollar that he could carry the latter to the top of a four story building in his hod. "Oi'll take that bet," said Pat.

So Pat climbed into the hod, Mike shouldered it and the dangerous climb was begun. At the third story Mike was nearly exhausted and the hod wabbled about on his shoulder, but he recovered "Shure," said Mike, as he put the of Newton. Queens county, has in his possession a plaster cast, which he balieves may be the death mask of William Guldensuppe. It was found in a swamp a few yards from the cottage in which it is alleged that Guldensuppe was murdered by Martin Thorn and Mrs. Nack The cast is of plaster of paris and the fragments, it is stated, show the outlines of huma i features. Beside it were found a pair of old overhalls and a picce of carpet.

Mrs. Numheimer, the owner of the cottage, called at the coroner's office and claimed to identify the carpet as a piece which had been left in the cottage by the occupants prior to its being rented by Martin Thorne. Last night a number of men under the direction of the coroner began a search of the pond. with the intention, if possible, of finding other parts of the cast or the head itself.

Police Officials Deprived of Liberty and Like's to Lose Their Jobs.

City of Mexico, Sept. 20.-Edward Velasquez, chief of police; Lieutenant Cabreora, assistant chief of detectives, and Commandant Maurue Salchez were arrested. Saturday night and placed in solitary confinement by order of the fifth criminal judge, to whom had also been turned over 21 prisoners arrested for entering the municipal building on the night of the recent lynching. Public opinion is behind the government and the investigation will be pushed rapidly. The officials arrested were accompanied to the prison by the new chief of police.

"Te Deums" in thanksgiving for the escape of President Diaz were sung in all Catholic churches and cathedrals of the city yesterday by order of Archbishop Arlacon.

The government, by these arrests, has taken precautions deemed necessary by popular sentiment which has become extensively irritated, for the public fail to understand why a prisoner of so great importance as Arroyo should be left in charge of unarmed officials. High officials of the federal government have to some extent shared the popular feeling, and it is reported that at the regular cabinet meeting Friday several ministers urged that the conduct of the police should be thoroughly investigated.

The inspector general was informed was never so complete. We that he must give up his office im precautions in guarding the prisoner partment is a tremendous blow to him ities are proven criminally negligent in guarding the prisoner they will undoubt edly be severely punished, and all who took part in the lynching will be held for murder. Ernest E. Hunt of Cambridge, Mass. while riding a bicycle Saturday after noon, collided with a wagon, the shaf striking him under the heart and knock ing him from his wheel. He was take to the hospital, where he died. The conditions of the peace signed between the ambassadors of the pow ers, on behalf of Greece and Tewfi Pasha, the Turkish foreign minister are universally pronounced by the Greek press exceedingly onerous. The public generally accepts the result with mournful resignation.

The captain of the Irius Wakefield which arrived at San Francisco from New York, represents that on Aug. Second Mate Thomas Marks was stabbe and severely wounded by Louis Roland a seaman. The man is still in a critica condition. Roland was turned over to the authorities.

The Botsford block, a three-stor structure in Greenfield, Mass., was de stroyed by fire last night. The Warne building adjoining was badly damaged and the total loss on both buildings will reach $20,000. The flames started in a drug store. The Greenfield town hall next door was threatened, but was not damaged.

The state convention of the People's party of Massachusetts Saturday resulted in a prolonged battle between the fusionists and the middle-of-the road delegates over the choice of the state ticket, in which the former came out victorious by four votes. No nomination for governor was made, the convention deciding to leave the choice of the candidate with the state committee. This means that an attempt will be QUINCY. made at fusion with the Democrats.

Former Treasurer of Clinton, Mass, Served On'y Four Terms,

Telegraph Review of a Day's Life In the New England States.

Clinton, Mass., Sept. 21.-At a meeting of the board of selectmen last night, the expert accountant, who has been at work on the books of ex-Town Treasurer William F. Heaghney, reported that the shortage in Heaghney's accounts with the town amounted to $16,716.51.

Heaghney was first elected town treas urer in 1890, and served from 1801 to 1895 when he was displaced. During tha time his bond of $20,000 was renewed each year, and a number of prominen citizens, including Judge Corcoran, wer his bondsmen. As Heaghney was very popular in town, there was no suspicio that there was anything wrong with his ecounts until over four months afte the new treasurer took the office. Abou the same time that the shortage was dis overed, Heaghney failed in his busines as a druggist, which up to then had seem agly been very profitable. From his state the town will get $1800, while his bondsmen will have to make up th

Mayor Net to Blame. Fall River, Mass., Sept. 21.—The city council meeting last night was interest ng because of the report of the com mittee on investigation. It sets forth that neither Mayor Greene, Alderman Gibney nor Councilman Buron of the committee on public instruction has been guilty of impropriety. The other two members of the committee, William Shay and Frank W. Hoag, did not appear and testified, although summoned. briel A. Bobrick of Boston directly harged Hoag with an attempt to exact bribe on two occasions, once in the presence of Shay; and Patrick Gille stated to him that he could secure the votes of Hoag and Shay for $700, which testimony Gillen denied. From other evidence, th committee finds that Shay is charged with the award of plans to Architec Farnam, and that Hoag was acting in conjunction with Shay. Action on the report was delayed two weeks.

The council received a communication rom Hoag and Shay, asking that their eases in court be not prejudiced by action on the committee's report, and that they be allowed representation by counse when the report is considered. An order was unanimously adopted revoking the power of the public instruction committee to expend the school appropriations and appointing a special committee for the purpose.

In the way of further business the lity council ratified the five-year contract for electric lighting at 36 1-2 cents per light, with a sliding scale at 34 1-2

Striking Italians. Norway, Me., Sept. 21.—Yesterday the striking Italians on the Oxford Central railway at Rice's junction were in an ugly mood over the escape of Contractor Davis and Engineer Hunt Sunday night. At one time they threatened to hang the blacksmith because he did not assist them in trying to stop the team which met Detective Bassett at Peterville while he was escaping from their clutches. Alfred Bean, while walking along the highway, was shot and in jured slightly by one of the strikers, per haps by accident.

The directors of the road said they would not act until President Wilson arrived, but one or two declared that i he did not come very soon they would assume the responsibility and pay the strikers themselves.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to ocate the ball in Detective Bassett's arm, and he will go to the hospital. The injured Italians are reported comfortable. The town is arranging to trans port the strikers to Boston.

Her Last Voyage. Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 21.-Th United States frigate Constitution, "Clo ronsides," after years of repose in th Piscataqua river, left her moorings a o'clock yesterday and in tow started t Boston on what may be her last voyage The leaving was somewhat unexpected ould start today, but Commander Very who commands the expedition to Bos on, cast his weather eye aloft and de favorable yesterday they might not be today, so orders were given to get under way. This sudden departure was no known in time for any demonstration of the part of the citizens, so that when the navy tug with assistance hitched onto the old frigate and started down the rive very few except those along the water front saw her go. One old sailor fired a salute, but at the navy yard everything was quiet. Methodist Officers Fall River, Mass., Sept. 21.-The choic of officers was the chief item of busines at yesterday's session of the genera conference. passage of the order that it should state He May Be Candidate of Gold Notes from Quincy Point, Wollaston, Democrats for Governor.

Quincy is to be honored with a gubernational candidate this fall, for it is reported that Dr. William Everett of this city, the ex-Congressman has consented to be the candidate of the Gold Democrats. There has been some difficulty in public way. No one appeared for or getting a gentleman to stand, and there is no doubt but the convention of Sept. 30 will formally nominate Dr. Everett. His election may be another matter, but if he fails this year, -it is not improbable that he will try again when the odds are not so great.

The following sketch from the Herald s such an excellent one that The Ledger takes pleasure in reproducing it is William Everett was born in Watertown, Oct.

He was educated in the Cambridge High and Boston Latin schools, in Harvard College and Boston. Trinity College, Cambridge, Eng., and in the Dane law school. He was admitted to the bar in 1866, but never ractised law. In 1870 he was appointed tutor n Latin in Harvard College, and assistant proessor in 1873, resigning this last in 1877. In 1876 he was nominated for the Legislatur at the coming State election, which was by the Republicans of wards 1 and 5, in Cam bridge, but felt obliged to decline the offer, a the state constitution at that time closed the Legislature to the faculty of Harvard College.

ECCENTRIC DISPOSITION. He is rather slight in build, and his flesh an muscles are subordinated to his nerves. Hi head is deep, his forehead high, his nose sharp and prominent; his lips thin, his cheeks fur rowed, his side whiskers sparse and iron gray. Possessing a voice of pleasant quality, but no ery strong, he pitches it in every key, from A G, and it sometimes breaks on a high note While one of the wittiest of speakers, and much addicted to epigrams, not to say puns, he is lways dead in earnest, and always compels and naintains the respect and the interest of hi

In the pulpit Dr. Everett was superb in hi delivery, and he read the passages from the Bible and hymns with force and inspiring eloquence He has a wonderful memory, and is never a a loss for words. He has a good share of worldly goods, inherited from his father and uncles.

He has peculiar ideas about pleasure, holding o the tenets of the Puritans, that constant work s a sort of duty, and one has no business with leasure unless pleasure comes his way. He is a veritable book worm, and outside of a

Dr. Everett was beloved by all his pupils. Although a strict disciplinarian, his ability to in part knowledge and to plant it deep in th young mind held him dear to the hearts of a his graduates, who found the advantages of his method of education on entering Harvard. He often showed his charitable disposition by many acts of kindness toward boys with limited means, and to more than one he gave tutitio free, and even spent his hours after school and during vacation in instructing a worthy lad who dolls upon it. There will also be a table where you may buy the sweetest candy!

Grown people must not tail to see this unique collection of curious, rare and beautiful dolls—there are nearly two hundred—all have a history, and every state in the Union, as well as many foreign countries, is represented. a man who minds his own business and believes that everybody else should do likewise. His frankness in often thus expressing himself has naturally enough made him enemies among the more sensitive people, but those who understand the doctor find in him a man of sound judgment, whose opinion on all things is excellent. He has, however, an extremely strong mind, and his arguments carry with them the conviction that he feels that he is right. He hasn't any climax; in fact, it might be said, he begins with one. He starts in with a vehemence on every subject, and his ordinary conversation is characterized by this peculiarity of strongmindedness, and if he doesn't agree with one he soon tells him so. He always says what he thinks."

RELATED TO WASHINGTON Miss Leeds Is Also an Heiress and Beauty.

A young woman who is a collateral descendant of George Washington, and who is besides one of the heirs to an estate of $57,000,000, is a salesgirl in a St. Louis store and presides over the perfume counter. She is Miss Evadne La Venda Leeds. Her father is an in spector for a refrigerator company and at present the family are in but moder about $60,000. Evadne has not vet fore the estate is settled and distributed among the 1,500 heirs who are scattered about the country.

The millions which are to be distrib uted are to come from the sale of the Ball estate, one of the largest in Philadelphia. It was originally the property of Joseph Ball, who died a bachelor in 1823. It was formerly known as

MISS EVADNE LA VENDA LEEDS Hope Farm and now lies in the heart of Philadelphia. At the time of his death it was leased for a term of 84 years, and the time expired last April.
He also award valuable property in New Hand. He also owned valuable property in New Jersey. Besides this, the heirs have learned that they are entitled to several thousand dollars of the amount paid by the French government in spoliation claims. Joseph Ball was a shipowner at that time and all his vessels were destroyed. By establishing this claim the heirs will secure their full rights to the Ball estate. Miss Leeds, however, thinks more of the fact that her mother's great-grandmother was a sister of Joseph Ball and that both were cousins of Mary Ball, the mother of George Washington, than she does of the fact that Joseph Ball was wealthy.

The most sensational incident of th day was the announcement from Dr Holt, expressed to the board of health that he had discovered nine cases among his practice, the first of which had com under his observation on Friday. Dr Holt wrote a letter to President Olliphan and entrusted it to the mail, and his letter reached the board of health Monday But fearing that the letter might no reach its destination in time, Dr. Hol sent a special messenger to the residence of Dr. Olliphant. At the board of healt office, when the letter was opened, there was incredulity and then criticism ef Dr. Holt because he had adopted wha the board considered an irregular way in which to make known his cases. Im mediately upon the receipt of the letter the machinery of the board was placed in motion and inspetors were sent to the various houses where Dr. Holt reported sickness to exist. In a Famished State.

Three More Steamers to Go Up Before the River Closes.

Use of Steam Sleds In Transporting From St. Michaels.

Value of the Bicycle From a Military Point of Washington, Sept. 21.—Secretary Alger held another conference yesterday with President Weare and Michael Cudahy of the Alaska Transportation and Trading company. They announced their intention to get as much of the supplies at St. Michaels up the Yukon as possible, and it is expected that three more steamers can be run up before the river closes entirely to navigation. So far no steps have been taken to insure the carriage of supplies after that event via the mountain passes, but it is likely that this matter will now enlist the atention of the company's officers.

Secretary Alger contemplates in his scheme transportation over the Yukon by steam snow sleds. Yesterday he received a telegram from E. B. Hartley, secretary of the Klondyke Transportaion, Express and Commercial company of St. Louis, stating that that company tas already contracted for several of he locomotives and that trains will e running over the Yukon river in Deember.

MICHAEL CUDAHY.

The instructions given to Lieutenant Colonel Randall, who will command the small post to be established at St. Michaels, are very simple and direct. Secretary Alger tells him to make his way to that place with dispatch and establish a post temporarily, for it is no the intention of the department to make this a permanent post. He will preserv force if that is possible. It is expecte St. Michaels about Oct. 5.

The Bicycle's Value. Washington, Sept. 21.-The war de partment has made public the report of Lieutenant James Moss, who con manded the bicycle corps which mad the long journey from Fort Missoul Mont., to St. Louis last summer. Th purpose was to test the value of the bi cycle as a military adjunct, and the "The bicycle has a number of advantage over the horse. It does not require as much care; it needs no forage; it moves much faster over fair roads; it is not as conspicuous and can be ridden from view more easily; it is noiseless and raises but little dust, and it is impossil to determine direction from its tracks. "Furthermore, the fighting strength of a bicycle corps is not diminished by 'horse holders.' Under favorable con ditions the bicycle is invaluable for courier work, scouting duty, road pa trolling, rapid reconnaisance, etc. bicycle corps as an adjunct to infanti or cavalry could render excellent ser vice where speed rather than number is required, such as taking possession of passes, bridges and strong places ahead of the command, and holding them until reinforcements could be gotten from the Corn has a good chance to at 135 pounds, and after each had exhausted himself almost to a standstill and in the South it is now either har vested or beyond the reach of frosts The nights have been very cool, but the damage by frosts has been slight. Abundant sunshine has prevailed, with but little rainfall. Rain is much needed to bring up fall sown grain and for keeping pasturage fresh. There is little complaint as yet, however, of failing pasturage.

> The good weather of the past week greatly advanced the corn crop, and some pieces on early lands are being ished by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite cut. About a week more is needed to fully bring the crop out of the way of frosts. Other crops are, in general, beyond much injury. Grain harvesting makes them healthy and strong, vigorous has progressed steadily, but in the northern counties there is so much late grain that there will hardly be time enough to cure it. Potatoes not already dug are its advent free from danger and almost rotting in the ground. Fall feed is abun-free from pain. Over 90,000 have testi-owlands but have done little damage.

Corn is now being cut, but there are many pieces that will probably not mature under the most favorable conditions. Much of the crop has been put into silos uninjured by frost. Oats are very light in weight. Potatoes almost a complete failure. Digging is at a standstill in many localities, as the farmers now are waiting for the rot to finish its work. "The senation of the month is the eported consolidation of all the Barre, Vt., granite quarries, but one, into one ompany. This is the culmination of a movement that has been under way for several years. It has been thought impossible of accomplishment. It will no take many months to demonstrate whether it will be a success. It ought fix stability of prices for it. We do not know whether this can be assured, if ent names. A Boston paper says Harry Stever the trade is not fully united. There's a of Hyde Park, who has been a pitcher on the land of Hyde Park, who has been a pitcher on the Fall River, Portland, Bridgeport, Dedham a little David on the plains of Barre who defies this Goliath of the granite hills. If it comes to a pitched fight we don't think we would bet on the syndicate | Last August Stevens was in West Roxbury

And now come the quarrymen of Quincy, Mass., roused from their lethargy by the Barre act, and resolving the advertisement will take anothe form than simply vigorous protes against Barre's ultra-Yankee predilec ion to hog all the granite business of New England. Push the granite business all along the line! That's the inspiration. The Dingley tariff rates open the way in one direction—united action among the granite producers will clinch profit and progress in the industry in every direction.

DIVORCED WITHOUT CAUSE, TWO YOUNG FOLKS MARRY AGAIN.

Another Case of Parental Interference That Came to Naught-Young Lovers Could Not Remain Apart - The Stern Father May Do His Worst.

Matthew Sterling Borden, Yale, '95, Chicago, multimillionaire, who returned in defiance of parental authority to the young woman from whom he was separated three years ago, has remarried her. She is Miss Mildred Negbaur, the daughter of Julius Negbaur, a Jewish tailor of Chapel street, New Haven. Young Borden was a student in the academic department of Yale, when, in 1893, he met the tailor's daughter. He became infatuated with her and his love was returned. After a period of courtship the young couple went through the ceremony of a secret marriage Young Borden took his wife to his apartments to live with him. His par- square miles. ents then resided in Chicago. It was comparatively easy for him to conceal the fact of his marriage from the college authorities.

One day in 1894 Mr. Borden, Sr. without any previous warning, walked into the young man's apartments, to find the latter and his young wife there. Explanations were demanded, and there "Suspension Act" Was Not Repealed by the Discriminating Clause.

Washington, Sept. 22.-The weeks of tion of the much discussed 22nd section pend in part the operations of sections of the Dingley bill resulted in the preptures of which are subjoined:

"1-That the duty is a discrimination upon importations in vessels not of the United States, whether directly to the United States or to a contiguous country and thence to the United States. As there was no reason therefore why the importations, direct or indirect, should be discriminated by different duties, I am not disposed to think that it was intended. To so hold would be to put a new purpose in the law, destroying its uage, or any mischief which we may say was in the contemplation of the lawmakers to be remedied.

uage, 'being the production or manufacture of any foreign country not contiguous to the United States,' is urged only as descriptive of the goods to which the duty applies. The goods themselves, it is contended, must take their departure from the contiguous country in the stric sense of importation as distinguished from coming through it as an importation from some other country. This view that the duty shall not apply to such foreign products or manufactures as shall be imported from such contiguous countries in the usual course of retail trade It is said that the words, 'imported in the course of strictly retail trade,' indicate the rule. They are claimed to be the to his home unconscious. opposite of importation in the course of wholesale trade, and that the latter must be direct, as those by retail could be no other way; but this does not follow. Such construction would confine the rule strictly to the exception, whereas it may be broader, including importations strictly so-called-those which take their departure from a contiguous country if the other conditions of the rule *xist. If so the exception has an adequate and proper office. But it is not even necessary to go this far. It is a matter of common experience that savings and exceptions are often introduced from abundant and excessive caution; and it would sometimes pervert the intention of the author of a writing if every other thing of the same general tenor as that excepted should be regarded as embraced in the general words. "A law imposing discriminating duties has been on the statute books in some form from the time of the enactment of the first tariff bill. Section 22 differs from the law previously in force in that there is omitted from it the words, 'by any act of congress.' Does this repeal section 4228? It will be observed that there are no words of express repeal. Consideration of the effect of this on section 4228 will be simplified by a reference to contemporaneous legislation.

"On the same day the Dingley bill was approved an act entitled 'An act to authorize the president to suspend discriminating duties imposed on foreign vessels and commerce' was approved. It will be observed that it recognizes the existence of section 4228, and amends it and enlarges the president's power. By section 4228 that could only be exercised when no discriminating duties were imposed or laid on American vessels. The amendment provides that the power may be exercised to meet and respond reciprocating the exact privileges though less than total exemptions.

We wil explain away all the evidence brought out here by the police department after months of investigation and manipulation. I do not care to give out in full our defense until we get started, but I promise some startling developments be fore we are through."

COLLISION OF STEAMERS. Fifty Persons Lose Their Lives at an Austrian

Port. London, Sept. 22.-A dispatch to The Daily News from Vienna says that the steamer Ika, with a crew of 10 and carrying 50 Austrian passengers, was entering the port at Fiume on the river Fiumara at 7 o'clock last evening, when she collided during a heavy blow with the English steamer Tiria, which was leaving.

The bows of the Ika were stove in and she sank in two minutes. Boats hastily put off and saved the captain and seven others, but most of the passengers per-

Siddons the Stronger. New London, Conn., Sept. 22.-Mart Flaherty of Lowell was given the d ision over George Siddens of New Or eans in a 20-round bout before the Ne London Athletic club last night. Th decision was on points, and at the finis Siddons was much the stronger man The exhibition was one of the cleveres ever seen in this city, and the club' gymnasium was taxed to its utmos limit by lovers of the manly art from Boston, Providence, Hartford, New Haven and other cities. Jerry Regan of Worcester was referee. The bout from the start to finish wa a hot one. Flaherty played for the wind and landed often on the stomach. Afte the third round Siddons' stomach looke like a raw beefsteak. Siddons played vaiting game, and his yows were a delivered for the head. From the firs to the fifth round Flaherty did all th work. During the first 15 rounds S ons held his own, and in the 16 Flaherty, who was plainly getting tir tried unsuccessfully for a knockout The last round was a fast one, but Flaherty's blows were lacking in strength and he could do but little damage. The decision was well received.

Cooper Beat Bald.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 22.-Tom Cooper arried off the honors in the mile match ace for $1000 with Eddie Bald and A Gardner, held under the auspi Albany County wheelmen in this cit It took three heats to decide the rac Bald winning the first heat by an open ength in handy style in 2:31.

Gardner and Bald came after him with a rush, but were a length back when the tape was crossed. Gardn getting second place by a wheel. The time for this heat was 1:16.

In the third heat Cooper, Bald and Gardner tacked on to the pacemaker in the order named and took a slow sail around to the last quarter. Gardne made a great jump for a steal, but Coope was ready for him and followed cloafter him into the stretch, leaving Bald opelessly behind. Fifty yards from the finish Cooper passed Gardner with a great burst of speed and won by length. Bald rode the last 25 yard sitting up. This heat was ridden in Both on Their Feet.

Philadelphia, Sept. 22.—Young Griffo of Australia and Joe Gans, the colored boy from Baltimore, met at the Olympic club at Athens last night in a 15-round fight. Up until the seventh round the bout was same, Griffo only fighting when pushed by Gans. The seventh was a ot one, during which both Griffo and Gans landed very viciously. Matter became uninteresting again until the 12th. This was full of ginger, and there was one mix-up after another. The next three rounds were tame, and when time was called at the 15th both men were standing on their feet.

Right Smart Ciever Couches.

It used to be, and not so many years ago, that couches were only within the reach of the wealthy. It's a long lane that has no turn, and today couches at our prices are within the province of everyone.

There isn't a piece of furniture you can buy for your home that will give you so much solid comfort.

Dreamy couches, covered in velour or corduroy, with broad seats, shapely head and flexible springs that conform to the mould of the body and give instant rest and comfort, we are selling as low as $10.00; others more costly, of course, but that's another story.

Life is worth living at all times, but it is worth twice the living with one of our couches.

NO CONTESTS.

H. H. Faxon Says Republican Caucuses Were Miracles.

Republican caucuses were held in all wards of the city Wednesday evening with the following result: WARD ONE.

As all the candidates for delegates in Ward One were "in favor of honest government," it is safe to say that onest government secured a triumph. out it did not have many supporters, only 40 votes being cast. Two candilates received 34 of these but three went as low as 29. The scattering votes did not exceed two or three for any andidate.

Russell A. Sears, Esq., was elected hairman, and John H. Bent and Edgar . Cleaves secretaries. Only five were resent at the opening of the polls at 5.30, and the voting started in very ight. Some thought 75 to 100 votes night be cast, but no one set it over 100. The total fell far short as reported above. There was no excitment at all and Henry H. Faxon had to admit that t was altogether too tame.

The polls closed at 9 o'clock and F. F. Prescott and A. G. Dolliver assisted Only 22 were straight tickets, but there was no effort to defeat any candidate. vidual objection was shown for som andidates, but in most of these case lanks were thrown. These delegates were elected:

State,-Theophilus King, Luther S. Ander n, William P. Barker and Emery L. Crane. Conneillor,-Charles H. Porter, James H. etson, Weston W. Osborne and Wilson Marsh County,-Henry H. Faxon, E. W. H. ### ARROYO'S DEATH.

Late Chief of Police Admits That lie Advised Taking the Step.

City of Mexico, Sept. 23.-Edward Velasquez, late chief of police, has confessed that he directed the killing of Arroyo, the assailant of President Diaz. Velasquez was removed from office and placed in Belem prison on suspicion of having acquiesced in the killing. Dur-ing the official investigation of the affair the former chief was placed on the stand and asked to detail his connection with the matter. To all questions he responded that he was a great admirer of the president, and that he felt that the attempt made upon his life merited severe punishment. The chief confessed without reservation the part he took in the tragedy.

Candido Cuellar, a groom in the service of Velasquez, was examined. He sald on the night before the killing his employer had sent him to buy knives which he had delivered over to his mas ter without knowing for what reason h had been ordered to purchase then The judge placed before Cuellar som of the knives used in the commission of the crime mixed with others. A Flask In His Wooden Leg-A Martyr to Melons - Never Touched Fire Nansen on the Platform.

"Occasionally some funny things happen at the Soldiers' home in Augusta, Me., where I hail from, but the funniest of all is the one that I am going to tell you about. It happened just before I came on to the encampment, said William Harris, an inmate of the home, who is visiting in Buffalo.

"Whisky is on the black list at the home, and all sorts of schemes are resorted to to obtain it, but they are discovered sooner or later and can never be tried again. There is an old fellow with a wooden leg at the home, and his name is Wheeler. He had a scheme for getting whisky that baffled all the offiers who were watching him, and it worked so well that, although Wheeler was drunk nearly all the time, his plan was not discovered until last week.

"The old fellow carved a hole in his wooden leg big enough to hold a flask of whisky, and whenever he wanted to get drunk he would get his flask filled somewhere and put it in his leg, go off somewhere by himself and get gloriously full right in the home. After the officers of the institution had uselessly accused every saloon keeper within a mile of the place of selling whisky to Wheeler they decided to keep a close watch on him. So the next time he disappeared they searched for him until "Discovery." It is a perfect cure for they found him lying dead drunk in a general and nervous debility, catari graveyard, with his wooden leg unstrapped and the empty flask in the hole in the leg. That ended his game, and he will never get drunk that way again. If he does, his wooden leg will be taken from him and he'll have to stay at home. "-Buffalo Express.

A Martyr to Melons.

The melon crop was short this year, and a southwest Georgia farmer who had practically "cornered" it in his neighborhood had suffered seriously from the depredations of some of the hungry colored brethren. So he gave it out that he had poisoned his melons, and after the news went forth he ceased to miss them.

Night after night an old negro who lived near the finest melon patch had gazed at their green sides with hungry eyes, but the thought of the poison kept him hungry still.

appetite got the best of him. He looked in the direction of the melons long and earnestly; then, shouldering a sack, he "In de name er goodness, Rufus, whar you gwine?" asked his wife. The old man turned, pointed to the melon patch and said, slowly and sol-"I'm a-gwine whar dem melons is!" "But—dey's p'isoned!"

"I know dey is! But I'm gwine ter

Never Touched Him. At the battle of Chickamauga a fellow named R-- was seen shooting NEPONSET BRIDGE straight up in the air and praying as heads prayed. The Presbyterians of via Quincy, North Weymouth and Hing 1646 prayed loud and sang hymns in ham, on the hour and half hour from 9. s. M. battle, but they shot straight at the 109 P. M. cavaliers every time. This fellow was blazing away at the sky, and when Lieutenant Killingworth remonstrated with him about it he paid no attention to him whatever. Captain Joe Billingsey threatened to cut him down with his sword if he didn't shoot at the enemy, for the woods in front were full of them. He merely remarked to the captain, "You can kill me if you want my God with the blood of my fellow man on my soul." He never flinched, but stood squarely up, exposed to every volley of the enemy's fire. When the sun set on the evening of Sept. 18, 1863, Captain J. C. Billingsley and Lieutenant Allen Killingworth both lay dead on the battlefield of Chickamauga and R---- went through without a scratch. - Galveston

"After Many Days."

Every now and then something turns up to shake the belief that the man who borrows spends the rest of his life in trying to avoid payment. One day recently the widow of a gentleman who was one of the best known and most highly regarded citizens of Washington was informed that a visitor wished to see her. Being ill, she sent her granddaughter to see the caller.

"Your grandfather," said the caller to the young lady, "loaned me $18 a long time ago, when I used to work up at the capitol, and I want to pay it to his widow. My name? Oh, never mind about that; you wouldn't know it if you heard it. Here's the $18. I don't want any receipt; he never asked me for a receipt. Here's the money. Goodby.' And away went the honest unknown. -Washington Post.

Nansen on the Platform. "When in London, some months ago,

I had the pleasure of hearing Nansen, the great arctic explorer, lecture," said a returned traveler the other day. "The cost of admission was rather high, $5, but it was well worth the price to hear his vivid descriptions. He speaks with an English accent, but very clearly and correctly. One of the most pathetic things he told about was the killing of his pet dogs for food. He hadn't the heart to commit the deed and delegated it to others. The clothing worn by Nansen and his party was on exhibition for some weeks in London. I imagine that the same sort of garments are in fashion in the Klondike for the larger part of the year. When once put on, they are not removed for months."-New York Tribune.

It's wonderful how much health has to do with married happiness. Sickness affects the temper. You can't be happy nor make others happy if you're ailing When you find yourself irritable, easil worried, beginning to "run-down" it because your blood is getting poor. Yo need richer blood and more of it. You blood-making organs need to be vitalize by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discor ery. Rough Experience of Quincy Couple in the Far West.

Ex-Councilman and Mrs. George W. Morton Overturned in Coach.

Mrs. Morton's Shoulder Dislocated and Mr. Morton Injured.

Some weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. George W. Morton of Spear street went to Ketchum, Idado, to visit Mrs. Morton's sister, and they had planned to reach nome this week. A copy of a Ketchum paper explains the delay however, as he ex-Councilman and his wife have had a thrilling experience barely escaping with their life from a terrible accident, Capt. and Mrs. Baxter are well-known to Quincy, Mr. Baxter being a son of the late Thompson Baxter, while Mrs. Baxter was Miss Kate Averill, daughter of the late Lydia Averill of Spear street. The Ketchum paper reports the accident as follows:

"Wednesday evening, Sept. 8, while Capt, Paul Baxter with his wife and Mr. and Mrs. George W. Morton of Quincy, Mass., were returning from Adam's saw mill in a hotel coach, where they had been invited by Manahave advertised for bids for the build- ger George Mills, they met with a ing of sections two and three of the terrible accident which would have rebrick sewer which will complete all of sulted fatally had it not been for Capt. Harry A. Talbot Again in Court for Crookedness.

of Milne & Chalmers,

Commission Obtained Upon Work that Was Never Ordered.

Henry A. Talbot was arrested by Inspector McKay at his home on Summer street, Thursday night, for uttering a forged order upon Milne & Chalmers, and obtaining thereby the sum of $10.

For some months past Talbot has been employed as travelling salesman for Messrs. Milne & Chalmers and it is alleged that on July 31, Talbot presented a contract to the firm for a monument to which was signed the name of Michael J. Flynn, who resides upon Edinboro street, Boston. For this contract Messrs. Milne & Chalmers paid Talbot his commission which amounted to $10.

This week the firm had its suspicions aroused that Talbot was doing crooked work and began to look up some of his contracts. They hunted up Mr. Flynn, who pronounced the signature in ques tion a forgery.

The firm also found other contracts and collections which were not all right, and in order to hold Talbot until ; thorough investigation could be made, they swore out a warrant against him. After Talbot's arrest Thursday night he was taken before Mr. Milne, the menced at the junction of Centre and he declared that the signature was Larger Class.

Adams Academy began its work on Monday of this week. The entering class this year numbers eleven, a considerable gain over last year's class. Was a Salesman for Granite Firm Three other candidates passed the examination but failed to present themselves for registration.

On Wednesday morning the school was honored by a visit from Mayor Adams who came, attended by several of the Managers of the school, to present the Adams gold medal for declamation. This medal was won by Gilbert Ray Kent of Wollaston at the prize speaking in June.

In presenting the medal Mayor Adams spoke of the value of eloquence and of the need, in these days, of men who had thoughts worth expressing and the ability to express them. He congratusenior partner of the firm, to whom lated the winner of the medal on the attainment of the ability to speak well, but warned him that he would be false to the purposes of the donor of the prize, false to himself, and false to the name of the school, if he ever used his voice in the interests of anything that was not good and true and noble.

The medal was then presented. Mayor Adams's speech was received with enthusiasm by boys and teachers alike. It was a model of manly, straight for ward expression of excellent ideas.

Mr. Kent was still further honored on the same day by being chosen captain of the scool football team, and the school looks to his being as successful in the field as he was on the platform.

We are today the largest retailers of clothing in the country. Our object is not to buy goods regularly from the manufacturers, but with unlimited capital and a thorough knowledge of our business, we stand prepared to buy the stock of any manufacturer in the country, provided the price is low. We have buyers located in every large city in the United States, who are on the lookout at all times to purchase from any dealer any amount of clothing, no matter how large, provided the goods are desirable and we can buy at our own figures.

We will spare no effort to please the people. We do in this city exactly as we do in other cities, and that is a STRICTLY ONE-PRICE BUSINESS. Our floor walkers are instructed to allow none of our customers to leave the store unless he is convinced that the clothes selected are a perfect fit. We have several rooms fitted up in which every garment can be tried on, and any reasonable alteration will be made free of charge. For years we have had stores in the largest cities of the United States, doing an honest, straight-forward business. We have won the confidence and esteem of the public in all our stores, and we mean to uphold this All W. L. Douglas' $3 Shoes.

It used to be, and not so many years ago, that couches were only within the reach of the wealthy. It's a long lane that has no turn, and today couches at our prices are within the province of everyone.

There isn't a piece of furniture you can buy for your home that will give you so much solid comfort.

Dreamy couches, covered in velour or corduroy, with broad seats, shapely head and flexible springs that conform to the mould of the body and give instant rest and comfort; we are selling as low as $10.00; others more costly, of course, but that's another story.

New England Women - Secret of Tying Really Big Things-A Famous Toast Response-A Fair Field For Women.

Miss Agnes E. Slack, secretary of the World's Women's Christian Temperance union, is a fair English girl with chestbut brown hair, blue eyes and the fresh complexion which our cousins across the water usually possess. Miss Slack is gifted in a high degree with eloquence and logic, which give her great power as a public speaker. She was in America last year for about four months, during which time she spoke in nearly every large city from Maine to Missouri. Philadelphia had the privilege of one lecture, which the white ribboners greatly enjoyed. Miss Slack is at present a guest of Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens of Portland, Me. She will remain in this country until after the world's convention at Toronto.

Several groups of women in New England are turning their attention to the ever urgent servant problem. The belief is spreading that almost the only solution lies in establishing well equipped training schools. The members of the Boston Young Women's Christian association for many years have maintained an admirable free training school for domestics. The graduates from its six months' course are always in great demand, and its only defect is that limited quarters prevent its having more than a score of students at a time.—Harper's Bazar.

Secret of Tying Bows.

There is a certain shop in Twentythird street where the most fascinating bows are tied for the asking. Japanese bows for the waistband, bows for the hat, Bernhardt bows for the neck, etc. and explain what is wanted, and, presto, the white fingers of the pretty saleswoman flash in and out of the loops of ribbon, and the bow is made.

"See, now you have four loops and two ends," she said. "Would you like six?" And, leosening the knot a little, she again passed the ribbon in and out, forming a couple more; then, giving the two original loops a jerk, she completed the bow.

"You can have as many loops as you like," she explained, "and the rest of the arrangement depends entirely on the way the loops are pulled and shaped. Some of the newest bows have the loops cut diagonally, so as to form a collection of sharp pointed ends. These bows are particularly pretty for hats. It is also advisable," she concluded, "to take a stitch in the center knot when the bow is finished, to prevent its untying if the right end is pulled."-New York Letter.

Have Never Done the Big Things.

Hundreds of college bred women have been and are capably and efficiently engaged in teaching, and a few have gained a certain distinction as presidents and professors in colleges for women, but no great and original educator has come from among them. Occasionally a determined young graduate gets a foothold in a newspaper office and usually keeps it with credit to herself and her higher education, yet the few women editors of eminence have not been college bred, and there is nothing to be gained by concealing the fact that the college women who have undertaken journalism seem, as yet, to have had no influence in sweetening the flood of sensational and nasty print for which the newspaper women of the country must bear their share of dis credit with the newspaper men.

The number of college women who executive committee will meet Oct. 22 have taken up medicine is considerable, and 27, the convention being from Oct. some of them, no doubt, from a rea 23 to 26 inclusive. bringing good looks and amiability. A woman worn and wearied by the dragging weaknesses peculiar to her sex, cannot be expected to find zest in any duty or amusement. Life is all one dead monotonous gloom to her. On her face is written the story of weakness and pain. The wholesomeness of health is lacking. The cheeks lack fullness, the eyes lack sparkle, the hair lacks luster.

Doctors have learned to locate ninetenths of womanly sickness in the organs that ought above all others to be strong and healthy.

Sensitive women shudder at the thought of consulting a physician on such matters. A natural feeling of modesty makes them dread the examination, and subsequent stereotyped treatment by "local applications" on which most

THE MONEY advertised in the LED-GER, on Thursday as lost was returned to the owner the same day and no reward asked, and the estate of Henry E. Hardwick first advertised on Tuesday has been let. It pays to advertise in the LEDGER.

The crush of advertising today crowds out some of the regular Saturday features of the LEDGER, as well as news. Many today receive a sample copy of the paper free. Those who are not regular readers should give it another trial next week. A story, columns for young folk, and other departments in addition to those of today, are regular features of the Saturday eight-page LEDGER.

Removal.

The Boston Bazaar is about to re move from its present location and everything in the entire establishment must be sold out at any price that the purchasing public will pay.

The sacrifice will be genuine and the to do with the selling price.

Never in the history of Quiney has there been such an opportunity for all the people to secure such bargains as for the next fourteen days.

As an earnest of the above statement one single item may be given for illustration. And that one item is genuine lonsdale cambric. Now every lady uses lonsdale cambric and the regular price is fixed and universal. It is 12 1-2 cents everywhere. The Boston Bazaar has 1,000 yards at the ridiculous price of 7 cents per yard. It is genuine. just one dollar.

Is it worth saving? It is worth a ride to Wollaston for the above, even 40 per cent. of the coal purchased for all the pub though you make no other purchase.

Since all the janitors of Quincy's schools, say that of the Willard, have been re-elected and a there is a vacancy at the above school-the question of cost has nothing whatever | janitor's period of service having expired Aug 31-a few facts and figures concerning the Willard expenses might be of interest. The ollowing figures are taken from the city report for five years, ending December 31, 1897.

Surely the citizens of Quincy as and hand they are imbedded so deep N. H. Hunt, Walter H. Pierce, Wm. Allen, C.

For the past five years the janitor has average $1,050 per year (not including that paid for night school) which is more than our chief magistrate receives. In other words he got ove We heartily recommend a careful 22 per cent. of the total amount paid all public was this?

A little synopsis of what could be done with his regular salary of $968 might not be amiss The average salary paid all other janitors is about $525; janitors getting that amount give the school-houses their whole attention.

Now giving the janitor $525 for himself, it would allow an extra man a balance of $443 or over $2 per day for every school day in the year. If such a provision could be made why was it that in '96 $268 was allowed for extra work which would provide a boy with over $1.25 for every school day in the year, besides paying the janitor and an extra man? Why was it that and why the same amount in '92?

This the members of the School Board should think of carefully and think only of the city's interests which they represent. Should they allow a man who is physically unable to do the work, and one who has other matters which take his attention, to the detriment of Quincy's purse,

It is thought not. Place a man there who is able to do the janitor' work and is no one save the Willard school anitor; at a salary of $968. There are scores of men willing to work a day and half a night; men who are experienced and practical firemen There certainly should be a radical change in the Willard school and immediately.

Baltimore, Sept. 25 .- All Maryland is great victory of the baseball aggregation from "the hub of the universe" over the Hanlon prize winners. It was not expected that the home club would win all of the games of the series, but it was hoped that the outcome of the opening age rather than to depress the rooters.

Had the grounds been about four times as large, it is possible that the state's population would have turned out to see the baseball gladiators. A goodly share of it was represented under the conditions, the crowd numbering from 12,000 to 13,000 persons. Conspicuous in fielding of the visitors was also good, the throng were 135 from New England. though Tonge made a wretched muff of They were seen with red badges and a little raised ball off Criger's bat. were heard with horns in a manner that was provoking to the majority, at no time more stridently than when it was settled that the wreath of victory had been won by the Bostons. The supporters of the Baltimores could find no comfort in a plausible "if" in treating of the defeat, for the club was second in everything. Altogether, however, it was not a game to be depreciated in a single particular.

At first it looked like an easy victory for the champions when the visitors went out in one, two, three order in sucessive innings and the orioles had two allies tucked away, but there was a hange in the fourth, when Dovle, usualy faultless in his fielding, fell over an sy bounder right into his hands, gave Stahl a life and let Tenney in with a Fenn of Aiken, S. Four Wickets and No Runs Philadelphia, Sept. 25 .- The final 15 minutes' play in the international cricket match between the Philadelphia and English teams was sensational in the extreme, the four batsmen for the Englishmen being retired without scoring a run. This is the first of two three-day matches to be played by a picked team of Philadelphians and Captain Warner's team of eight amateurs. Nearly all the men on the local team were members of filled with gloom, the result of the Philadelphia team which made a cricket tour through England this summer. The Philadelphians went first to bat, and in their inning scored 242 runs. The English team started their inning, and four of their wickets were lost in 15 minutes without obtaining a single tally. Captain Warner then made the point that contest would be of a nature to encour- it was too dark to continue play, and the umpire ordered stumps to be drawn. The loss of four wickets for no runs is probably without precedent in a match

The manner of his death has not yet been ascertained to the satisfaction of the authorities. Another tramp, William Dexter of Fall River, applied to the police authorities for treatment in the hospital. He says he was with Cooney on a freight train, and that a brakeman drove them off while the train was in motion. He escaped with severe bruises. but Cooney fell beneath the cars and was beheaded.

Five Hundred and Sixty-five Miles In Twenty-four Hours.

TWELVE HOURS IN THE SADDLE.

What Bicycle Races Cost-A New Frame Weighing Fourteen Pounds-Tubes Made of Paper-Are Bicycles Baggage Under the Dingley Tariff?

America has brought out many pretentious long distance bicycle riders, but the recent record made by Constant Huret at the Auteil track in Paris may not soon be broken. In 24 hours Huret covered nearly 565 miles, the exact distance being 909 kilometers and 27 meters. The record was made in a triangular race, Huret's opponents being Rivierre and Cordang. The men were paced by quads and quints. At 50 miles Huret had gained six laps on Cordang, while Rivierre, who was riding according to a schedule, was much farther behind. At this point a bad collision took place between two quads, and in the general smash up Cordang was so badly in-

CONSTANT HURET. jured that he had to quit the race. Huret went on reeling off the miles in rapid succession. He had been in the saddle for 12 hours before he dismounted for the first time, and then only for a few minutes. Rivierre abandoned hope of catching Huret after riding 18 hours and retired to his cabin to take a well earned rest. Huret went on at a terrific gait, notwithstanding the fact that rain fell steadily during the afternoon. At the finish of the race a tremendous ovation was given the plucky rider. He rode on a chainless wheel. One of the new frames to be introduced next year is exceptionally light. The principle of its construction is tension as opposed to compression. The lower part of the frame is to be the same as that now used, but from the bottom bracket two stays spring, one attached to the top of the steering head and the other to the same height, but running backward to nearly above the hub of the rear wheel. The rear forks are to go farther over the front of the wheel and to be attached by a rod to the steering head. From the steering head to the back stay is to depend a steel wire on which the saddle is to be fixed. The wire is to be continued down to the back hub. When the rider is on the saddle the wire sags down about six inches, and the back wire becomes taut immediately. The tubes are to be thin and light, and the machine, when complete, is to weigh only 14 pounds.

Bicycle racing is becoming expensive. and the cost is constantly increasing. There are between 40 and 50 followers of the circuit, and it is estimated that $80,-000 will be required to meet their expenses. Nearly $2,000,000 has been expended on 3,835 pounds. tracks during the past two years. The gate receipts during the present season will be in the neighborhood of $1,000,000. Zimmerman has taken the most prizes. mounting to about $25,000.

Bicycle tubes are being made of paner The paper is wound upon a mandrel Each layer is coated with glue put on by means of a spray. This insures the absolute joining of the material, which is made solid by great pressure. Some 40 layers of paper are required for each tube. When the tubes are constructed the mandrel is withdrawn, and they are placed in a strong mold and subjected to great pressure from the inside. The outer layers of paper are acted upon by a rolling machine which hardens them, and the tubes are then pol ished in a lathe and stained to the desired color. When varnished, they are ready for

Under the new tariff law there is a diversity of opinion among custom house officials as to whether or not a bicycle brought as a passenger's baggage is subject to duty. Under the old law it was admitted free as a personal effect, but the Dingley tariff measure declares that the only things a passenger may bring into this country free of duty are articles of personal adornment, wearing apparel, toilet articles and similar personal effects. Bicycles are excluded apparently, as, although they are personal effects, they cannot in any way be deemed to resemble toilet articles and are therefore dutiable.

A Swimming Trick.

One of the greatest sports "in swimming" may be had with a small rubber tube 10 or 12 feet long. Two large empty spools should be fastened to the ends of the tubes by crowding the rubber into the hole in the middle of each, which has first been enlarged with a jackknife. The swimmer allows one of the spools to float on the surface of the water or fastens it near a stone or log on shore or next to a stake driven into the water. Then he places the other spool in his mouth and sinks out of sight under the water. Of course he can breathe through the tube and he can remain a considerable length of time without rising to the surface.

Fitzsimmons May Be Forced to Fight. It is not unlikely that Fitzsimmons may soon be forced to fight again. The influênce which, it is said, the champion is already beginning to feel is not the elo quence of the challenges that are hurled at him, but the need of money. He has been spending money like a prince since his windfall at Carson City, but recent ex-penses in connection with his ambitition to be a turf king have dealt the knockout blow to his financial solar plexus.

BACK TO THE BENCH.

Jack McAuliffe Will Return to His Old Trade.

Jack McAuliffe, who has for ten years figured as a pugilist, has decided to return to his old work as a cooper, and it is said that he will be permanently engaged in a shop at Williamsburg, N. Y. During his absence from his trade McAuliffe has won and lost several fortunes. He became th champion lightweight in short order and made a tour of the country, meeting all comers. Wearying of this sport, McAuliffe turned his attention to race tracks. His luck was phenomenal. He amassed further fortune in a few days, and set all the members of his family up in business, and then tried to double his fortune. He refused to take the advice of friends, and soon lost all the money that he possessed. This caused him to return to the prize ring. His reappearance was not a success and he had sense enough to realize the fact and accept the situation. Of his latest movement McAuliffe says: "I can safely say from shirt sleeves to shirt sleeves in ten years."

GIGANTIC STRENGTH.

A New Hercules Lifts a Whole Theater Company.

The present year is prolific in new strong men. Patrick McCarty, who recently lifted 42,000 pounds of stone at St. Louis, has a rival in Frank Pascal, who has lifted nearly as great a weight, and is out with a challenge for the championship. One of

FRANK PASCAL. Pascal's favorite feats is to lift heavy men with one hand and hold them up at arm's length. Another strong man is named Rolandow, who recently lifted a whole theater troop, weighing in the aggregate

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Sept. 26. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. Topic.-Eternity.-John v, 17-29.

There are some words in the human language easy to define but difficult to comprehend. Eternity is one of these. It is easy to define it. It is impossible to comprehend it. If the largest snowfall had been removed by the melting of a single flake in 1,000,000 years, who could comprehend the time required for such an achievement, and yet if such a thing were possible after it had been done eternity would still be as if member Me," and "You'll Re been done eternity would still be as if time had only just begun.

Is there anything that is eternal? Will anything last throughout eternity? As we look at the world about us it seems subject to the laws of change and decay, and we are reminded of the words of the apostle that "the things that are seen are temporal." The world has not always existed. "In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth." The world will not always exist. "Heaven and earth shall pass away," says Jesus Christ. What then is eternal? God. God is infinitely eternal. He always has existed. He always will exist. Life is also eternal. This is revealed in God's word. Human life is not a spark that is to be put out in this world, but it is an eternal ray, born into existence by the power of God. We shall live forever. This is the most solemn and should be the most impressive revelation of God's word.

The revelation of eternity as to life is solemn and impressive because there are two eternal destinies before the human soul-eternal life, eternity spent in happiness with God, and eternal death, eternity spent in separation from God in misery. It is this fact that makes eternity of so much consequence and importance to us. It is this fact that should make us willing to sacrifice this life, if necessary, that we should gain eternity. Many think it is unreasonable to give up the present for the every day in practical daily life. Men practically sacrifice 20, 30 and even more years that they may enjoy 10 or 20 years of prosperity and success in the future, and yet no man has any guarantee that he will live these future years in this life.

If it is reasonable for men to sacrifice the present for the future in this world, how much more reasonable it is for them to sacrifice time for eternity. What are 30, 50, 70, 100 years in comparison to eternity less these few years? Gladly should we be willing to lose this life if necessary to gain eternal life.

Eternal life can only be found in Jesus Christ. Christ came to earth to bring life and immortality to light through the gospel. He has brought it, yet how many are indifferent to it? How many live as if it were all of life to live and all of death to die? And yet God has revealed the fact that man shall live throughout eternity. Eternity! Eternity!

How long art thou, eternity? As long as God is God, so long Endure the pains of hell and wrong, So long the joys of heaven remain. Oh, lasting joy! Oh, lasting pain! Ponder, O man, eternity!

Bible Readings. - Deut. xxxiii, 26, 27: Ps. xc. 1, 2; Isa. Ivii. John iii, 14-21; iv, 35, 36; xi, 20-29; Where future time shall lead the plan. xii, 24, 25; Rom. vi, 23; II Cor. iv, 7-18; v, 1; I Tim. vi, 6-12; II Tim. iv, 6-8; Rev. ii, 19.

About Seeing God.

Not by closest acquaintance with science, but by knowing God himself, we see Him in nature. It is a more profound study of the Bible which sees the living God as well as gospel truth in it. All history contains His presence and

idences is the vision of great faith. The purified and Christlike heart sees God in the movings of the worst sinners. But the bliss of bliss is to see Him in one's own heart, indwelling and abiding. - Christian Standard.

Face the Truth.

All the spiritual rhapsodies and ecstasies conceivable cannot make up for a lack of everyday righteousness. Hearing ten sermons will not atone for failure to speak one gentle sentence. Prayers cannot take the place of patience. Meditation is no substitute for ministration. Face the truth! The test of religion, given by Christ himself, is fruit bearing. Have you visited the sick, comforted the prisoner, fed the hungry, forgiven your enemies, loved your brethren? Then is your faith not vain. - William T. Ellis.

Facilis Descensus.

You have noticed what strong affinity human nature has in its carnal state for sin. It needs no great efforts to get the depraved feelings set running in the wrong direction. The natural heart is inclined and alert to the works of iniquity. To run down grade is easy. Weeds grow spontaneously. The devil's machinery needs but little lubrication. -Reformed Church Messenger.

A Disappointment.

A little girl who had mastered the commandments confessed herself disappointed "because," she said, "though I obey the fifth commandment and honor my father and mother, yet my days are not a bit longer, because I am put to bed at 7 o'clock every night."-Church Standard.

More of a Hero.

A man who will sacrifice his wit to save the feelings of another is more of a hero than the man who risks his life to save a friend from fire or drowning before a crowd of spectators. - Walter Blackburne Harte.

Thoughts of business, taxes, losses, rheums tism, other crosses,
All combine to make the circus seem quite flat.

I no longer love the songstress, with her paint and frills and flosses. I no longer want to take her home, at that! But I'd like to see the old time show of thirty years ago. When I wore no pointed shoes (my feet were

The Quiet Life.

Happy the man whose wish and care A few paternal acres bound, Content to breathe his native air In his own ground,

Whose herds with milk, whose fields with Whose flocks supply him with attire, Whose trees in summer yield him shade; In winter, fire, Blest who can unconcern'dly find Hours, days and years slide soft away In health of body, peace of mind, Quiet by day.

Sound sleep by night, study and ease Together mixed, sweet recreation, And innocence, which most does please With meditation.

Thus let me live unseen, unknown.
Thus, uniamented, let me die,
Steal from the world, and not a stone
Tell where I lie. -Alexander Pope.

Gold.

Gold, gold, gold, gold!

Brought From the Arctic on the Hope by Lieutenant Peary.

The Metal Like United States Armor Plate.

Graveyard Belongings Not Found at Greeley's Camp.

Boston, Sept. 27.-The steam whaling oark Hope, Captain John Bartlett, which has just returned from the Arctic, arrived yesterday morning from Sydney. B., having on board a number of these who took part in the expedition, includ ng Mr. and Mrs. Lee of New Haven, who enjoyed their honeymoon under the Arctic circle, and six Esquimaux, while In the hold of the vessel is the meteorite which Lieutenant Peary first found in May, 1894. In conversation with a representative of the press yesterday. Lieuenant Peary said: "The meteorite which is firmly wedged in the hold with 2-foot timbers and tons of ballast, is 12 eet long, eight feet wide and six feet high. It is a solid ingot of nickel steel estimated to weigh about 100 tons. A remarkable fact about this meteorite i that its composition is just the same as that of the material the government s using for its armor plates at the present time, viz., 92 per cent steel and 8 per ent nickel. This meteorite fell from the skies hundreds of years ago, and has been the source of iron supplies of the Esquimaux. I first discovered it in May 1894, and since that time have been tryin to secure it and bring it to America. Th Esquimaux call it the 'saviksoah,' and the Hope my little daughter, Annighito christened it the 'Saviksoak Annighito We have on board six Esquimaux, namely three men, one woman, a boy and a girl. No Music In These Stones. Willimatic, Conn., Sept. 27.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Warner, who are associated in publishing a Sunday paper in his city, and on two occasions have een assaulted by unknown parties, were rudely awakened from their slumber at an early hour yesterday morning by a fusilade of stones against their home. The missiles were fired into the room where Mr. and Mrs. Warner were sleepng, and it is by the merest chance they scaped serious injury.

Mrs. Warner was attacked one night about two months ago as she was going home, and had a quantity of tar thrown over her clothes; and a few weeks ago Mr. Warner wes assaulted and severely beaten by parties who, it is alleged, felt aggrieved over stories which appeared in the paper.

Taken From a Wreck. New York, Sept. 27 .- The Goodwin Stoddard arrived in port yesterday from Fernandina, Fla., after a severe experience. She left Fernandina Sept. 17, and on the following day Nils Svendsen, one of the crew, fell from the spanker mast head to the deck and was instantly killed. On the morning of the 22nd a ves sel in the distance displayed a distress signal from the rigging. The Stoddard bore away for the stranger, which proved to be the Katie J. Ireland. The crew of the Ireland decided to abandon the vessel, which was in a sinking condition, and all of her boats were gone. Second Mate Thorpe and Steward Charles Johnson volunteered to go to the wreck. THE FRIGHTFUL railroad disaster at Quincy about seven years ago is Daniel A. Lane, recalled by the death at Chelsea on Thursday of Mrs. Abbie A. Addison, wife of Thomas A. Addison. She was 47 years old, and had a wide circle of friends in Chelsea. Death resulted Mary M. Ba from exhaustion from a surgical operation. Mrs. Addison was in the Quincy railroad disaster, and it is thought that the trouble that demanded the operation was caused by the terrible injuries which she sustained in the accident. The disaster was probably fresh in her mind all these years, while many Quincy people are forgetting it.

QUINCY HAS been extremely fortunate this year in regard to fires, and Anna B. McCarthy, what fires there have been the losses have been small. Eheriff Tried Unsuccessfully to Checkmate the Plans of the Mob.

Hawesville, Ky., Sept. 27.-A doubly dyed villain and lecherous wretch was given short shrift at the hands of a mob at this place Sunday morning. It is impossible to find anyone to declare that he did not obtain his deserts when legal formalities were waived and he was swung into eternity on an improvised gallows. Raymond Bushrod is the name of the victim. The offence that led to his hanging was an atrocious assault upon Maggie Robert,, 14 years old. None of the hangers wore a mask, for there is no likelihood of any jury ever returning an indictment for lynching in this county when the offence is that of rape. Bushrod was from Rockport, Ind.

Several months ago he was taken in and treated kindly by Willis Clark, a farmer in the upper part of the country, only to reward his benefactor by stealing his watch. He was released two weeks ago from the county jail, after having served a sentence of 156 days for the theft. He was in town Saturday and drinking. In the afternoon he set out afoot, going west on the Texas railway. Three miles be-low town, near Petri station, he encountered little Maggie Roberts, daughter of Benjamin Roberts, a prominent farmer. He assaulted her and, after eating her about the head with a oupling pin, left her on the railroad empankment for dead.

News of the outrage spread, and searching parties were sent in every direction. Guards were sent to every station for 20 miles, and his escape to Philadelphia, Sept. 27.—Saturday's big Indiana was well nigh impossible. Failwhile the town was deserted searchi

Amateurs Victorious. Philadelphia, Sept. 28.—The three-day cricket match begun on Friday morning last between a picked team of Philade phia amateurs and Captain Warner English amateur team ended yesterday afternoon in a victory for the Philadelphians with four wickets to spare The score stood: English, first inning 63; second inning, 372; total, 435. Philadelphia, first inning, 242; second inning, 194 (with the loss of six wickets); total, 436. Though the first inning of the Englishmen ended so disastrously, they batted in great style in their second, and when stumps were drawn Saturday evening had tallied 285 runs for the loss of only four wickets. They could no keep up this average yesterday, how ever, and their full quota of wickets fell ing their total for the inning up to 375 and their grand total to 435. The Philadelphians went in for their second inning with 144 to make to win. This they accomplished through clever batting and patient defense.

Boy Missing.

It was reported to the police this morning that Charles Forsberg, the four year old son of Carl Forsberg of Granite street, had been missing since early this morning. About 1 o'clock Officer Ferguson found the little fellow on Washington street, but he would not go with the officer until the latter promised to buy him some candy. This did the business and the little fellow came along happy with the thoughts of candy. Officer Ferguson kept his word and gave bim the candy, and just as he did so, the boy's father came along and took charge of him.

Carrol, Ia., Sept. 28.-John Boecker, if he recovers from his self-inflicted injuries, which is improbable, will go to an insane asylum, or will march to the gallows for the slaughter of his family. It consisted of a wife and six children one of the latter escaping instant death by a miracle. After the bloody deed, the murderer proceeded to end his own existence, but did not succeed wholly. neighbor thresh yesterday morning, and on his not putting in an appearance his pear. The doors of the Boecker house were locked, and there were no signs of life about. Henry tried to get into the house, but met no response, and finally he kicked in the door and came upor the horrible scene. Boecker, with his wife and baby, slept in a back room, and the three bodies lay on a bed. The wife had been shot in the neck with a shotgun which stood in the corner; the baby had been shot and its head crushed with the butt of a revolver; the man, still breathing, had a bullet hole in the forehead, and by his side was a six-shoote with two chambers empty. Upstain Henry and Lizzie lay on a bed with bullet holes in their forehead, the latter lead, the boy still breathing. In the opposite corner of the same room, Caro ine, Christine and John lay dead, each shot in the forehead.

His right hand was burnt by the powder, showing the rapid use of the revolver. The weapon he had borrowed from his brother last Thursday, remarking that he wanted it to kill rats in the cellar. It is now recalled that Boecker had since then practised target shooting with it. Boecker was 34 years old, and for over had been regarded as a prosperous farmer, and only recently bought a 200acre farm a few miles from the old hom services at Breda with his wife and some of the children. Later in the day he was visited by a neighbor, who says that when he left the Boeckers' home in the evening they were seemingly a happy family, and not a premonition of the awful tragedy enacted a few hours later was given by Boecker or any one of the Portland, Me., Sept. 28.—The promised sensation in the trial of Wilbur M. Waite, the alleged firebug, developed when Henry E. J. Brady, for several years connected with the office of Fire Marshal Whitcomb of Boston, took the stand. Mr. Brady related how he had gained the confidence of Waite by professing to be a crook who was looking for an assistant in an unlawful job. So well did he play his cards that Waite fell into the trap completely, and even signed a confession to enough crimes to send a score of men to long terms in prison. This confession was exacted as an earnest Resource, Screven Co., Ga.-I have of Waite's good faith in the questionbeen subject to attacks of bilious colic for several years. STATE OF CROPS.

of the Weather Bureau.

Boston, Sept. 28.—The crop season of 1897 is practically at an end. Some harvesting yet remains to be done, but in general all crops, except late fruits, are now secured. The week just closed verse is true. The first killing frosts of the fall occurred in interior sections on the 22nd, the mercury falling below freezing at numerous places. All tender vegetation was killed, and late hardy crops were injured to some extent, although the majority of the latter were beyond damage. On the whole the season has been disappointing and discouraging to farmers, yet some lines of farm produce have yielded very abundantly. The season opened early and with the best of promise, but unfavorable conditions scon developed and continued until nearly all classes of crops were beyond recovery. May and June were poor growing months owing to excessive rains, low temperature and extreme cloudiness. Agricultural operations were suspended much of the time. July gave several days of warm, growing weather, fol the crack flyer of Worcester, and now lowed by well remembered excessive rains which did great damage by "drowning" plants, preventing harvesting of rye and hay, and causing potatoes to blight and rot. August conditions were nearly normal, but the damage of the early season could not be overcome will receive as much money as usual for their crops, but on low land much time and fertilizer has been wasted. A prominent feature of the season is the poor quality of most fruits; they generally lack both flavor and sugar. Apples ar a very small crop, of poor quality peaches a partial failure owing to blight; pears and plums large yield; grapes poor: berries, except strawberries, were abundant. Potatoes have turned out t be practically a failure. The first hay crop was large in bulk, but very badly damaged in harvesting. The crop o rowen was extra good. The corn cro is light. Most of the ear corn mature but did not fill out well. Siles were use to a great extent, and probably wit profit. Grain crops have been abundant but off in quality, although oats wer good and rye fair. Vegetables, such as tomatoes, cucumbers, squash, etc., have not done well in general. Onions are also below the average.

The season is closing with fine weather Fall seeding is well along, and the top of the ground is in good shape. Feed is good, and stock in excellent condition Farmers are hopeful.

Leutgert's Business Partner. Chicago, Sept. 28.—The leading event of the day in the trial of Luetgert was the evidence of William Charles, Luetgert's business partner. He explained why, as he claimed, the caustic potash in which the body of Mrs. Luetgert is alleged by the prosecution to have been dissolved was bought. According to Charles the potash was bought as the principal ingredient of a quantity of soft soap to be used in cleaning up the big factory preparatory to its sale to an English syndicate. The witness said he suggested this method of putting the factory in shape himself, and that Luetgert, acting upon the suggestion ordered a barrel of caustic potash weigh ing 375 pounds sent to the factory in March last. This was about the time the prosecution claims the negotiations were pending between Luetgert and Davey, the mysterious Englishman, who is said to have represented the syndicate and who borrowed something like $25, 00 from Luetgert. Charles also offered an explanation of the apparently barricaded door to the basement stairway by telling about a chase for rats in which a small dog was an active participant. He said that the factory had been infested by rats for some time and that an effort had for those who will go today and get a package of GRAIN-O. It takes the place of coffee at about ½ the cost. It is a food drink, full of health, and can be given to the children as well as the adult with a great benefit. It is made or pure grains and looks and tastes like the finest grades of Mocha or Java coffee. It satisfies everyone. A cup of Grain-O is better for the system than a tonic, because its benefit is permanent. What coffee breaks down Grain-O builds up. "I would like to tell the whole world what your 'Golden Medical Discovery' has done for me. The doctor, who is considered an expert on lung troubles, told me I had consumption. He said both my lungs were diseased and I could not live long. I felt down-hearted for I have dear little children to live for. I just went to him to get his opinion. I am glad I did for now I know what your medicine will do. When I started on the second bottle I was better in every way and was able to take a walk on every fine day. I enjoyed my sleep, my appetite was good, and by the time I had finished the second bottle I began to feel like a new woman. #### SHE HAS FORGOTTEN.

A Pretty Woman Cannot Remember Husband, Children or Anything Else. Mrs. Mamie Eusielin is one of the strangest patients ever sheltered at the City hospital, St. Louis. Intelligence is depicted in her countenance, and she does not even know her name.

Mrs. Eusielin lives with her husband in North Twenty-second street. She is 28 years old, comely, and her dress is much neater and richer than that usually worn by inmates of the observation ward.

One day recently Mrs. Eusielin fell while she was preparing dinner. She struck her head on some object, just what she doesn't know and her husband was unable to learn. Beyond leaving a slight lump on the back of her head no physical injury is perceptible. When her husband returned from work in the evening, she answered his ring and admitted him. He threw off his coat and asked if supper was ready. Mrs. Eusielin wrinkled her brows, thought earnestly for a moment or two and solemnly announced that she had forgotten. Thinking his wife was joking, he put his arm about her and said they would go and see. On entering the dining room it was apparent that nothing had been done toward preparing the evening meal.

Mr. Eusielin was inclined to be angry and demanded the reason for his wife's neglect. Again her brow wrinkled, she scratched her head and slowly said she

She was so evidently in earnest in trying to recall events that her ausband became convinced she had seriously injured herself, and he determined to have a physician.

The doctor could not understand her ease, and he advised that she be sent to the hospital for observation. Dr. Otto Sutter, the hospital superintendent, is puzzled over her case. He asked her name. She rose in her cot, looked directly in the doctor's face the puzzled look crept over her countenance, and she slowly said she could not recall it.

"Is it not Mrs. Mamie Eusielin?" the doctor asked. "I believe so," was the answer.

Boston, Sept. 29.—Fines aggregating $2500 were paid by E. K. Carleton and his as sociates in the superior criminal court yesterday for violation of the oleomargarine law. This is the largest fine imposed for "oleo" violation at one time in this state, and according to statistics the largest paid in any state in the country. Eddy K. Carleton was fined $1000, D. J. Moriarty $1000, Maurice Healey $400, and Edwin P. Hickman $100. These men have been in the business for several years, and both the United States and state officials have attempted to show violations of the law, but failed until now. Carleton was prosecuted on the charge of selling oleomargarine colored in imitation of butter. The law distinctly forbids the sale of colored goods. It is not so in Rhode Island, however, and the Oakdale Manufacturing company of Providence manufactures large quantities of the article. Carleton was the agent of the Oakdale company. The defendants were arrested in December, tried in the municipal court, and on appeal their cases were taken to the superior criminal court and tried in March. A verdict of guilty was returned by the jury. The defendants appealed to the supreme court, and sentence has been delayed pending the hearing of the exceptions. New Men Put on the Ticket With the Leader of the Democracy.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 29.—The Democratic state convention, called for 11 o'clock Tuesday, was not organized until ::45, owing to a long wrangle. The first session adjourned at 2:15 p. m. for a recess of 45 minutes, but the interval was extended in the hope of producing harmony. Peace, however, was not restored, Philip Doherty, who was chosen temporary chairman, made his speech, but that was as far as the regular proceedings went until the second assembling. Finally Mr. Williams moved forward, with his chest heaving. The opportunity for the general had come. He waved his hands majestically, but the noise only rose louder. Two-thirds of the dele gates were on their feet, and all of them yelling at once. The Hayes men pushed their way to the front along the middle aisle, and grouped themselves in front of Fitzgerald, who only smiled. The riot spent its force in a few minutes. Then Mr. Williams suggested that as a compromise Mr. Fitzgerald be allowed to speak five minutes. He is a member of ongress, and Mr. Williams urged that the dignity of the office entitled him to a hearing. "It is not right," he declared, 'that a man be put up as a leader, and that he be then disarmed by the regular organization of the party." He proceeded to knife Mr. Fitzgerald by charging him with inactivity during the last campaign, and disloyalty to the Chicago platform. Mr. Fitzgerald did not reply, and the storm seemed for the time At 2:15 the convention adjourned for an hour. The convention was again called to order at 3:25 o'clock. Senator Gallivan, chairman of the committee on redentials, reported that of the 1882 delegates to which the convention is entitled, 627 presented credentials. At this point John H. Sullivan took the floor to explain his position as a Democrat. Mr. Sullivan said his Democracy had been questioned, and he felt he ought to say a word. "I was one of the first men in Massachusetts to endorse the Chicago platform," said he. "I served in the common council and oard of aldermen, and in the governor's council, and my Democracy was never questioned until now. But it seems I am not good enough to serve on the committee. congressman in New England did not get as fair a hearing as I received. I am sorry to think that when Mr. Doherty denounced ballot box stuffing, he did, in the case of Mr. Fitzgerald, the very thing he denounced."

The chairman called Mr. Sullivan to order and said he would not allow remarks derogatory to the chair in any such personal manner. The chair had appointed Dr. Coughlin and Mr. Downing a committee to escort Colonel Rice to the chair, when Dr. Coughlin raised a question of privilege to make a personal explanation, which was given him by vote of the convention. He said he did not want to invoke hatred and malice. He merely wanted to make an explanation a chairman of the state committee. "It has been stated by Mr. Williams that he has been handicapped by the lack of effort on the part of the state com mittee. I nominated Mr. Paine, Mr. O'Gara, Mr. Doherty and others who were identified with Mr. Williams. If there has been any failure to work it has been on the part of those who were closely identified with Mr. Williams.

FEARFUL HEAT. Washington Fireman Prevented From Working

at a Big Blaze.

Washington, Sept. 30.-Fire broke out in the central power station of the Capital Traction company a few minutes before 11 o'clock last night, and in 30 minutes the six-story structure was doomed. The blaze started on the southwest corner, and despite the efforts of the entire fire department swept like wind through the enormous building. When it became evident that no efforts could save the power station the department turned its attention to the adjoining property; but the flames leaped across Fourteenth street on the west to a big livery stable, and then across to the east and attacked a row of three-story brick houses. So fearfu was the heat that the firemen could no get within reach of the burning buildng. They were driven back foot by foot until the streams from the hosepipe could not reach the fire. The walls began to fall by 12 o'clock and with the decreasing heat the men were enabled to get to work on adjoining property. Several houses, however, have been partially destroyed. Ap proximately the loss will be about $400 000 on the building, about $300,000 on machinery and stored cars, while the loss sustained by the tenants will amount to $200,000 more, making the total dam age $1,000,000.

The fire started in the printing office of Harvey & Gettinger. It had soon gained such headway that it was evi dent nothing could be saved, and the alarm was sounded to the large force of men at work in the building. Many of them were compelled to jump from the windows, so rapidly did the flames progress. Within half an hour after the fire started the entire building was en veloped, and the flames seemed to soan over a hundred feet in the air. The falling of the heavy six-story walls shook is due to the fact that they are superior to all others. the buildings for squares around. Other questions were asked by Councilman Nickerson, ex-Councilman Hatch.

Mr. George F. Pinkham then made the closing argument for the petitioners. It was concise, well put, and, thoroughly summed up the testimony presented. The only request we hove to make, said he, is that the fence be removed. Nearly all of the community lives on the west side of the tracks as the place was originally laid out on that

WITHOUT ANY PERMISSION in writing from the Board City Council as the Public Statutes require, this station, which for years was located upon the west side was suddenly moved across to the east side. When this was done Mr. Sanborn stated to me that hereafter the gates upon the cars would be kept open on the westerly as well as upon the easterly side so that people would not be compelled to cross the tracks in front of inward bound trains when going to Boston. This rule was in force so long as Mr. Sanborn was superintendent; upon his retirement it rought about by their failure to work was rescinded. Only a Soloon Row. Ashland, Pa., Sept. 30.—The story telegraphed from Girardville of a terrible riot Sunday night between Poles and Hungarians, resulting in fatal injuries to nine men, with half a hundred injured, is a grossly exaggerated account of an ordinary saloon fight Saturday night. Not one case was taken to the hospital. Dr. Schlesman, instead of having 22 patients, said he had half a dozen cases of bloody faces and battered heads to dress, and that only a dozen people were in the fight, not one of whom was seriously injured.

Possible Settlement of the Labor Trouble In Brockton Factories.

Bribery.

Brockton, Mass., Sept. 30.—The settlement of the strike on the part of three factories and the return to work of their men indicates the possible clearing up of the whole strike, which has lasted for two weeks. Secretary Sherry has stated that the union is willing to make agreements with other manufacturers similar to those signed by R. B. Grover &Co. of Brockton, L. P. Bliss & Co. of Whitman. and E. P. Wright of Rockland, and that as fast as firms sign an agreement the strike will be declared off in their shops. The proposition which was accepted by these firms was to the effect that they should endorse a proposed agreemen between the Goodyear company and the Sole Fasteners' union, whereby the company should not interfere in case of a strike or lockout, except in keeping its machines in repair; that all men now be paid a uniform rate of 2 1-4 cents a pair for welting and stitching.

Mr. Howard of Howard & Foster, George G. Snow, and the representative of M. A. Packard & Co., when shown the agreement, said emphatically that they should not accept it; that it would be practically accepting the ultimatum of the union and that their shops were now running satisfactorily without aid from Washingtons Have a Sharp Contest With the Baltimores.

Brooklyn, Sept. 30.—Not more than 500 persons were sufficiently interested in the ball game between the Bostons and Brooklyns as to visit Eastern park. The exciting finish in the race for the pennant, it was thought, might cause a large outpouring, but expectations were not realized. So much depends upon winning every game that it is wonderful how the Bostons maintained control of their nerves. nemselves in the grandstand. There vere not over 75 of them, but what they lacked in numbers they made up in enthusiasm. They had many a friendly tilt with the local cranks, much to the amusement of others present. The Boston contingent brought every possible kind of an article which they thought would prove a mascot for their favorites and a hoodoo to the Brooklyns. One came with a large broom on which was a ribbon stamped "A clean sweep for the Hub." The Hub enthusiasts hardly had an opportunity to exert themselves until after the sixth inning. Brooklyn. At Victory For Orioles, Too, Baltimore, Sept. 30.—Washington went lown before the champions in a contest characterized by the sharpest kind of fielding on both sides, Wrigley and Jennings bearing off the palm. Nops, while hit for double figures, was very effective in tight places, whereas Mc James' six passes to first, two hit batsmen and a wild pitch helped the orioles to victory.
